

BRIEFS

Hit the links for United Way

The 13th annual United Way Charity Golf Tournament will raise money for the United Way of the Blue Mountains. The event is July 22 with a shotgun start at 8 a.m. at the Wildhorse Resort Golf Course.

The cost is $100 per person ($400/team), which includes green fees, a golf cart, a swag bag and breakfast. The tournament features prizes, a raffle drawing, contests throughout the course and an online auction. A luncheon in the pavilion will follow the tournament.

United Way of the Blue Mountains holds a vision of thriving communities all across the Blue Mountain region. It unites resources from donors, workplaces and grant funders with programs that support Successful Students, Cradle Through Career, Healthy People and Thriving Communities, and Disaster Recovery.

For information, including to register for the tournament, visit www.uwbluemt.org/uwgf. For questions, call 509-540-7435.

Wyden holds online town hall for Morrow County

U.S. Sen. Ron Wyden is holding an online town hall Wednesday, July 6, for residents of Morrow County.

The town hall starts at 4 p.m. The organization People's Town Hall is hosting the event on Facebook at bit.ly/3yhccm8.

The town hall will be Wyden's 1,024th throughout Oregon and comes after his online town hall for residents of Sherman County. Wyden has pledged to hold at least one town hall each year in each of Oregon's 36 counties.

"It's an honor representing every part of Oregon and thanks to Oregonians' commitment to direct democracy, I had my 1,000th town hall in Oregon earlier this year," Wyden said in a statement. "I'll keep providing these opportunities for any Oregonian to ask me any question."

Morrow County residents can submit questions to Wyden at bit.ly/3JcCKct.

Clara Brownell students receive Promise Scholarship

A handful of eighth graders from Clara Brownell Middle School were the recipients of the 2022 Alumni Association Promise Scholarship. Rylee Sanchez, Olive Enkey, Carter Griggs, Patricia Gonzalez and Addi Sanders were selected by the Umatilla High School Alumni Association to receive the awards.

The five students will each receive $100, which is held in trust until graduation from Umatilla High School. Also, each student has the opportunity to receive an additional $100 for each year they stay on track to graduate from Umatilla.

Rick Cotterell, CBMS principal, said students who complete the requirements for all four years at UHS will receive the maximum scholarship amount of $500. In addition, he expressed appreciation to the alumni association for its ongoing commitment to recognizing and rewarding students for their excellence in school.

All eighth grade students, Cotterell said, had the opportunity to apply for the scholarship. For more information, call 541-922-6636 or search www.umatilla.k12.or.us/o/cbms.

Farm bureau announces scholarship, award recipients

Hermiston Herald

A total of $2,500 was recently awarded to four local students from the Umatilla-Morrow County Farm Bureau. The scholarship recipients were chosen from a field of 11 candidates:

Isabella Orr, a graduate of Ukiah High School, received $1,000. The daughter of Theodore and Laura Orr, she plans to attend Blue Mountain Community College to study agriculture in pursuit of a career in agricultural law.

Also, Grace Ogden, Hailey Cunningham and Emma Leber were each awarded $500.

An Ione High School graduate, Ogden is the daughter of Jarrod and Allison Ogden. She will major in agriculture communications at Oklahoma State University, with plans to pursue a career as an agricultural advocate and educator.

Cunningham, a graduate of Heppner High School, is the daughter of Jason and Emily Cunningham. She will study agribusiness at Treasure Valley Community College.

A McLoughlin High School graduate, Leber is the daughter of Tim and Jennifer Leber of Milton-Freewater. She will study elementary education and play basketball at Walla Walla Community College.

In addition, the Umatilla-Morrow County Farm Bureau established an incentive program to encourage and promote the study of agriculture for students attending Blue Mountain Community College. The farm bureau established the opportunity by honoring the memory of Anne-Marie Moss.

The Anne-Marie Moss Pursuit of Excellence Award is given to students who exemplify her work ethic and professional pursuits. The first students to receive the award and their area of focus are Laramie Ricker, ag business; Amanda Harris, crop production; Maggie Brewer, animal science; and Trevor Smith, ag mechanic.

Through her affiliation with the Oregon Farm Bureau Federation, Moss dedicated her life and energies to the improvement of informing the public and private citizens of the value of agriculture in everyone's life. She served as the communications director of OFBF for more than 18 years.

Moss won numerous national awards for publications, writing, photography and social media promoting agriculture. She had a passion for farming and for telling the story of agriculture. A beloved and devoted friend and coworker, she touched many lives through her encouraging and positive ways.

A nonprofit organization, the Oregon Farm Bureau and its affiliate county groups represent Oregon's diverse agricultural community. For more information, search www.oregonfb.org.
