PENDLETON, HERMISTON — The swimming season is coming to a close as September draws near, but for the dogs in the Pendleton area, their fun is just beginning.

Once the humans find their time in the pool has come to its yearly end, the Pendleton Aquatic Center holds one last event just for the pups — the annual Doggie Dip Day.

With the chlorine long gone from the pool, it's safe for all dogs to have their fill of fun splashing under the sun. Doggie Dip Day will take place on Sept. 7, 5-7 p.m. Admission is $4 per dog.

For humans wanting to make a trip to the pool, there is still time to cool off before the end of the season.
