

WEEKLY BUDGET.

THURSDAY JULY 17, 1890

Entered at the Postoffice at Lewiston, Or., as Second-class Matter.

As the subscription price of the LEXINGTON WEEKLY BUDGET is only $1 per year, we shall insist upon payment of cash in advance. There will naturally be no deviation from this rule. Any one receiving this paper not knowing that he has not paid for it, will understand that it is either complimentary, a sample copy, or that some friend has paid for it.

PUBLIC OPINION.

What Some of the Boys are Saying on Topics of the Day.

Speaking on the shipping bill the other day, Senator Frye said: Now, this is a great nation. We boast of it immensely. We are complementing ourselves hugely over the census returns, over our wealth, over our manufacturing industries; and yet to-day we are falling into the contempt of the whole world because we, a maritime nation, have no ships on the ocean; and we are entitled to that contempt, too. We are a giant, but we are bound. We are a Sampson, but our locks are shorn. Why should we pay $150,000,000 a year to foreign ships for carrying our cargoes? Why should we carry our mails under a foreign flag? Why should every passenger who desires to sail from America abroad be compelled to sail under a foreign flag? Why should we, with our immense wealth and our great power, our shipyards and mechanics, our enormous coast-line, depend upon foreign nations to do all of our foreign carrying business for us? Why should we permit them to pay subsidies, as England has for fifty years, and quietly surrender the possession of all this business? Why yield to Spain and Germany and Italy and Holland and the Argentine Republic?

Business pluck is necessary for the development of the resources of any community. It makes little difference how advantageously any point is situated, if those interested in its growth do not exercise enterprise and energy the town will die and allow other cities to reap the advantages which it naturally possesses. If we had the business grit of Spokane Falls, Baker City or even Pendleton, steamers would now be making daily trips to and from the upper Cascades, and the railroad company would be the suppliant instead of the business men of The Dalles cringing at every movement and craving the least favor from the heartless and greedy monopoly. If The Dalles will rid itself of mossbackism it may yet survive and be a leading city of Oregon; if not, it will die of inertia.—The Dalles Times-Mountaineer.

A petition comes from Colorado praying Congress to buy the historic field of Valley Forge and make it a public park. There is nothing in all the daily records of events more encouraging than these occasional and unquestionable evidences of patriotic spirit. There is not a more thoroughly material state in all the Union than Colorado; its history is only the story of yesterday; it was settled by adventurers and has been built by a thoroughly speculative and practical class of people, yet it is from Colorado and not from Massachusetts or Virginia that this appeal comes. As the years go by the impression grows that true Americanism has followed the star of empire to the west.—Detroit Free Press.

Portland wants the Press association there this year. The association meets in August, and about fifty editors expect to be present. The best thing Portland business men can do is to give the boys a big string of good-paying "ads." for six months or a year. That would hit the boys better than for the business men to spend $1500 or $2000 in stuffing them at the Portland hotel. Oregon editors are not after the grand; they are chasing the substantial only. Issue "ads." to the boys and let them provide their own frugal railroads.—Siletton Appeal.

Senator Foster, of Louisiana, in a ringing speech against the lottery, said: "I say, sir, that if Louisiana cannot perform the duties of a state, if she cannot educate her children and support her charitable institutions, then let us tear from her her sovereign rights as a state and place her under the control and protection of the Federal government or some other government save the government of the lottery company."

According to vital statistics more men than women die annually. Other statistics assure us that more females than males are born. That ought to encourage the woman's rights advocates. In the natural course of events men must mostly disappear, leaving the female sex in exclusive possession of the earth. If the women will only patiently bide their time they will be able to have everything their own way without trouble.—Spokane Falls Globe.

It won't be very long at the present rate of progress until this government has a navy worthy being spelled with a large N. Dollars and sense are doing the work beautifully.—Philadelphia Press.

The human race is divided into two classes—those who go ahead and do something, and those who sit still and inquire, "Why wasn't it done the other way?"—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES.

A man at Dubuque, Iowa, is making much money by dealing in cats. He sends the tabbies to North Dakota farmers, who are troubled with field mice. He recently shipped 1,176 felines at one carload.

Bishop Wixson, of New York, has sent out a circular letter to the different parishes in his diocese forbidding entries at funerals, on the ground that some lives are undeserving of such commendation.

Colonel Clogue, vice-president of the Great Northern railway company, announces that his company has marketed $10,000,000 worth of bonds in London and that the money will be used to extend their road to Puget sound.

The thousands of soft maple trees growing in the streets of Chicago, and especially in the suburbs, are afflicted with a parasite known as the maple-bark louse which threatens to destroy this year a large number of these fine shade trees.

At Chicago, last Friday, a terrific explosion of gas occurred in the hold of the steamer Tioga, loaded with kerosene, gasoline and cotton. Nineteen bodies have been found, and the number of deaths is placed at about thirty. The steamer was wrecked.

On the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, last Saturday, the fireman on a passenger train suddenly became insane and attempted to kill the engineer with a heavy wrench. A fearful struggle ensued on the flying engine, but passengers finally found that something was wrong, came forward and overpowered the maniac.

Terrific cyclones raged in various places on the European continent for two days last week. Large tracts of country have been devastated, and thousands of horses, cattle and other animals have been killed. Crops are ruined, buildings wrecked, and other damage has been inflicted which will take months to repair.

According to figures given out by Superintendent of Census Jenkins, the population of thirteen western Washington towns is as follows: Olympia, 4,692; Port Townsend, 4,555; Vancouver, 3,486; Snohomish, 1,905; Centralia, 1,772; Puyallup, 1,730; Chehalis, 1,471; Ballard, 1,157; Anacortes, 1,136; Kent, 861; Budeco, 705; Orting, 657; Tenino, 592.

There is nothing small about California when it comes to advertising herself. On learning that the ten acres of space asked for at the world's fair could not be obtained, she now asks the privilege of decorating at her own expense the driveways of the ground to be occupied by the fair with California palms, flowers and shrubs. In this way she will occupy more space than any other state.

A pilgrim appeared at Allahabad, India, called a crowd about him, and asked if the time had not come when the hated English should go. He was in jail in less than twenty minutes, was arraigned in court within an hour, and in less than two had been sentenced to five years' imprisonment. The English don't intend to let India get the start of her again, and the pilgrim who has any questions to ask had better talk to himself.

Last Sunday was an unusually hot day east of the Rocky mountains, except in the New England lake region and from Maryland northward to New York. Of 143 stations no less than 108 report a maximum temperature of 80 degrees or more. At thirty-six stations the maximum was 90 degrees or over, while twelve report a maximum of 100 degrees or higher. At Omaha the temperature reached 105 degrees. The protrating effect of these temperatures are much greater than a greatly increased degree of heat in eastern Oregon and Washington.

NORTHWEST NEWS NOTES.

OREGON.

Oregon cherries retail in Omaha at forty and fifty cents per pound.

The Union Pacific is putting in a spur near Kamela for the accommodation of shippers.

Three carloads of California fruit and one car of watermelons arrived in Portland last Monday.

Five hundred posts for the telephone line from Salem to Portland arrived at Aurora last Thursday.

The school directors of Independence have accepted plans for a $16,000 schoolhouse, to be built at once.

None of the salmon canneries on Yaquina or Alsea bays will be run this season, owing to the low price of salmon.

Clackamas county has put a fine bridge, 800 feet long and ten feet high, from Pudding river to the bluff on their side. It is high-water proof.

The other day in Polk county John Robbins killed a big wildcat that was trying to kill his pigs, and Henry McCarter and Jim and George Magers captured seven coyotes that were making their home in a fir log.

Work will begin this month on the new railroad grade through Cow creek canyon. It is said 2,000 men will be employed during the summer in grading and building seventeen miles of track and constructing a 350-foot tunnel.

The upper bridge on the Calipooia, near Brownville, gave way last Friday as Mrs. Nannie Templeton and daughter Iva were driving across, and dropped them over twenty-five feet into the stream below. Mrs. Templeton was almost fatally injured, and Miss Iva had an arm and leg broken badly. The recovery of each is doubtful.

The grade between La Grande and Elgin on the branch line of the Union Pacific is practically finished, there being now left only a few short gaps to close and a number of sidings to grade in order to complete the work entire for the rails. The bridge across the Grande Ronde river at Island City is also finished and the work will be prosecuted with all speed.

WASHINGTON.

Ellensburg will build a new school house to cost $35,850.

A species of outcrop is creating havoc in the vicinity of Cheney.

Work on the Port Townsend Southern railroad is being pushed forward.

The city election at Port Townsend, last Monday, conducted on the Australian system, was pronounced a decided success.

The building has been completed and machinery received at Chehalis for a pulp factory, which will commence operations in a few days.

Early last Sunday morning burglars entered private apartments at a hotel in Seattle and secured between $700 and $800 in cash and jewelry.

The city of Walla Walla boasts of having three "heathen Chinese" who voted at the forthcoming election, they having been born in this country.

In a cargo of 900,000 feet shipped to Wales by the Port Blakely sawmill company, there were 430 feet of timber 16x16 and 24x24 from 60 to 90 feet in length.

Wm. Kerr, manager of the famous Moxee experimental farm, near Yakima, has sent to Japan for a quantity of tea cuttings, for the purpose of testing tea-growing in the Yakima valley.

The Northern Pacific has completed its Gray's Harbor line across the Skookumchuck and a considerable distance across Ford's prairie. The river was crossed on false work, and a bridge will be built in the fall. Tracklaying is going on rapidly.

Complete returns give the Bellingham bay cities 10,815, as follows: Whatcom, 4,061; New Whatcom, 2,719; Fairhaven and Bellingham, 4,035. All but two districts of Whatcom county have been heard from. The population will be about 18,400.

Some hay was cut at Medical Lake last week that was sowed June 1, 1889, thirteen months ago. The lack of rain last summer caused it to lie intact until the fall rains called it into life. It stood five feet high when cut and yielded over two tons to the acre.

The Odd Fellows propose to erect a model hospital at Centralia at a cost of $25,000. The institution is to be a joint stock affair. Two hundred and fifty shares at $100 will put up the building. It is the intention to sell stock to every lodge of Odd Fellows in the state.

At Seattle last Monday the city election passed off satisfactorily under the Australian system. There was no trouble whatever at the polls, all falling into the new order with alacrity, and the people are enthusiastic over the merits of the new method. The entire republican ticket was elected.

Tobacco and hops are going to greatly add to Washington's riches, as well as lumber, fish and coal. The Moxee farm in the Yakima valley is raising an average of 1,000 pounds of tobacco to the acre, netting $600. Hops are increasing in acreage, both east and west of the mountains every year.

The Cascade and Lake Chelan trail is now finished to the summit of the Cascade mountains. It is in first-class condition and furnishes a means of easy transportation into the mining district by pack train. Hundreds of men are passing over this trail to prospect and develop the rich mines of Skagit county.

A young lady named Miss McLean, who lives about three miles west of this city, says the Olympia Tribune, has the reputation of being a great hunter. During the last few years she has killed no less than fifteen cougars, twenty bears, ten dingwails and fifteen wildcats. She is a dead shot and can hit a small glass ball with a 22-caliber bullet at 100 yards.

It is stated that George Sims, formerly private secretary of Henry Villard, is en route to Tacoma from London as the agent of an English syndicate to purchase the Port Blakely sawmill. The consideration of the transfer is not accurately known, but is said to be in the neighborhood of $2,400,000. The Port Blakely mill is the largest in the world, its per diem capacity being estimated at twice as great as that of any three mills in the country.

DON'T BE A CHUMP!

DO YOU WANT TO CATCH ON?

Do you want to catch the eye of the people? Do you want to catch the popular favor? Do you want to catch part of the silver stream that is constantly flowing from the country to this town, with a freshet after harvest?

Do you want to catch a part of the trade that is a rustling neighbor, merchant is enjoying, and which by the exercise of a little enterprise and judgment you could capture as well as not? You are human and answer Yes.

DON'T BE A CLUMP!

A little reflection and investigation will convince you that the way to accomplish these things is to acquaint the people whose trade you wish with the fact that you have something to sell, and with other suggestive facts.

DON'T BE A BUMP!

It is also easily to be seen that in order to spread the information which you wish to impart it is necessary to employ some medium that will reach the eyes of those whom you would address, to-wit, the farmers. The Budget is read by them.

DON'T BE A LUMP!

DON'T BE A CLAM.

THE MAN WHO CONDUCTS HIS business on the theory that it doesn't pay and he can't afford to advertise, sets up his judgment in opposition to that of all the best business men of the world, says an experienced advertising authority. With a few years' experience in conducting a small business on a few thousand dollars of capital, the man who thinks that ADVERTISING DOESN'T PAY assumes to know more than thousands of men whose hourly transactions aggregate more than do his in a year, and who have made their millions by pursuing a course that he says is unprofitable.

DON'T BE A MUD-TURTLE. If advertising doesn't pay, why is it that the most successful merchants of every town, large or small, are the heaviest advertisers? If it doesn't pay to advertise, why do the heaviest business firms in the world annually spend millions that way? Is it because they want to donate those millions of dollars to the newspaper and magazine publishers, or because they don't know as such as the short-sighted merchant who says money spent in advertising is thrown away, or is donated to the men to whom it is paid? They advertise for the same reason that they buy at wholesale and sell at retail—because there is money in it. Advertising may not pay today or to-morrow, but sooner or later it is sure to bring a stream of the "dollars of our daddies" to the merchant who uses a printer's

These are facts that cannot be denied, and you are perhaps one of those who are reaping the profits of advertising, but here's a word in your ear: There are a whole lot of bunchgrass farmers who must trade somewhere; perhaps they trade with your neighbor. They read the Budget, and if you had an ad— but you see the point, don't you?

DON'T BE A CLAM.
