CHAFF FROM THE STRAW STACK

A woman's choice of weapons is a pou.

A hardshell mudturtle's life is full of snaps.

An over polite man usually has an axe to grind.

A sweet voice in woman is a great aid to Cupid.

A man is not guilty until his wife catches him at it.

What to the young man is a vision to the old man is a dream.

Not all the heroes of life get their names in the school histories.

There is only one degree worse than civil war and that is domestic war.

If water sold for 15 cents a glass it would be more popular with some men.

War is a mad game that enlightenment and culture seem unable to deter.

A broken feminine heart is best mended by a young man that feels lonely.

A boy always has a hole either in his pocket or his sock, and frequently in both.

It is impossible to tell a gentleman by the frequency of his visits to the barber shop.

Every true soldier, if he must be shot, prefers to receive his wound facing the enemy.

There is sediment in the life cup of everyone, but the wise man sips gently rolling it not.

A man loves to go shopping with his wife, because it makes him forget all his other sorrows.

Even a grave digger could enjoy his trade at times. Think of digging a hole for one's enemy.

If the girl doesn't know how to cook she may have the money to hire one. This is worth investigating.

Time is as restlessly fast to old age as it is as painfully slow to suffering flesh that prays for the end.

A newly married shoemaker is now using his wife's first cake as a lapstone. A hint to the wise is sufficient.

Heavy local pressure is usually accompanied by lowering clouds if father happens in just as his daughter is being pressed.

Sometimes a servant girl leaves because she is treated "like one of the family". There's a difference in families as well as in servant girls.

A bright German was told by one of his countrymen, "Hans, you vas a has been," and Hans replied: "I would rather be a has been than a never vas it."

"Thou shalt not covet thy neighbors' chickens, nor shalt thou seek those roosting afar from thee, lest thou be nabbed by the marshal and cast into the city bastille to repent of thy folly.

An Oregon girl asserts she can feed a man properly on nine cents a day. Oregon girls are capable of doing great things. If she can also furnish the nine cents, she ought not to lack suitors.

"There isn't much difference between me and Eve," said the little girl who was compelled to wear her big sister's cast off skirts. "How is that?" asked her chum. "Why, Eve had to wear leaves and I have to wear leavings.
