LOCAL NEWS

J. A. Miller, of Sand Hollow, was a Lexington visitor Tuesday.

A car of potatoes was received by Leach Bros, Tuesday last.

Yes, we can use vegetables on subscription. Bring it along.

The Wheatfield family are indebted to E. D. Leach for several fine squash.

O. T. Ferguson, the furniture man, has decided to close out his stock. See his ad in this issue.

How about that station agent for Lexington? Who will take the matter up and circulate a petition.

Leach Bros have a new ad this week. Look it over and see their stock before making your purchases.

W. G. Scott & Co received a car of sand this week and the finishing work on the reservoir will now be pushed to completion.

J. L. Brackett, of Rufus, who has been in this county the past few weeks, returned to his home last Saturday. Mr. Brackett says, he will return to Lexington shortly and remain during the winter.

We have the agency for the Edison Phonograph and Records. If you contemplate buying a phonograph, call and get our prices. We can and do sell them as cheap as the large mail order houses, besides saving some freight.

STRAWBERRY

Sowing wheat is the order of the day and farmers are very busy

Several of the sheep men are bringing their sheep in from the mountains.

Mr. Horner finished this season's threshing last Wednesday and the boys say, they are not sorry.

Ed. McDaid is building a fine barn on his premises, which will be a great comfort to his stock. Many more are needed in this part of the country.

The citizens of this school district met Tuesday, October 10th, and voted bonds for the purpose of building a school house. We think this a good move.

B. R. Whitney, of Lone, was out this week looking after his farm interests in this locality.

OLD CHUMP.

SCHOOL NOTES

The school is preparing for an entertainment, to begin in the near future. A committee of students has been elected to manage affair. The entertainment is to be given for the benefit of the school, to help defray the large expense the school has had to meet this year, in buying new blackboards and desks. The earnestness and willingness which the students have taken up this matter illustrates the character of the pupils of the school.

Now that the school has settled down to its winter work we would be glad to have parents and those interested in the school work visit us. If you will take a little more interest in the school your children will also. You attend so seldom that when a visitor does come it is somewhat the same as meeting a stranger. We don't know how to act. If you would come and get acquainted with the school then you would know the kind of work that is being done. Don't come once and judge the school by that visit for that is not enough to get acquainted. Don't come the last thing in the afternoon for that is not the time of day to see the school in its normal condition. We believe it would be a benefit to the teacher, the pupils, and probably to the parents if they would visit the school more. It would be an incentive to both pupils and teachers to do better work if the parents would get acquainted and associate with the school a little.
