Now is the time to marry—while furniture is so cheap.
 The Oregon Journal has made arrangements to publish the letters of W. J. Bryan in its Sunday issue. Mr. Bryan is on a two year tour of foreign lands, and his letters will make excellent reading, as Mr. Bryan is a brilliant writer. The Sunday Journal is a great newspaper, filled with all the good things of newspaperdom.

SENTENCE SERMONS
 Henry F. Cope, in Oregon Journal.
 Deeds cure doubts.
 The lift of your life is the proof of your love.
 Many a trial is a test before promotion.
 Love fills even family jars with perfume.
 Many saints are poor because their piety is not vigorous enough to stand prosperity.
 Some men think that they are doing a great deal toward remedying this world's wrongs by reciting them.
 The only way to leave the bad is to cleave to the good.

 The best social refinement is to be refined of self.
 The light of the church does not depend on the oiliness of the saints.
 Those virtues are at home in a man which he manifests at home.
 The sermon that beats about the bush always finds it barren.
 You cannot give a quart of love out of a half-pint heart.
 There's a lot of difference between a broad mind and a swollen head.
 Religion will not keep at all so long as you keep it all to yourself.
 There are people who never appreciate the rose until they apprehend the thorn.
 Unnecessary help is always a sad hindrance.
 The well of truth would be a good deal clearer if we would keep our sticks out of it.
 Create a little heaven now and you will not need to worry about your credentials for more of it by and by.
