A SURE THING. LEXINGTON GROWS

LEXINGTON WHEATFIELD

VOL. I

LEXINGTON, OREGON, THURSDAY MARCH 8, 1906

NO. 24

COUNTY NEWS.

Heppner Times—
J. Parkins and family of Ritter, Grant County, are visiting friends in Heppner and Lexington this week. Mr. Parkins reports that his sheep are in splendid condition and he expects to get the heaviest wool clip he has had for years.

B. F. Swaggart has a splendid lot of horses, mules and jacks here for his auction sale, which commences this morning. The indications are that the sale will be a success as prospective buyers have been arriving the past two days and the interest appears to be increasing.

Ione Proclaimer—
B. R. Whitney returned last Friday from a two weeks' stay in Portland.

Wm. Cutsforth of Gervais, was looking over wheat land in this section this week and expects to purchase in the near future.

G. M. Holmes started yesterday overland with a load of household goods for Goldendale, Wash., where he any family will make their future home. His family leaves tomorrow by rail to join him at their destination. We regret to lose this good family from our midst, but wish them success wherever they may go.

Heppner Gazette—
The road leading to Ione from Heppner is now receiving considerable attention. The road is being graded and greatly improved.

Harry Bartholomew recently shipped six car loads of sheep from Echo, to the Union Meat company, of Portland. The sheep brought close to $6 per head in the Portland market.

Complaint comes to the Gazette about chickens running at large in the city. It will soon be time to make gardens and then the gardens or the chickens will get into trouble. Chickens are nice to have and so is a good garden, but the chickens will do better than the garden if allowed to grow together. The city council has failed to pass an ordinance against gardens running at large, but there is a law against the public parade of the feathered egg machines. To preserve the health of the chickens, keep them up.

A representative of the Gazette visited Lexington one day last week. Within the past year there certainly has been a great change in the town. Many new buildings have been built. New business houses have started up and prosperity, thrift and growth are so apparent as to impress the visitor. The town has a good water system and electric lights. The first electric plant put in is entirely too small to meet the demand for lights and a new 14 horse power gasoline engine has been installed. A new 160 light dynamo is on the way, which will be large enough to meet present demands. The light plant is owned by S. A. Thomas, proprietor of the Wheatfield, which is a bright and progressive newspaper. Lexington is surrounded with a rich agricultural district. This country has great possibilities and is being rapidly developed. The Lexington country is able to support 50 times the population now there which will always make Lexington a good town.

A Favorite Remedy for Babies.
Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by W. P. McMillan.

If you cannot find what you want in the Drug line try Davidson Bros. of Ione, they carry the largest stock of Drugs and Chemicals in Morrow Co. Mail and Telephone orders promptly attended to.

The Lexington Wheatfield man is also owner of the electric light system in Lexington. This is the first case on record where a country newspaper man could rustle enough money to start an electric light plant. Most of us would be satisfied with a coal oil lantern. This makes Mr. Thomas a shining light both day and night.—Heppner Gazette.

The Wheatfield man is not the only star that twinkles in Lexington. There are others.

CHAFF FROM THE STRAW STACK

Not every man with a stove in his hat is hot-headed.

Tickle the printer under the ribs with a dollar and see him smile.

The crab may not be as good eating as the lobster, but he'll do in a pinch.

The ladies attend conventions more to see dresses, than to hear addresses.

Many people will not believe a story, unless there is some scandal connected with it.

Some girls go to church to giggle, and some boys go to church to flirt with these girls.

Some girls imagine they smell orange blossoms every time a young man asks them to go to a show.

A bald-headed man is a blessing in more ways than one. He never gets his hair cut on Saturday.

The reason why girls wear such tight gloves is because they are fond of having their hand squeezed.

Some fellows who never seem to be in a hurry themselves, are always ready to "rush" the growler.

When a woman and a cyclone make up their minds to go anywhere nothing yet invented can stop them.
