Entered as second-class matter October 6, 1905, at the post office at Lexington, Oregon, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

THURSDAY MARCH 22, 1906.

Lexington and The Wheatfield have received considerable free advertising from the county press the past few months. The Proclaimer man relieved himself of the following in the last issue:

Twinkle, twinkle, little star;
 How I wonder what you are,
 Up above the paper staff,
 Like a Wheatfield full of chaff.

To which we add:

When the Proclaimer's sun has set,
 And Carter's eyes with tears are wet;
 Still the Wheatfield's shining light,
 Will burn brilliant, day and night.

The best way to ascertain a man's real worth and standing is to go to his home neighborhood, where his daily walk and conversation are an open book. Such a test will disclose only good for John H. Aitkin's cause, for his friends and neighbors are jumping at the chance of saying good things about him as a citizen and also regarding his standing as a successful business man. There can be no question but what he is a man well worthy of the confidence and respect of the people of Oregon, and he is going to make a mighty fine official, one who would reflect much credit upon this great commonwealth.—Umpqua Valley News.

intendent of the O. L. & W. Co. Mr. Bennett has made a number of warm friends throughout the state, who will be pleased to see him return to newspaper business. To Mr. Hutchinson, the new editor, we extend a welcome greeting to Morrow county.

We made a trip to J. S. Baldwin's chicken ranch, Tuesday, and was shown some of as fine Plymouth Rocks as can be seen anywhere. Mr. Baldwin has two incubators in use and is preparing to start the third one. He has about 125 young chicks in the brooders now and will have about 50 more to hatch soon.

Word was received in Lexington last Friday, that Fay, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Nichols, of Dayton, Wash., was dead. W. F. Barnett, Mesdames W. E. Leach, J. M. White and Grandma Thompson went there Saturday to attend the funeral. Little Fay was 4 years and 29 days old. Fay was an exceedingly bright child for her age. A few days before death she was taken with pneumonia and none realized that death was so near. Mr. and Mrs. Nichols are well known here and all express words of sorrow and sympathy for the bereaved family

Dear Fay thou has left us;
 Here thy loss we deeply feel:
 But 'tis God who has bereft us,
 He can all our sorrow heal.

Fay, thou wast mild and lovely,
 Gentle as the summer breeze,
 Pleasant as the air of evening
 When it floats among the trees.

Resting in thy silent slumber,
 Resting in the grave so low,
 Thou no more will join our number,
 Thou no more our songs shall know.

Yet again we hope to meet the
 When the day of life is fled,
 And in heaven with joy to greet thee,
 Where no farewell tear is shed.

NOTICE.

All persons who had mares bred by Sir Robert, and have not paid the fees, are requested to deposit the fees with the Bank of Lexington as soon as convenient. 25-1f

A Favorite Remedy for Babies.

Its pleasant taste and prompt cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a favorite with the mothers of small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds and prevents any danger of pneumonia or other serious consequences. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears will prevent the attack. For sale by W. P. McMillan.
