Mr. and Mrs. David Leach are attending the Pendleton fair this week.

Fred Bengel returned Tuesday from a week's trip through the Walla Walla country.

Get your stationery at the Wheatfield Printery and your business will never become stationary.

Ed. Duran has purchased the J. S. Baldwin property and expects to move into town in the near future.

FOUND—The best place in Morrow county to get commercial printing is at The Wheatfield Printery.

The wheat samples sent to the Pendleton fair from Lexington tested from 60 to 64 pounds to the bushel.

Lee Reaney received a painful cut on the foot yesterday while using an adze at the new warehouse for the mill.

Take a chance on the automatic repeating shot gun being raffled off at the Pastime. Only a few chances left.

Mrs. M. R. Phelps departed last Saturday for Portland and Newberg, where she expects to remain for the winter.

Mrs. E. D. McMillan and daughter, Maude, accompanied by Mrs. McMillan's father, Mr. Fitzsimmons, drove to Heppner last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McKee left for their new home in Portland last Saturday. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. C. K. Tooley.

Corn sent from Lexington to the Pendleton fair measured 14 feet and 6 inches high. The ears on the stalks were so high that an ordinary man could not reach them.

J. S. Taylor started for Moscow, Idaho, last Thursday. Mr. Taylor went by team and will have a good opportunity to see the country. Marshall McAlister accompanied him.

The September issue of the Pacific Northwest is a hummer. It is devoted almost entirely to the stock show and should be interesting reading to all farmers as well as to stock men.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Baldwin and Mrs. N. S. Phelps departed for Walla Walla last Saturday, where they expect to make their future home. They ordered The Wheatfield sent to their new home.

John White was among the Lexington crowd, who attended the opening of the Pendleton Fair. John says the Morrow county exhibit is a good one and that Lexington has the best exhibit of corn.

Beware of the man who tries to sell you a pair of green goggles. We understand there is a party canvassing or expects to commence canvassing soon, among the farmers for green goggles at $5 per pair.

Subscriptions to the Pacific Northwest will be received at this office. Subscription price 50 cents per year, three years for $1. Subscriptions received will be forwarded to Miss Audrey Woolery, at lone.

Men who pose in the limelight should be careful of what they do in the twilight.

On account of the grain handlers strike in Portland the railroad company has refused to allow cars to be loaded with grain for Portland. Unless the strike is settled soon it will cause considerable inconvenience at the local warehouses.

W. A. Graham and the editor drove to Locust Grove last Saturday returning Sunday with a load of fruit. While at Locust Grove we had the pleasure of seeing one of the best kept orchards in Eastern Oregon. The owner, A. A. Carothers took apples from this orchard to the Omaha Exposition and captured fourteen first prizes and a gold medal. Eastern Oregon beats the world for fruit if it is properly cared for.

A. J. Calkin expects to leave the latter part of next week for a two weeks business trip to Valley points. All persons having work in his shop are requested to call for it before he leaves. All undelivered work will be left with Leach Bro's for delivery. If you have repair work to be done leave it with any business house in Lexington. All such work will be subject to a discount of 25 per cent on the repair bill.

The Oregon State Sunday School Association has secured the services of an able Field Worker. He will enter upon his work Oct. 1. The several counties are asked to contribute their respective proportion to the work. Morrow county is asked to give $25.00 during the year, but one-half should be paid before Nov. 1. The County convention has asked each Sunday School to contribute three cents per member. Several of the schools failed to pay anything last year. If all the schools in the county will pay one-half of that amount now and the balance during the winter, it will not be hard to meet the apportionment. Several individuals have pledged a dollar each. This is good also. Let each school send in something and let each individual who is interested in this work send in a dollar or less, if the dollar cannot be spared, to the Treasurer, K. L. Beach, Lexington. Morrow county ought to contribute double the apportionment. Do not delay. Do this now.

Executive Committee.
