DEVIL'S ISLAND TORTURE

is no worse than the terrible case of Piles that afflicted me 10 years. Then I was advised to apply Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and less than a box permanently cured me, writes L. S. Napier, of Ruggles, Ky. Heals all wounds, Burns and Sores like magic. 25c at W. P. McMillan, druggist.

Will.

"Did you hear about Samuels?" asked Ely. "Samuels' husband."

"No, I didn't hear about Samuels," the lady answered. "When you hear anything to tell, why don't you tell it?"

"Yes, Sam. Well, Samuels was going home the other night when a stranger shot at him and the ball hit a lady in Samuels' vest pocket, and his life was saved. So you can see what good a lady is."

"Indeed! If Samuels had been going home at a reasonable hour he would not have met any footpad. Samuels, he carries $1,000 insurance, payable to his wife, and if it had not been for that ladykey she would be a rich widow now. So if you are hunting around for a ladykey you will have to bring back a better one than that one. That's all. I'm going to bed now, and if you want to send you'll have to go to the kitchen, and don't waste the coal."—London Express.

Private Story.

M. Dewey, an eminent French historian, served when sixty years old during the siege of Paris as a private in the national guard. One day M. Jules Simon, a member of the administration, caught sight of a familiar face belonging to one doing sentry in the uniform of a private soldier. "Is that you, Dewey?" he cried.

"To be sure," gruffly.

"And a private?"

"Why not?" said the other laconically. "We can't all be prime ministers."

It Made All the Difference.

An excited individual ran up to a porter at a railway station and asked, "Have you seen a parcel I left on this seat?" The porter replied that he had not. "Oh, what shall I do?" exclaimed the excited passenger. "It contains three poems I have written!" "Can't you write them again?" asked the un sympathetic porter. "Yes, I can do that, but," hesitatingly, "there were two sandwiches in the parcel as well."—Christian World.
