SENTENCE SERMONS
By Henry F. Cope.

We are to be what we are today.
A little duty cures a lot of doubt.
The truth that does not liberate you enslaves you
That alone is learning which issues in life.
Who gives a little help finds a large piece of heaven.
The best protest against dirt is that which is made with a broom.
Prayer is away from anxiety, but not from activity.
Bearing the cross should not give you a cross bearing.
You cannot know the kingdom of heaven if you have forgotten how to be happy.

A narrow man is the one who most easily is twisted crooked.
The piety that pulls down your face was prepared in the pit.
Har's lip often is the name that happiness puts on her door.
The church that does not invest in humanity has no dividends awaiting it in heaven.
There is more spirituality in a little song than in a week's sighing.
It takes more than a sisterly way to make a saint of a man.
It's a profitless task trying to lay up other people's treasures in heaven.

SOCIAL RIDGE

John Padberg and family have moved from Lexington, out on to their place in Clark's canyon.
W. E. Hiatt went to Heppner last week.
Messrs Wm. and John Padberg, and Joe Hughes went to the mountains, and hauled out some lumber to build a house on John Padberg's place.
John Hiatt, a former pupil of Miss Agnes Hammer, is enjoying his school work at Corvallis this year.
Mr. Shaw went to Lexington last Saturday.
Mr. Harmer is taking up with Eastern Oregon ways quite rapidly, al though last year was not so successful. He is putting in a crop for next year.

The First Ice Cream.

The glory of introducing ice cream to America is one which, in the minds of the younger element at least, would rival any of the pretensions of Christopher Columbus, Sir Walter Raleigh, Fulton, Howe or Edison. It was Mme. Delacroix to whom Americans are indebted for the beginning of the notorious passion for "cool interiors." Her portrait, one of St. Memin's mezzo tints of early American notables, shows her to have been a handsome and forceful character well worthy to go down the long corridors of fame as the mother of ice cream and the stepmother of the ice cream soda industry.—Appleton's Magazine.

His Part.

"Oh, ye-es," remarked Ketchley in a self satisfied way, "Lulu and I will start out in married life under very favorable circumstances. Her mother gives us a neat little home, her father furnishes it, and her Uncle De Long has given a carriage and pair. Besides, Lulu has a snug income in her own name."

"What part do you furnish?"
"Well—principally the name—principally the name."—London Standard.
