LOCAL NEWS

Dont knock.
What does our love for God amount to if it doesn't do men any good.
If we have done nothing, let us begin now. We may do something yet.
In killing snakes it is better to cut off an inch of head than a foot of tail.
A dollar fiddle in tune makes better music than a pipe organ out of tune.
Nine men out of every ten are born blind, and the one who can see may lead a crowd.
The Council met Tuesday evening and canvassed the election returns. Considerable routine business was transacted. Bill of W. G. Scott for $24.00 water rent for November was allowed.

Joseph E. Waid went to lone last Friday and taught one of the rooms in the public school there. His sister, Miss Lenna, has charge of that department this week during the absence of the regular teacher, Miss Compton.

SCHOOL NEWS

The enrollment is still increasing, and considerable above this time last year.
Several visitors were present in Miss Hammers room last Wednesday.
Preparations for the X'Mas entertainment are about completed. The musical part under the charge of Mrs. E. E. Thomas promises to be by far the best attempt of that kind ever given here. A short time ago work of that kind from very many of the young people of the town would have been out of the question.

The basket ball team from the school seems to be a little too much for the town team. Either the school boys put up a very good game or else the town team is a poor one. Next Friday evening Lexington plays Heppner at Heppner and probably then we will find out whether either team can play or not.

The relief of coughs and colds through laxative influence, originated with Bee's Laxative Cough Syrup containing honey and tar, a cough syrup containing no opiates or poisons, which is extensively sold.
