SENTENCE SERMONS
By Henry F. Cope.

At times of revival it is easy to mistake racket for results.

Bearing the cross does not exempt one from bearing a share of the world's cares.

Better is it to drive the gloom from one than to dower it with gold.

God's workers never have to wait for a raise in salary before they will do their best.

The trouble with much preaching is that it is advertising truffles when the people need potatoes.

He needs to wear wading boots who takes short cuts to success.

It is easy to waste enough strength dodging your duties to do them twice over.

Some people are buying their tickets to glory on the installment plan, at the rate of a nickle a week.

There are too many who think that they are giving the world a square deal because they are sticking their angles into its sore places.

QUERIES

The following questions were asked us a few days ago with a request that we answer them through The Wheatfield:

What makes a squirrel run up a tree? Chestnuts.

How may book-keeping be taught in a lesson of three words? Never lend them.

Why can we send no more dispatches to Washington? Because he is dead.

Why cannot the man in the moon get married? Because he gets only a quarter a week, and he needs that to get full on.

If the Devil should lose his tail where would he go to get another? To a saloon, as that is where they retail (bad) spirits.

What is it a man never has, never had and never can have but can give to a lady? A husband.

What makes a cat walk softly? Rats.

Have you heard about the rabbit? Its only a short tail.

Why is a lawyer a good sleeper? Because he lies on one side, then turns over and lies on the other side.

What is it that is worse than the devil, better than God, the dead eat it, and if we ate it we should surely die? Nothing.

I went to India and stopped there; I came away because I could not go there? A watch.

Why do old maids go to church early? To be there when the (hims) are given out.

STRAWBERRY

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hill were the guests of J. W. Sibley last week.

R. K. Wiles disposed of his fine stallion last week. He will be taken to Pendleton.

Sunday School every Sunday morning at 10:30. Everybody invited. Preaching on the first Sunday in every month at 11 a. m.

O. D. Bullis returned home Saturday just in time to reach the box social at the opening exercises. John

No Opium in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

There is not least danger in giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to small children as it contains no opium or other harmful drug. It has an established reputation of more than thirty years as the most successful medicine in use for cold, croup and whooping cough. It always cures and is pleasant to take. Children like it. Sold by W. P. McMillan Drugstore.

Gray also came home at about the same time.

Mrs. Carel Musgrave has gone to spend the holidays at Walla Walla. This leaves her son, Mont, and her husband to batch, but Carel doesn't mind a little thing like batching. He says he used to batch before he ever saw his wife.

Miss Mary Gray has returned home from Ione where she has been staying for the past few weeks. Miss Gray abides on her homestead now and is living up to the law according to the homestead act. She will soon start the plows to summer fallow the place. Her many friends wish her a bountiful crop.

The box social held at the school house last Saturday evening was an all around success, clearing over $27.00. If all could have come that intended to we should have doubled the above amount. Well, we can have another next winter now, by not getting so much this time. "This will make it last longer" as the little boy said when he dropped his cake in the dust.

DEADLY SERPENT BITES

are as common in India as are stomach and liver disorders with us. For the latter however there is a sure remedy: Electric Bitters; the great restorative medicine, of which S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "They restored my wife to perfect health, after years of suffering with dyspepsia and a chronically torpid liver." Electric Bitters cure chills and fever, malaria, biliousness, lame back, kidney troubles and bladder disorders. Sold on guarantee by W. P. McMillan druggist. Price 50c.
