STRAWBERRY

Carrel Musgrave has been busy digging out his spring that the flood filled. He says he means to fix it this time so high water will not fill it again.

B. F. Thompson and family were visiting Haze Stockard last Sunday. And, by the way, Haze is another one of our lucky ranchers, as he too, has recently been made happy by becoming the father of a big bouncing boy. This makes his third boy out of four children. Mr. Stockard will soon be in shape to farm on a heavy scale.

"Have you heard the news?" "No, what has happened?" Why, Sammie Richie has a big fine boy at his house that tipped the scales at 10 pounds.

Sam is as proud as a peacock and says the country would be better off if a lot of the old bachelors in this country would get married and follow his example.

The beautiful oak post office cabinet has finally come to Strawberry. This cabinet has been ordered over half a year from Kansas City, Mo. The railroads now days are a great help in transportation, for if the post master had have had to make this trip by ox-team it is quite possible that the cabinet would not have been here yet. Any how it is here and just fills the bill for a post office like ours.

Lee White and Eugene Gray went to town last week while the water was so high and stayed in town over night, which caused their parents to worry, thinking that they might have been carried down Willow Creek or some rushing canyon. Then to make matters worse, Eugene's horse pulled loose while tied at H. A. Armsmeyers

A Habit to be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup to which children are susceptible are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by W. P. McMillan's Drug Store.
