DEMOSSE LYRIC BARDOS TO-NIGHT

The Early Trusts.
 Trusts were sometimes dealt with summarily in old England. For instance, the records of the Brewers' company show that 'on Monday, July 30, 1422, Robert Chievel, the mayor of London, sent for the masters and twelve of the most worthy of our company to appear at the guildhall for selling dear ale. After much dispute about the price and quantity of malt, wherein Whittingstone, the late mayor, declared that the brewers had ridden into the country and forestalled the malt, to raise its price, they were convicted in the penalty of £20 ($100), which objecting to, the masters were ordered to be kept in prison in the chamberlain's custody until they should pay it or find security for the payment thereof.'

Ancient and Modern Bathing.
 Soap is really quite a new factor in the world's life. Most of our ancestors were filthy and dissembled the fact by the use of stinging perfumes. Washing one's hands, which was only done by the very best people, meant dipping the fingers in rose water and drying them on a napkin. Even the Romans of the decadence, who were probably cleaner as a community than any before or since, bathed in water and rubbed themselves with oil. It sounds nasty to us, but then so does, for example, Chinese music, which millions of human beings think delightful.

Jack Tar's Reply.
 A sailor was brought before a magistrate for beating his wife, when the magistrate attempted to reach his heart by asking him if he did not know that his wife was the "weakest vessel."
 "If she is, she ought not to carry so much sail," replied Jack.—London Tit-Bits.

Turn About.
 Tapes—When will you learn that tapes are not things to sharpen pencils with? Mrs. Tange—(?) just as soon as you've learned that hairpins are not things to clean pipes with.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

WORKED LIKE A CHARM
