What your tailor?
 Evolution brings economy to the consumer.
 The individual shoemaker and watchmaker are practically a thing of the past
 But people continue to use watches and wear shoes, but the watchmakers and shoemakers by doing their work in large shops have reduced the cost to the consumer 50 per cent.
 The little tailor with his antiquated ideas and methods is passing. Master minds with great organizations in large labor centers are bringing the price of tailor-made clothes, made to individual measure, within the reach of every man.
 We are the sole representatives of Ed. V. Price & Co., the Chicago Merchant Tailors, the best in their class. Their work is beyond criticism and their fabrics reliable.
 $20 to $35 for suits made expressly for you.
 Samples of their cloths lie on our front counter—drop in and look them over, all new, nobby patterns, no old chestnuts.
 Ask to see our fabric Nos. 3220, 3262, 3280, 3297.
