NOTICE

The best way to build up your own town is to do your trading at home. Patronize your home merchants. If they succeed the chances are you will succeed. When you send a dollar to a mail order house you have the goods and they have the money. Trade at home and we keep both the goods and the money.

The Portland Business Men's excursion will arrive in Lexington tomorrow afternoon at 5:20. Arrangements have been made to have the train stop at the crossing near the residence of R. B. Wilcox. The train will only be in Lexington 15 minutes and it is the desire of the excursionists to meet as many of our people as possible during that time. Arrangements have been made to bring the party up town that they may get a better view of our prosperous little town.

BELIEF FROM RHEUMATIC PAINS

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla., "Some times it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by W. P. McMillan's Drug Store.

CHAFF FROM THE STRAW STACK

Some men wear themselves out looking for an easy job

Don't worry over your mistakes. Plenty of other people will do that for you.

A New Jersey man found $475 in an old blacksmith's bellows that had laid in his garret for 52 years. The original owner evidently intended to blow it in.

We had a dream the other night When everything was still: We dreamed that each delinquent Came in and paid his bill.

A distinguished writer once said: "There is but one place in the Bible where the girls are commanded to kiss the men, and that is the Golden Rule, 'Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so to them.'"

Have you noticed when you meet a doctor he says "How are you?" a newspaper man inquires, "What do you know?" But a lawyer hits you on the back and ejaculates, "What have you got?" and the preacher asks, "Where are you going?"

A man who prefers the city weekly to a home paper because "it's got more in it," reminds us of a man who picked out the largest pair of boots in the box because they cost no more than a pair that fitted him, says an exchange.

WONDERFUL ECZEMA CURE

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at W. P. McMillan's Drug Store. 50c.

Don't shun the truth under any circumstances.

Don't imagine a thing is "so simple" because you think so.

Don't trust any person who can not win the love of a child.

Don't think the world has any greater need of you than you have of it.

Don't worry about your father because he knows so much less than you do.

Don't be too fresh to keep from spoiling without being put in a cool place.

Don't forget that the world is older than you are by several thousand years.

Don't spoil a good farmer to make a poor preacher, lawyer or doctor of yourself.

Don't imagine yourself a novelty because you are pretty. There are others equally as handsome.

Don't forget that for several thousand years the world has been full of as smart young men as yourself.

A NARROW ESCAPE

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson burr into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c at W. P. McMillan's Druggist.

FREAKS OF GOLF BALLS.

Have Killed Birds on the Wing and Caused a Sheep to Drop Dead.

It does not often happen that a bird falls a victim to a golf ball in its flight, although such a mishap has occurred in two or three instances, says London Tit-Bits.

Not long ago an incident of this kind was reported from Raynes Park Golf club. It took place in the course of a bogie competition. One of the players, a Mr. Crocker, having driven off at the eleventh tee, his ball created some astonishment by coming in contact with a lark in midair and literally knocking off its head.

A similar incident happened last season but one on the ground of the Birkdale club. Two members were playing a round when one of them made a brassie shot. The ball was in full flight when a bird of the wagtail species was seen crossing the line of flight, and the next moment both objects came into collision at a distance of about forty paces from the striker.

The consequences were fatal to the unfortunate bird, which was not only killed, but decapitated. As for the golf ball, its flight was stopped by the impact, the ball falling to the ground within a few yards of its slaughtered victim. The incident had the further object of losing the player the match, he having to make an extra stroke or two to cover the distance short covered, thus costing him the game.

A still more extraordinary freak of a golf ball resulted in a tragedy on the Balcomie links in Scotland. In the course of a match one of the players, in his drive from the sixth tee, put so much vigor into it that the ball struck a sheep on the head with such force as to cause it to fall dead on the spot.

A very different, but no less interesting, story was reported from another links in Scotland about the same time. In a foursome match, played at North Berwick, one of the golfers drove his ball against a wall. It rebounded into some rough grass and for a few minutes could not be traced, but ultimately the caddie found the ball lying in a lark's nest, in which were four eggs all unbroken. For a ball to drop into a nest of eggs without breaking any was surely an extraordinary occurrence.

It is not long since a player at Woking in approaching the hole landed a ball on the top of the clubhouse. This little incident did not, however, upset his equilibrium very much. As nimbly as he could he followed the ball to the roof and from that coign of disadvantage played it so well that he was successful in securing a half of a hole which everybody considered irretrievably lost.

A similar scene was once witnessed on the St. Andrews links in the course of a three ball match. One of the players happened to drive his ball on to the corrugated iron roof of a shed and, in the belief that he had consequently given up the hole, the other two calmly proceeded with the match. But they had reckoned without their host, for the next moment there was a great clatter of feet on the iron roof. Barely had the warning cry of "fore" reached the players' ears when a ball whizzed on to the course close by. It was that of the other player, who had mounted to the roof and played it from that unexpected corner.
