

By Our Formula

We produce in Hood's Sarsaparilla a medicine that has an unparalleled record of cures of Scrofula, eczema, eruptions, catarrh, rheumatism, anemia, nervousness, that tired feeling, loss of blood, etc. The combination and proportions of the more than twenty different remedial agents contained in Hood's Sarsaparilla are known only to ourselves, so there can be no substitute.

This medicine makes healthy and strong the "Little Soldiers" in your blood,—those corpuscles that fight the disease germs constantly attacking you.

Correcting History.
Alexander the Great wept. "Why these tears, your majesty?" asked the sycophants. "Isn't it glory enough to have conquered one world?" "I'm not weeping because there are no more worlds to conquer," blubbered Alexander. "It's because I have a presentiment that some day Sig. Ferrero will find out I'm nothing but a shine!"

The sycophants, suppressing the real facts in the case, gave out the false version of the incident that has come down through the ages.—Chicago Tribune.

A Literal Begging.
"Convicts seem to very polite sort of people."
"Will you tell me what led you to that conclusion?"
"Sure; they never do wrong without begging pardon for it."—Baltimore American.

FILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS
FAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of itching, blisters, eruptions, or sores. Files in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. 50c.

Our Own Minstrels.
Tambo—Mistah, Walkah, kin yo' tell me de difference 'twen a walf an' an apartment house?
Interlocutor—I give it up, Jerry. What is the difference between a walf and an apartment house?
Tambo—De one am a homeless kid an' de other am a homeless home.

The Professor.
The professor was writing something in a small notebook.
"Making an addition to my visiting list," he explained to the doctor.
"Your visiting list?" queried the other.
"Yes; this is a record of the close calls I have had in dodging automobiles."

Not Her Affair, but—
The grocer's boy was lumbering up the kitchen stairway with his arms full of packages.
"Boy," said the mistress of the house, somewhat sharply, "are your feet clean?"
"Yes'm," he answered, still climbing the stairs. "It's only me shoes that's dirty."

Home Tonic for Old People.
Wonderful results, eventually restoring full physical vigor, are obtained from the following: To one-half pint good whiskey add one ounce syrup sarsaparilla and one ounce Toris compound, which can be procured from any druggist. Take in teaspoonful doses before each meal and before retiring.

Sounded Funny.
"The young man is snitten with you, Jeanette. He says you radiate happiness."
"Gracious!"
"And he also says you radiate beauty."
"My!"
"And wisdom."
"Dear me, how funny."
"What's funny, dear?"
"Why, he must think I am a radiator."

A Marvelous Saw.
It makes the man who is interested in the salvation of the forests of the world gasp for breath when he enters a shop in Paris where the paving blocks for the city's streets are being made. Paris is a very large city, and it takes a great many blocks to keep the streets in good condition. A recently invented and established sawing machine turns out as many as 240,000 blocks a day. An endless chain receives the planks, which are already cut to a certain required length and thickness, and carries them on to a system of seventeen saws, where they are quickly cut up into blocks of the right size for paving and are then turned out at the other end of the monster machine.

Inside Information.
"Did you notice that handsome lady who just went out?" queried the book-seller.
"Yes," replied the man in front of the counter. "What about her?"
"She has a very interesting history," said the literary salesman.
"How do you know?" asked the other.
"Because I sold it to her a few minutes before you came in," replied the other, as he indulged in an open-faced grin.

A Real Tumbler.
"I saw a goblet today made of bone."
"Pshaw! I saw a tumbler made of fesh and blood last night."
"Where?"
"At the circus."

An Obedient Tiger.
"How entire," remarks the London Globe, "is the confidence of the native East Indian in the government may be gathered from the following anecdote, which comes from Lahore: 'A tiger had escaped from the zoological gardens, and its keeper, hoping to lure it back, followed it. When all other inducements had failed, he lifted up his voice and solemnly adjured it in the name of the British government, to which it belonged, to come back to its cage. The tiger, it is needless to add, obeyed at once.'"

OCTOPUS ACQUITTED

Charge of Receiving Rebates Not Proven by Government.

ATTORNEYS ARE DISHEARTENED

Jury Acquits by Order of Judge—Decision of Appeal Court Makes Conviction Impossible.

Chicago, March 10.—"Not guilty." This is the result reached yesterday in the government's famous suit against the Standard Oil company of Indiana. The suit wherein the defendant company at one time faced a fine of $29,240,000 at the hands of Judge Landis on a charge of having accepted rebates from the Chicago & Alton railroad, came to an end abruptly. Judge Anderson, before whom the case was brought after reversal by the United States Court of Appeals, instructed the jury to find a verdict of not guilty.

Judge Anderson's decision was not altogether unlooked for, he having previously announced that the proof relied upon at the first trial was incompetent and it was with something of an air of hopelessness that District Attorney Sims and his assistants attempted to show the admissibility of the Illinois classification to prove the existence of a legal rate of 18 cents. This was a vital point in the government contention. Assistant District Attorney Wilkerson admitted that the prosecution could not supply the proof deemed necessary and suggested dismissal. John S. Miller then moved for an instruction of verdict of not guilty. This was ordered.

As to whether prosecution on seven other indictments still pending against the company will be instituted, Mr. Sims would not express an opinion, stating that this rested entirely with the attorney general.

WOOL STORAGE HOUSE.

Growers Form Company and Start Building at Chicago.

Chicago, March 11.—The election of officers of the Warehouse & Storage company, and the laying of the corner stone of an immense warehouse, which, when completed, will accommodate 25,000,000 pounds of wool, were two steps taken today in a movement to make this city the wool center of the world. J. E. Cosgriff, of Rawlins, Wyo., was chosen president; A. G. Leonard, Chicago, vice president; R. R. Thompson, Chicago, secretary and treasurer. The building will occupy nearly two acres of ground. It will likely be ready for occupancy May 15, in ample time to take care of this year's clip of wool. It is proposed to store at least 25,000,000 pounds of wool each season, and arrangements are under way to increase the amount to 50,000,000 the second year.

NEW STOCK-RAISING PLANT.

Hybrid Alfalfa Likely to Be a Great Success.

LaCrosse, Wis., March 11.—With three varieties of Siberian alfalfa, a clover which grows north of the Arctic circle, and some 300 other varieties of seeds suitable to the semi-arid region of the West, Professor Niels Ebbesen Hansen, chief plant explorer of the United States Department of Agriculture, has returned from a nine months' trip in lands rarely visited by an American.

It was Professor Hansen's third trip to Northern Siberia and his fourth to the highest latitudes of European Russia. He intends to combine the best elements of alfalfa of four continents and of all climates in a plant which will withstand the coldest weather and which will, it is claimed, make this country the greatest producer of beef and mutton in the world.

Trouble for Castro.

Caracas, Venezuela, March 8, via Willemstad, March 10.—The French government has sent a cable message to Senator Lorena, the Brazilian minister here, who is caring for French interests, announcing the approaching departure from France for Venezuela, of ex-President Castro, and asking what action Venezuela would take in case he attempted to land. Senator Lorena replied that inasmuch as Castro had been criminally indicted in Venezuela on a charge of conspiring against the life of President Gomez, he would be arrested.

Hop Picking Machines Fail.

Sacramento, Cal., March 11.—Hop-picking by machinery is a failure. Last season's experience by the Horst Brothers and the experiments made in the attempt to overcome the defects in the machines cost the firm $40,000, which is a dead loss, and the machines have been abandoned. All the hops grown in the Sacramento valley will be picked by hand henceforth, as no one else is likely to take up the machine experiments where the Horst left off. The machines wasted as much hops as they picked.

Russian Rule at Harbin.

St. Petersburg, March 11.—The proposed inter-ministerial conference on the situation at Harbin, Manchuria, due to the efforts of the local Russian authorities to control municipal government, has been postponed indefinitely on account of the illness of Premier Stolypin. A dispatch received today from General Horvath says that a number of Chinese merchants in Harbin have yielded to pressure and agreed to pay taxes to the Russians.

Aboriginal Giant Found.

San Pedro, Cal., March 11.—The skeleton of an Indian was unearthed at Whites point today by men operating a street grading machine. It was that of a man of unusual stature, with abnormally large head and thickness of skull, and gave evidence of having been buried many years.

DEAD EXCEED THIRTY.

Disastrous Effect of Tornado Which Swept Brinkley, Arkansas.

Brinkley, Ark., March 10.—Thirty or more lives were lost, 60 people were injured and property worth $1,000,000 was destroyed as a result of the tornado that wrecked this town.

The tornado shrieked above the city only a few minutes, but its work of destruction was complete. The Catholic church, standing directly in the path of the storm, alone escaped damage. It has been converted into a hospital.

The principal streets are impassable and are piled high with wreckage. Every business house is in ruins and there is hardly a home that has not been damaged. All the hotels were demolished, but the guests escaped.

Relief squads have been at work at day caring for the dead and injured. The Rock Island and Southwestern (Cotton Belt) railroads have placed cars at the disposal of the local relief committee and many people are leaving Brinkley, seeking temporary refuge at other points nearby.

Governor Donahoe arrived from Little Rock this afternoon in response to a call from the citizens' committee. Hundreds of people are homeless and are wandering about, seeking a temporary abode. Three special trains arrived from neighboring towns today, bringing relief workers, physicians and nurses.

Mass meetings have been called for tomorrow in Little Rock and other cities to raise funds for the storm victims.

FIGHT 2-CENT FARE.

Railroads to Start Suits at Once in Many Western States.

Chicago, March 10.—A meeting of the executive committee of the Western Passenger association will be held tomorrow to formulate a plan of action in view of the decision of the Federal court, nullifying the 2-cent passenger and maximum freight rate law in Missouri. It is understood that there is an almost unanimous opinion that the roads ought to return to a 3-cent fare as soon as the schedule can be prepared.

One large system is known to be in favor of accepting the suggestion of the court, and make the rate 2 1/2 cents for the "strong" lines and 3 cents for the "weak" lines. The prevailing sentiment is against this, however, as it is regarded as in conflict with that part of the court's decision which declares that the railroads ought to earn 6 per cent for the stockholders.

A meeting of the executive officials of the Western roads will be held soon with a view to concerted action against all 2-cent passenger laws. It is expected that suits will begin soon in Illinois, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin and Indiana and possibly Michigan. The Kansas senate killed the 2-cent bill, but a 2-cent rate made by the state commission is in effect.

BAD HORSE ON CUSTOMERS.

Grocer Who Sold Equine Sausages Comes to Grief, Too.

Chicago, March 10.—J. J. Schmidt, a butcher at Chicago Heights, was found guilty today in Judge Kersen's court of selling diseased horse flesh which had been made up in sausages. The conviction followed an investigation started by butchers in Chicago Heights and Harvey, who were unable to understand why Schmidt could sell his product at a lower price than they could afford.

Schmidt's sausages were said to have gained such a reputation for sweetness of flavor that he was able to sell great quantities. This is believed to have caused the enmity of his competitors, with the result that they examined his product. The butcher was convicted under the state law prohibiting the sale of diseased cattle. The penalty is a year in jail, and a fine of $1,000. Schmidt's attorneys entered a motion for a new trial. Assistant State's Attorney George Gunther prosecuted the case.

Utah is Urged to Action.

Salt Lake City, March 10.—Governor Spry sent a message to both houses of the legislature today containing his views on the subject of prohibition. He recommends that a local option and strict regulation bill be passed at this session of the legislature, cautious against radicalism and desiring that the welfare of all be considered. The governor also mildly rebuked both senators and representatives for not taking action on this question without so much delay. The message was placed on file in the senate.

Stick Probe Into Banks.

Carson City, Nev., March 10.—The resolution calling for an investigation of the state banking commission was adopted by the assembly today and Assemblymen Brandon Brooks and Charles Kane were appointed representatives of the lower house. The resolution has already passed the senate and the investigation will be begun this week. The bank commissioners declared today their desire for an open session of the investigating committee and announced their intention of aiding the work of the committee.

Miners Off for Alaska.

Seattle, March 10.—With the largest passenger list leaving here in months, bringing memories of the days of the Klondike, the steamer Ohio sailed tonight for Valdez and Seward. She took 350 passengers, of whom 200 are bound for the interior. The steamer Portland sails tomorrow night for the same ports and will have about 200 passengers. The Hayades is loading for the Hawaiian islands. The Rainier arrived from San Francisco.

Bryan Measure Passed.

Lipcoln, Neb., March 10.—The lower house of the legislature passed today the bank deposit guaranty bill, framed by a joint committee of the two houses. The measure is one of the issues which W. J. Bryan declared to be paramount in the Nebraska campaign last fall.

THE "LEAVITT" SHOTGUN.

How a Wily Collector Got Possession of a Pried Rifle.

All is fair in love, war, or collecting. A writer in Army and Navy Life tells how he finally got possession of the coveted "Leavitt shotgun"—a weapon with a romantic history. It is supposed to have been left in Portland, Me., by an English lord, who came to this country to find a family black sheep, in the shape of a younger brother. The gun had four barrels, so arranged that the lower pair could be revolved into position as soon as the upper pair had been fired. The writer had come upon a farmer who offered to show him his collection, never suspecting that his guest was a connoisseur.

I recognized the Leavitt gun the moment it came through the doorway. My heart jumped so I wondered that he didn't ask what was the matter with me. I didn't touch that gun for a long time. I handled most of the others and priced some of them. Finally I ventured:

"That is a curious-looking gun. Where did you get it?"

"That? Why, lemme see. I bought that off Tim Brown just before he died. Thought I could make a dollar or two, maybe, on account of its having four shots instead of two. But I paid putty high for it, and so couldn't sell it cheap; an' then it's so taral heavy—weighs thirteen pounds—the boys wouldn't buy it. I was disgusted with myself, so I just wrapped it up and laid it away in a meal-chest, and it's been there ever since."

I looked it over critically, balanced it, hefted it, and aimed it at the spot where I came out of the woods.

"What do you want for this gun?" I asked, indifferently, laying it across my knees.

He hesitated some time, apparently debating with himself whether, judging from my appearance, I would stand a good chance.

"Wal, I tell ye," he finally said, "how will a dollar a barrel suit ye?"

"Fine," said I, passing him two dollar bills.

"An' I sell ye another, or maybe two or three, for a spec?" he asked.

"I'll just stand this one inside the door, as one bought already," said I, sulking the action to the word, "and we will look the others over again."

About then a newcomer arrived.

"Just what I came to see," said he, smiling, and indicating the heap of guns.

"I heard of your gun in Nockit, and I came right over to see them. I live in New York, and I collect firearms for a hobby, especially during vacation."

"Firearms are my hobby, too," I said. "I have about four hundred, antique and curious ones together."

Isiah Day's expression was something to see.

The stranger and I looked over the pile of guns together, but they were cheap percussion and breech-loading shotguns, altered flint-muskets and worn-out rifles. There was nothing there that we wanted. Day didn't urge us to buy any, but chewed a straw, and had a far-away look in his eyes.

"The stranger and I rose to go. I reached within the door and swung the gun out on to my shoulder. The stranger straightened as if he were stung. His eyes opened wide and his mouth opened, too.

"Did you get that here?"

"Just as you came out of the woods," I said.

"Is it the Leavitt gun?"

"It really is," I answered.

We started along together. Day came, too.

"What did you say your name is?" he asked me.

"Sawyer."

"I don't seem to remember any Sawyer in Nockit."

"Probably not. I don't live there—I spend my summers there—my home is in Boston."

"O-ho," said he, "you're a city man! What do you want of that gun?"

"Just to look at," I answered, genially.

"I don't believe it. There's some mystery about it. I believe I'd order asked you more for it; if I'd been bright I bet you'd paid another dollar a barrel for it."

"Maybe I would," said I, "but it is too late now."

BRAND NEW SOCIETY GAME.
"Thought Transference" is in Line With Current Tendencies.
One of the new games with which society is amusing itself is called thought transference. How much of scientific value it possesses each must judge for herself, but certainly it supplies a great deal of amusement. To arrange it the person to be the "subject" is sent out of the room. Two players are chosen to transfer the thought, and these decide on what simple test the player will be required to perform. He may be required to pick up a book, to arrange a cushion or to touch the keys of the piano. The rest of the company is informed what the required test will be. The "subject" is readmitted, and those who are to guide him stand on each side and hold his hands. These "thought transferers," as well as the rest of the company, center their minds on the thing to be done. In eight cases out of ten, it is said, the "subject" wends his way, still holding the hands of the "transferers," toward the appointed object and does what is required of him. The audience probably will demand several "subjects" and experiments before its curiosity is satisfied.

Light on Economy.
"You always want to try to do all your reading in the daytime," said the stern teacher of physiology, addressing the class. "Sunlight is much better than any artificial light. Can any one of you tell me why?"

"Yes, ma'am," said Edwin. "It's a good deal cheaper."—Puck.

Want a Telephone?

If you do you can get it. If you are anxious to get into closer touch with your friends, with the family doctor, with the store, with the post office, or with the cotton buyer, you can do it with a telephone at hand. If you want to make the farm a more livable place, if you want to protect your home, you can do it by installing a telephone.

If you will cut out this advertisement, write your name and address on the margin and mail it to-day to our nearest house, we will send you at once a copy of our Free Bulletin No. 112 on "How to Build Rural Telephone Lines"

This Bulletin explains clearly how a rural telephone system is built and operated, and it also contains full information as to costs.

In a Farmer's Mutual Company a few day's labor and a cash investment of about $25, per subscriber, will purchase all material and build an absolutely standard system.

A Rural Telephone is an investment, not an expense. The telephone which enables you to sell ten bales of cotton at 1/2 cent per pound more than the traveling buyer offers you, has paid for its entire cost. If you have some hay down all ready to go in, it is worth something to have a telephone with which to call on Neighbor Smith "for a lift" before the storm breaks.

The Rural Telephone pays for itself each year and we have brought the initial cost within the reach of every farmer. Present prices are especially favorable and thousands of Farmers' Mutual Companies are now organizing so as to build their lines this Spring. Write us to-day.
