J. M. Elliott and Geo. Sellinger are attending to A-Y-P Fair at Seattle this week.

C. J. Littlepage is in Portland this week attending to business matters.

Chas. Stark this week moved his family to Hood River, where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. Ed Howe and sister, Miss Daisy Biles, left on Monday for a visit at Portland.

Mrs. Arthur Kuhn, of Grand View, was visiting in Hood River on Monday and Tuesday last.

C. A. McCarger left on Tuesday for Portland, where he will attend to business matters for a few weeks.

Mrs. L. E. Ward and Mrs. Audrey Woolery, of Ione, visited with Mrs. Belle Booth and Mrs. Geo. Wood the first of the week.

Miss Lucy Mullins arrived last Saturday night from California, and will make her home with her brother, Wm. Hudson.

Mr. George Rorden and family arrived last night from Mt. Angel, and will visit Mrs. Rorden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Root.

J. N. Mosier, whose family will remain in Portland this winter, has taken up bachelor quarters in the rear rooms over the bank.

G. R. Young has moved his family into town from the ranch, and will occupy the parsonage while he is building a house on his town lot.

R. M. Ross returned Monday night from Portland, his family accompanying him. They are occupying J. N. Mosier's residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McClure, of La Grande, arrived on Thursday for a few days' visit with relatives in Mosier, leaving Sunday for Eugene, where they will visit friends.

John Evans sold his livery and feed business this week to Dick Fisher, who now has possession. Mr. Fisher has purchased the Roy Edmonson team and will be better prepared to handle the business.

Geo. Pegg brought into our office recently some fine specimens of the Burpee potato, grown on his place near town. While too large for commercial use, they show what the soil of Mosier is capable of producing.

Finn's Springs.
Cy Cooper and Albert Bailey are spending a few days in the neighborhood. Mr. Cooper has some fine fat cattle on his place.

W. H. Gentry is building a road from the Springs to his homestead.

O. E. Wilson is improving his house.

Mrs. Finney is setting out a good variety of small fruit.

Fire warnings are up in conspicuous places. Ranger Pipe is keeping a diligent patrol on a valuable addition to the district.

NOTICE.
The last Interdenominational Convention of Wasco and Hood River counties will be held in Mosier on Sept. 25th. Three sessions will be held and it is desired that the people of Mosier will turn out in large numbers, for there will be some excellent speakers on the program.

Impressions By the Way.
The following extract is from the pen of one of the party that went to Mt. Hood last Wednesday to attend the installation ceremonies of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs at that place. We regret the necessity of condensing this interesting article, but are glad to give part of it:

Wednesday, Sept. 8, a party of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Mosier started forth on a journey in a "wagon-a-motive." As we ascended the heights between Mosier and Hood River a fine view of Mosier valley was obtained, and the orchards, fields and homesteads which came into view was a scene beautiful to behold as they lay smiling in the early morning sun. Passing over the summit and descending the other side, a panoramic view of Hood River valley lay before us which was certainly a grand sight. In comparing the two views it brought to mind the fact that what was possible for the one is possible for the other, and that before many years have passed Mosier valley, with its beautiful location, varied and natural resources, hustling, up-to-date, progressive residents, will be as well developed and as beautiful as the beautiful and bountiful homes for the people now living within its bounds, and to those who will come, as her sister valley.

Keeping along the east side of the valley we journeyed south toward our goal—not the "south pole," but "Grand Old Mt. Hood," of which we obtained a good view, despite the smoke from the forest fires.

We reached the little village of Mt. Hood about 4 p. m. In the evening we attended the meeting of Oregon Grape Lodge, which was the object of our trip. After lodge work a delicious lunch was served, when "Good Night" was said and we dispersed.

In passing we will mention that one of the Brothers of our party narrowly escaped a "cat's-after-me." A small cat followed us down the road and as the Sister, at who's house we stayed, did not care for an additional mouse-catcher, she suggested that we take it for a ride. The cat did not agree to it and had to be chased over half the ranch. Finally we started, cat and all. Stopping at the store to get needed supplies for our lunch box, the Brother placed the cat under a box beneath the porch; but we had no more than started on when it jumped Mr. Cat, and we are still wondering if the cat came back.

The trip home was made without further trouble, reaching Mosier about 5 p. m. Thursday, tired and dusty, but all declaring that every minute had been enjoyed.

Those composing the party were Mesdames Rachel Stewart, Myra Wellbery, E. L. Graham, Miss Nora Hunter, Messrs. R. W. Simpson, C. F. Stauffer and Gordon Graham.

A GOOD MOVE.
The action of the fruit growers in determining to enforce the herd law in Mosier district will prove of great benefit to the entire community, in more ways than one. Aside from the fact that it will not be necessary to build a fence to keep in repair outside fences to protect their orchards, it will afford an opportunity for the farmers and fruit raisers to greatly improve the appearance of their property by cultivating close to the public roads, keeping what are now the fence lines and corners free from weeds, thus adding greatly to the beauty of the landscape and largely enhancing the value of the land.

Nothing is more attractive to the stranger riding thru the country than the sight of well cultivated fields and orchards, bordered by well kept highways.

Nothing adds more to the satisfaction and content of the individual and the community, and nothing will be so sure to induce home seekers and investors to come here, as good, clean highways. We have the fine orchards, the fertile soil, the splendid climate and beautiful scenery, but to make the country all that could be desired we must attend to our roads. Individual and community pride in our highways is needed. If each person would clear out the stumps, brush, weeds and rocks along his property bordering the public highways, we would soon have the best and most attractive roads in the country. Such an example set by one individual would be emulated by every one in the community, if for no other reason than to sustain his reputation as an up-to-date, progressive, intelligent citizen.

Sunday's Ball Game.
The ball game played on the Odell diamond last Sunday was called by the Grand View boys of Mosier with Mt Hood, as the Mosier return game.

When the team got to Odell they expected to play the Mt. Hood team and they did, with the Odell battery and four others of the Odell team, as was found out when the game was about half over. We played it to a finish just the same and the score stood 16 to 0 in favor of Mt. Hood.

When we spoke of the Odell boys we were speaking of a team that has been winning over other good teams, and as we are but new beginners we did not expect to play such a line-up. Our game was to have been played with the Mt. Hood team. We have not played them and are still waiting for a return game with them.

We can hardly pass over their hospitality, which extended so far that we paid for our own dinner, which was due us at their expense.
