J. E. Cole was attending to business matters in Portland the first of the week.

J. M. Elliott was a business visitor at the county seat on Wednesday and Thursday.

Two trainmen were killed near Wye last Tuesday night in a rear-end collision of two freight trains.

Mrs. David Robinson left yesterday for a visit with friends at The Dalles.

Did you hear anything "drap" during the week? That was the breaking of those New Year resolutions.

A number of Odd Fellows of Mosier belonging to the Encampment, went to The Dalles last night to attend the public installation of officers of Inland Encampment No. 56.

It is reported that Mrs. Belle Booth, of Mosier, and H. E. White, a former Mosierite, were married in Portland last Tuesday. The BULLETIN extends felicitations.

Albert Vogel and wife, of DeChutes, were in town this week visiting Mr. Vogel's sister, Mrs. Geo. Parrish. Fred Vogel, another brother residing in Hood River, also visited his sister at the same time.

Comes now the "oldest inhabitant" who deposes and says that never within his recollection has the cold weather, ice and snow continued so long in this section. It has been much colder with more snow, but it was of shorter duration. But what of it? Oregon is still particularly blessed for no one has yet frozen or starved to death, as many have in less favored states.

Mrs. Chas. Graham and Miss Nora Hunter went to Hood River last Monday afternoon where at night the latter installed the officers of Laurel Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah. On Tuesday they went to Odell, where Miss Hunter installed the officers of the lodge at that place. The ladies returned home Wednesday night and report a most enjoyable trip.

"Uncle" Lee Evan's smiling countenance was seen on the street yesterday for the first time since he broke his leg, five months ago. Mr. Evans has had a long, tedious "spell," sufficient to drive any ordinary man to commit harikari, but not so with "Uncle" Lee, who has learned while passing through this vale of tears to take things philosophically. His appearance on the street yesterday was the occasion for rejoicing among his many friends.

Burned out.

The country residence of Mrs. E. J. Bailey, situated about two miles west of Mosier, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday afternoon. Most of the contents of the lower floor were saved, but everything upstairs was a total loss. We did not learn the extent of the money loss to Mrs. Bailey, or if there was any insurance on the building.

M. Parkins, salesman for J. G. Vogt, of Hood River, was in town this week making arrangements to hold a 10 days' sale of men's and boys clothing and furnishings. Failing to secure more suitable quarters, Mr. Vogt will use part of the Bulletin building, where his stock will be opened up for quick sales on Saturday, January 15th. We call attention to Mr. Vogt's display ad on the second page of this week's issue.

Why Is It?

We understand that complaint has been made that the BULLETIN does not print all the news; that more local items appear in outside papers than ever get into this sheet; that other papers contain accounts of real estate transfers in Mosier District that do not appear in the BULLETIN.

We admit that this is true in a measure, and will proceed to tell why it is true. All country newspapers depend more or less upon the interest the readers take in them to hand in any items of general news or local interest which may come to their knowledge—items that often escape the eye or ear of the editor who, being neither omnipresent nor omniscient, fails to get much of the news afloat unless some kind soul takes the trouble to inform him.

We have a few correspondents who send in items from their particular neighborhoods when there are any to send, and occasionally some thoughtful person will jot down one or more items and mail them to us. We appreciate these little things and would be very glad indeed if more people would "get the habit" of aiding the editor in his search for news, instead of finding fault, in other people's hearing, that their home paper contains no news. People like to see their names in the paper and no doubt feel slighted when they fail to (though they wouldn't admit it for the price of a year's subscription). We never intentionally omit any item of interest of a wholesome nature. We could, of course, retail a whole lot of gossip which anyone may hear on the street at any time. But that would be suicidal. Funny, isn't it, that gossip or scandal can be peddled about from mouth to mouth and is never challenged; but if the same stuff appeared in a newspaper the editor would have to hunt the tall timber. However, we don't want and are not looking for that kind of "news."

The people of every community, whether large or small, depend upon each other for support. It is so the world over. And they have a right to expect that support. Each is dependent upon the other. Withdraw your patronage from your merchant, your butcher, barber, doctor, and all the other business men who depend for a living on supplying your needs, and you drive them out of business. It is as true of the newspaper. Refuse to patronize your home paper by subscribing for it, advertising liberally if you are in business, and you force it to suspend. A business failure is worse for a town than a fire. No one wants either. All that any business man asks is a share of public patronage and he has a right to ask and expect it. Also, speaking for ourself and the BULLETIN, we would invite, most cordially, as we have done before, all our readers to show their interest in having a newsy home paper by sending in any items or communications that will help to make it so. We repeat our invitation, made personally some time ago to the real estate men of Mosier, to hand in all items of real estate transfers in this district, if they care to. They make interesting reading and we will be glad to get them.

Resolved, that during this new year we will not refuse to accept a year's subscription to this paper, or an advertisement from an inch to a page in size—that is, unless we are forced to go out of business by lack of patronage.

G. E. McClure, of The Dalles, was in town yesterday and made us a pleasant call. Mr. McClure represents a Portland realty and investment company and was interviewing our business men in regard to the bonds which are being placed on the market.

The BULLETIN will soon be a year old, and we take this occasion to suggest to our readers that they renew their subscriptions before they expire. According to the late ruling of the postal department, subscriptions to weekly newspapers must be paid within the year or dropped from the list. We do not want to scratch a single name from our list, and in order to avoid doing so we will next week make our readers an offer that will be a great inducement for them to come or send in, renew or subscribe and get the benefit of this offer which, we think, will be conceded the best "premium" we could give our subscribers. Look for the announcement next week.

Will Hold a "Panama-Pacific" Exposition.

The following communication has been received by the secretary of the Mosier Commercial Club relative to the holding of an exposition in San Francisco in 1915, which is to be called the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, to commemorate the completion and opening of the Panama Canal. Similar letters have been sent to all commercial bodies in Oregon and Washington, inviting their cooperation and aid. The communication reads:

To all Pacific Coast Chambers of Commerce and Kindred Organizations, Gentlemen:

The Panama-Pacific International Exposition will be held in San Francisco in 1915 or upon completion of the Panama Canal. To this project the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco has been committed since February, 1904, when a resolution was adopted by the Trustees in favor of it.

The holding of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition will mark an event of great importance. The joining of the Atlantic with the Pacific ocean by means of a waterway that will be open to all carriers of sea commerce will have an effect that will be felt in all portions of the globe. The States lying along the Pacific seaboard of the United States will share the benefits to accrue from that great work in a marked degree. This coast will be brought thousands of miles nearer by sea to all the great commercial centers of the world and they will reap the advantages belonging to their geographical positions to an extent incalculably greater than at any previous time in their history. They are equally concerned with California in having the canal opening suitably commemorated. They are to derive great advantages from the opportunities that will be afforded to make known to the world their vast resources.

At a mass meeting which was held in San Francisco December 7th, 1909, action was taken by which the city, through its representative citizens, pledged itself, unitedly, to consummate this project. An organization has been effected to do efficient work in that direction. In the opinion of this Chamber the time has arrived for every Chamber of Commerce and kindred organization on the Pacific Coast to be aligned with San Francisco in the furtherance of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Your cordial cooperation is hereby invited for the common good of the entire Pacific Coast and, no less, for the good of our common country.

We shall be pleased to have the views of your organization regarding the project.

Very truly yours,
JAMES McNAB,
President.
