Troubles of the Ancients.

Penelope was bewailing the protracted absence of Ulysses.
"I might as well be the wife of a commercial traveler," she said, "and do none with it."
Scorning to avail herself of an easy divorce, she plunged deeper than ever into the pages of the Ladies' Home Journal for consolation.

No Chance for an Argument.

"If you had any life in you, Henry," she snapped.
"You'd go out there and fire the cook!"
"But I haven't, you see, Flo," he placidly yapped;
And he buried himself in a book.—Chicago Tribune.

"You must rest," said the specialist, after a knowing thumping on the popular preacher's person. "You will be in the next world in three months unless you go abroad and take a complete rest."
"Oh, then I'll go abroad at once," replied the preacher, quite innocently.

A Real Danger.

"Gentlemen," said the president of the public service corporation, in his address to the stockholders, "It is my duty and pleasure to inform you of our balance sheet for the year now closing will show a highly satisfactory condition of affairs. We have added materially to our assets, and our profits have been such that we shall be able to declare a very handsome dividend. In fact, gentlemen," he added, lowering his voice, "our prosperity gives me some uneasiness. I cannot disguise or conceal from you an apprehension that J. Pierpont Morgan may have found it out and may be even now preparing to open his jaws and engulf this corporation in his capacious and insatiable maw!"

A dense silence ensued, and a thrill of horror ran through the assembly. Well may we ask, "Who is safe these days?"—Chicago Tribune.

Maori Sojourners.

Women of the Maori tribe of New Zealand are now appearing as features of the show at the Hippodrome in New York City, and as they are educated and cultivated persons, and have the right to full suffrage in their native land, they chose three delegates to represent them at Mrs. Pankhurst's lecture in Carnegie hall recently. They were Kiriri Matao, widow of an old Maori chief, Wnapi, a young political leader and a prohibitionist, and Drana, who is 21, and cast her vote for the Conservatives at the last election. Englishmen in New Zealand have extended to women all the rights they themselves have, and that Mrs. Pankhurst and the English suffragettes of all sorts ask for.—Springfield Republican.

No Misrepresentation.

Boarder (at summer resort)—Didn't your booklet say there were no mosquitoes here?
Proprietor—It did, sir, and it told the exact truth. We had the booklet printed in February, and I am prepared to prove that there wasn't a blamed (slap) mosquito within 500 miles of here at that time.—Chicago Tribune.

Slot Machine for Suicide.

Washington.—"Drop a penny in the slot and get a ticket to the other world" might be the inscription on a machine that is suggested by Rev. Dr. Donald Guthrie, of Baltimore. Dr. Guthrie, was talking on "Calvinism" at the closing session of the synod of Baltimore at the Metropolitan Presbyterian Church here. At the close of a plea for a wholesome, enthusiastic interest in life, he said: "Life has become so meaningless and so useless to some that I advocate the setting up of a suicide machine where one can deposit a cent and be killed easily and respectably."

AVIATION MEET OPEN

Paulhan Gaily Cuts Capers, Regardless of Rules.

CURTIS OPENS GREAT EXHIBITION

Monoplanes, Bi-Planes, and Dirigible Balloons Travel at Will About Los Angeles Park.

Los Angeles, Jan. 11.—Making a sudden and dramatic appearance while 20,000 people were watching the slow flight of two dirigible balloons at Aviation park yesterday afternoon, Louis Paulhan, the noted French aviator, threw the great throng into a frenzy of enthusiasm and excitement by a spectacular flight in a Farman biplane.

Rising, now dipping, now veering and turning with the grace of a bird, then suddenly dashing for the ground and scattering a group of officials like a hawk about to alight on a brood of chickens, Paulhan gave a remarkable exhibition and was accorded a tremendous ovation.

Again and again the French aviator thrilled the immense crowd with his daring flights, giving little heed to the rules and regulations of the official course, racing with a dirigible, swooping down upon the grandstand and clearing it by but a few feet, until his aeroplane seemed like a thing of life.

This, the first day of the big aviation meet, was given over to preliminary trial flights to give the aviators a chance to shake down their machines. Curtis had given an exhibition in a new, untried machine, in which later Clifford Harmon made some short flights. Charles E. Willard, in the Curtis No. 1, had made a flight and several times Roy Knabenshue and Lincoln Beachey had ascended in two small dirigibles and maneuvered their craft, but nothing to thrill the spectators happened until Paulhan unexpectedly sailed into the game.

Beachey and Knabenshue were piloting their dirigibles around the course when the daring Frenchman appeared suddenly out of a gully hidden from the view of the grandstand, circled the course three times, shot out across the country, came back over the grandstand and alighted in the center of the field.

In two later flights he gave an exhibition of remarkable control over his machine, making sharp turns, now dipping almost to the ground to scatter in flight a group of officials gathered in the field, again skimming the grandstand only a few feet above the heads of the spectators, ascending, descending and finally approaching from the rear the tent that housed his aeroplane, just before clearing the top he alighted within 100 feet of its entrance.

Promptly at 1 o'clock Glenn H. Curtiss was out upon the starting stretch to open the international meet with a christening flight for a new monoplane that he had never before used. Leaving the ground in front of the grandstand, the airplane, making sharp turns, with a rise from the ground to the west, made a short flight up the course, returned and alighted at the starting point. The distance, estimated by the judges at five-eighths of a mile, was covered in 23 seconds, the greatest height reached was 50 feet. The machine was under perfect control and the great American aviator was accorded a thunder of cheers for his feat.

Next Charles E. Willard appeared upon the course in his Curtiss aeroplane No. 1, and after a short preliminary flight, attempted to circle the official course, which is a trifle more than a mile and a half in length. Rising to a height of 70 feet, he maintained this altitude until half the distance had been traversed, when his motor gave out and the aeroplane descended. He was in the air 1 minute and 23 seconds, the longest flight ever made by a Curtiss machine on the Pacific coast up to that time.

A readjustment of the motor, Willard arose again and completed the course. Curtiss, using the machine with which he had made the previous flight, then circled the course, an estimated distance of one and one-eighth miles, in 1:51. His maximum altitude was 200 feet, the highest flight on this coast, up to that time.

Officer Arrests Chief.

Los Angeles, Jan. 11.—"That policeman will get a box of cigars from me for doing his duty," declared Chief Dishman, referring to his arrest in Hollywood Sunday, for exceeding the speed limit. "I shall also promote him at the first opportunity." Dishman this afternoon sent the cigars. Chief Dishman was arrested by C. M. Blinn, motor patrolman, in Hollywood. Blinn wanted to withdraw the charge, but Dishman insisted on the law taking its course and paid his $10 fine in Judge Herndon's court today. Blinn is a Los Angeles policeman.

Monorail Car Is Successful.

New York, Jan. 11.—The first exhibition in this country of the gyrostatic monorail car, which has been ranked among the wonders of the present century, was given today in Brooklyn by Richard Scherl, the inventor, who is the son of a Berlin newspaper man. The model, which seats four passengers and two operators, worked perfectly. Mr. Scherl believes a speed of 120 miles an hour can be maintained by a train of regulation size.

Single Porker at $61.20.

That there is big money in hog raising in the Pacific northwest at the present livestock prices was shown by the sale of a single porker at the Portland animal stockyards yesterday. The particular animal that attracted the attention of everybody at the yards was a monster that tipped the scales at 680 pounds. He sold for 9 cents a pound live weight, which meant $61.20, the highest price that a single hog ever brought at the stockyards.

Tail Is Following Comet.

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 11.—A straight and slender tail has been discovered trailing behind the nucleus of Halley's comet, according to a dispatch received at the Harvard observatory yesterday from Professor O. COULD SAVE CHILDREN.

From 100,000 to 200,000 a Year Said to Die in America of Preventable Causes.

WARNING BY CENSUS CHIEF.

Dr. C. L. Wilbur of Vital Statistics Department at Washington Has Recommendations.

From 100,000 to 200,000 children under 5 years of age die every year from preventable causes in the United States, in the opinion of Dr. Cressy L. Wilbur, chief of vital statistics of the census bureau, who has prepared a bulletin on the basis of present-day knowledge of sanitary measures. Dr. Wilbur believes that prompt registration of births and a more careful and precise statement of the causes of death by physicians are needed.

Of the number of deaths returned for 1908—691,574—which covers the registration area, Dr. Wilbur has found that nearly one-fifth were of infants of under 1 year old and more than one-fourth of children under 5 years of age. Reduced to figures, Dr. Wilbur makes the following estimates: More than one-eighth of a million babies under 1 year old and fully 200,000 children under 5 died among about one-half of the population of the United States in the year mentioned. It is considered probable that fully 200,000 more died in cities and states not included in the census bureau death registration area.

PRELIMINARY FLIGHT A SUCCESS

Three Men and Two Women Make Short Balloon Voyage.

Los Angeles, Jan. 10.—The big balloon "New York," carrying its owner, Clifford B. Harmon; Mrs. Alvin French and her niece, Jean French, as passengers, and George B. Harrison and George Duessler, balloon pilots, landed at Casavadera, in the Glendale valley, at 4:47 yesterday afternoon after a flight of nearly two hours.

The landing was made with ease, and no discomfort or danger attended any portion of this, the initial flight of the aeronauts who have gathered here for the aviation meet every year.

An altitude of 5000 feet was attained and observations were taken by Mr. Harrison and Mr. Duessler. When the great gas-bag was cut loose at Huntington park at 2:55 in the afternoon, its flight was almost straight up until it had attained a height of 1000 feet. Then a strong current bore it to the northward until it passed out of sight beyond the haze that lay over the mountains.

Spectators of the flight believed it was the intention of the aeronauts to attempt to sail over the Sierra Madre mountains, but those on board say this would have been impossible. At a height of 500 feet, another current took the balloon to the westward, and when they were over the Glendale valley the aeronauts decided to come to earth. A distance of about 25 miles was covered.

BOSTON HAS PIERCE CAMPAIGN

No Party Lines, But $250,000 Is Spent by Various Candidates.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 10.—Boston Saturday night wound up, except for the finishing touches, the fiercest municipal campaign in its history. The election Tuesday will be the first under the non-partisan plan and for a non-partisan campaign this has certainly been a revelation to the sponsors of the new order of things.

The bulletins of the candidates for mayor confess he has spent nearly $10,000, and he accuses his chief opponent of having spent more than $200,000. This charge is not denied. The other two candidates, without a ghost of a chance of election, have spent about $5000. The various candidates for the city council have probably spent $20,000, so that the cost of the campaign to the various aspirants figures up close to a quarter of a million dollars.

White Rhino Hunt Begun.

Butiaba, Jan. 10.—The Smithsonian Aerial expedition arrived at Butiaba, the base for the hunt for the eagerly-sought white rhinoceros, today. Rhino camp is on the Congo side of the Bar-El-Jabel river. The expedition, as made up in the present consists of Colonel Roosevelt, Kermit, Mearns, Heller, Loring, Celt, Singhame and 30 porters and boys. They have 200 loads of supplies. The party has temporarily left Uganda for the territory remarkable for the presence of the white rhinoceros.

Thirteen Hurt Coasting.

Alton, Ill., Jan. 11.—Thirteen persons were hurt, six seriously, in two coasting accidents here today. A bobled carrying eight persons collided with an ambulance en route to the home of a suicide, and the horses fell on the sled. James Coleman, 15 years old, was scalped, and every other passenger suffered minor injuries. An hour later, on the same hill, another sled collided with an automobile, injuring five of the seven passengers on the sled. There have been seven accidents on this hill within the last week.

Jury Justifies Lynching.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 10.—The grand jury which investigated the murder of Miss Anna Pelley and the lynchings of Henry Salzer and Will James, the latter a student of every student for hookworm. It is announced that more than a third of the members of the class were found to be infected.

Hookworm in College.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 10.—Consternation prevails among the 100 or more students of Tulare college following the examination of every student for hookworm. It is announced that more than a third of the members of the class were found to be infected.

COULD SAVE CHILDREN.

From 100,000 to 200,000 a Year Said to Die in America of Preventable Causes.

WARNING BY CENSUS CHIEF.

Dr. C. L. Wilbur of Vital Statistics Department at Washington Has Recommendations.

From 100,000 to 200,000 children under 5 years of age die every year from preventable causes in the United States, in the opinion of Dr. Cressy L. Wilbur, chief of vital statistics of the census bureau, who has prepared a bulletin on the basis of present-day knowledge of sanitary measures. Dr. Wilbur believes that prompt registration of births and a more careful and precise statement of the causes of death by physicians are needed.

Of the number of deaths returned for 1908—691,574—which covers the registration area, Dr. Wilbur has found that nearly one-fifth were of infants of under 1 year old and more than one-fourth of children under 5 years of age. Reduced to figures, Dr. Wilbur makes the following estimates: More than one-eighth of a million babies under 1 year old and fully 200,000 children under 5 died among about one-half of the population of the United States in the year mentioned. It is considered probable that fully 200,000 more died in cities and states not included in the census bureau death registration area.

In this connection Dr. Wilbur quotes Prof. Irving Fisher's conclusion that of all the diseases of infancy having the median age 1 year 47 per cent may be prevented, and that of the diseases of childhood having a median age of 2 to 5 years 67 per cent may be prevented.

"It does not seem unreasonable," Dr. Wilbur says, "when we consider the fact that there is apparently no reason why infants, if properly born—and this means simply the prevention of ante-natal disease and the improvement of the health and conditions of life of their parents—should die in early infancy or childhood except from the comparatively few accidents that are unavoidable."

The bulletin continues with a statement that the general death rate of a country is dependent largely upon its infant mortality and says: "In the light of the figures quoted it would seem that practical sanitation has only made a beginning in the work of preventing the occurrence of infant and child mortality. The ground has only been scratched over. Deep stirring of the soil and thorough cultivation of all the means available, with our present scientific and medical knowledge for the guarding of young lives, would produce startling and, from all human experience, almost unbelievable results."

The University of California, like Stanford University, has abandoned rowing as a varsity sport. Carlisle Indians and Holy Cross have dropped basketball as an intercollegiate sport for the coming season.

Directum, 2:05 1/2, died recently at Savage, Minn. He was the world's champion 4-year-old trotter, ex-champion trotting stallion and one of the foremost sires of the day. To his credit are five 2:10 trotters, all having records.

Lady Jennette, the young pacing mare owned by G. M. Cotton of Auburn, Neb., trained and driven by Frank Daily, won $1,245 at meetings near home the past season, where the purses were small. She was started seven times and won three firsts, three seconds and one third.

A recent fire at Upland farm, Greenburg, Pa., unfortunately resulted in the loss of the promising race horse and sire, Maj. Higginson, 2:16 1/2. All told, seven valuable horses perished in the flames. L. B. and Julian B. Huff are the proprietors of the farm.

It is thought that Ed Spencer, the big Scranton catcher, who jumped the Boston Americans last season, will be with the New York Giants next year, as McGraw has negotiated his release from the Indianapolis club of the American Association, with which Spencer had signed.

Wisconsin and Chicago battled in a sensational 6 to 6 tie game of football on Marshall field at Chicago, and when the final whistle blew there was no advantage on either side.
