500 boys and girls wanted at once.

E. E. Fraedrick spent last Sunday in town with his family.

C. L. McKenna, was a visitor in town last Sunday from Portland.

Mrs. Harold Davis left last Saturday for a few days' visit at Portland.

Ed. Reeves is up from Portland this week looking after his prune crop.

Sheriff Levi Chrisman was down from The Dalles last Saturday attending to business matters.

J. M. Leiter came up from Portland on Wednesday on business connected with the proposed railroad up Mosier Creek.

G. A. McCargar and family returned on Wednesday from Portland, accompanied by Mrs. McCargar's mother and sister.

Miss Alice Davenport, of The Dalles, visited last Saturday and Sunday with her brother, J. T. Davenport, leaving on Monday for Portland.

Mrs. Amos Root returned last Saturday night from Collins Springs, where she has been getting the benefit of the healing waters for the past six weeks.

Geo. Mathews returned home last Sunday from Portland, where he has been at the bedside of his mother, whose death was chronicled recently.

Stanley J. Simpson, of Seattle, who visited his father, R. W. Simpson a few days last week, left on Sunday for the Bend country, where he will spend a part of his vacation.

Wm. Marsh returned home last Saturday night from Portland, where he, with his wife, has been with his mother, who is in a hospital. He reports his mother as much improved.

The lumber for the addition to the school house arrived last week and the contractors, Hardwick & Wright, are straining every effort to finish the building in time for the opening of school.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Rutledge, of Portland, are visiting F. A. Shogren and family. Mr. Rutledge was formerly connected with the act department of the Oregonian but is now in business for himself.

Geo. B. Reeves, who, with his wife and Mrs. Tribou, of Portland, came up last week to visit his brothers and their families several days, left on Wednesday for Hood River, where the party will visit another brother before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wyss, Mrs. R. Yackie, Chas. Abernathy, of Mosier, and Matt Schoren, Jr., of The Dalles, who has been visiting at the Wyss home this summer, went to The Dalles last Sunday to attend a gathering of relatives and friends, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Matt Schoren, Sr. The party returned on Monday.

Adolph Boldt, Secretary of the Houston Business League, of Houston, Texas, spent a part of last Friday and Saturday in Mosier, coming up from Portland with C. C. Chapman and wife. Much to the regret of Mosier people, Mr. Boldt could not be present at the booster meeting on Saturday night. He is certainly a "live wire" and Houston is most fortunate in securing him to manage its business league.

Uncle Lee Evans and wife and Mrs. Fred Evans and little son arrived home last Sunday night from their outing at Newport and Alsea Bay. Fred brought the auto up from Portland on Monday. They report a very pleasant visit with F. M. and Peice Hunter and their families and say that the fishing and hunting was fine. The climate in the low country is too damp for Mrs. Lee Evans' health, but otherwise she enjoyed the trip.

Go to the Mosier Lumber Co. for your sash, doors, sroceens etc. J. K. McGregor was a business visitor at Portland the first of the week.

The service at The Pines Hotel is eminently satisfactory and business is increasing.

Mrs. W. A. Stark is up from Hood River this week, visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Akers.

Mrs. John d'N. Biles and Miss Daisy Biles, of Portland, are spending a few weeks at Le-bowa.

Henry Olson was down from Biggs on Tuesday visiting relatives and shaking hands with friends.

Mr. Alex Mitchell and Mr. Frank Taylor, of Portland, attended the funeral of Mrs. W. A. Davis on Tuesday.

B. L. Sellinger, of Trout Lake, Wash., spent a part of Monday and Tuesday in town looking after business interests.

Jacobs brothers, of Portland, accompanied Mark Mayer on his weekly visit to Mayerdale Ranch last Friday, returning Sunday.

Mrs. W. A. Stockdale and J. O. Witham, of Portland, attended the funeral of their sister, Mrs. W. A. Davis, on Tuesday last.

Mrs. E. U. Davis, of Portland, and Mrs. May Taylor, of Sacramento, Cal., visited this week with the former's sister, Mrs. D. Robinson.

Ed. L. Howe returned Saturday night from a brief visit to Portland. Mrs. Howe will spend a week or two at Gearhart, on the beach.

Don Clement left on Wednesday for Montana, where he has secured a position with the government on a big surveying proposition.

D. E. Meikle, of Portland, has purchased the entire Mosier prune crop, which is now being packed and shipped at the rate of a car a day.

H. E. Dean, of Portland, came up last week to look after his range on the ridge south of town. This is Mr. Dean's first visit to Mosier in three years and he finds both the town and country wonderfully improved.

J. N. Mosier and wife returned Tuesday evening from Portland, where Mrs. Mosier underwent an operation for the removal of a tumor on one of her eyes. As an instance of the fair sex's ability to withstand pain, it is stated that the operation was of two hours' duration, and during the entire time Mrs. Mosier took no anesthetic.

Mrs. M. M. Sleeth, of Portland, State Organizer, Field Evangelist and Lecturer for the W. C. T. U., delivered a talk on state wide prohibition for 1910, in the Christian Church last Monday evening. By some oversight on the part of the person who was notified of her coming, the announcement was not handed in for publication, nor was it made from the pulpits on Sunday. As a result a very small audience listened to a very able argument on the dry state question.

C. G. Dwight, who is traveling for the Lloyd Manufacturing Co., of Menominee, Mich., came up from Portland Wednesday evening and spent yesterday at his ranch south of town. Mr. Dwight, with his brother, R. L. Dwight, purchased the John Brown place last Spring and they are making great improvements on it. The Dwight brothers located in Mosier after having investigated many other widely advertised fruit sections of the Northwest, and they are well content with their choice.

Mrs. V. C. Young and son were visitors in Hood River Wednesday.

Mrs. J. K. McGregor is at home from a three weeks' outing at Newport.

E. T. Chase returned on Wednesday from a vacation at Long Beach, Wash.

The Mosier Lumber Co. can fill your orders for lime, cement, brick and plaster.

B. E. Duncan was up last Wednesday from Hood River looking after his land interests.

J. N. Mosier, W. G. Harvey and Tom Connor were business visitors in The Dalles yesterday.

Mrs. Sarah McVey came down from The Dalles and went out to her homestead south of town, where she will spend a few weeks.

G. E. McCarter and family and Mr. McCarter's mother, Mrs. F. H. McCarter, arrived in town last Saturday and will spend a few weeks recuperating. They are camping on Rock Creek.

C. A. Moseley, of Hood River, is in town this week looking after his interests in this vicinity. Mr. Moseley owns land in the Grand View neighborhood, and has recently sold a 20-acre tract to a gentleman from Iowa, who will arrive in Mosier soon with his family and household goods to locate among us.

Rev. Mr. Hargreaves, of Hood River, preached in the Baptist Church here last Sunday night to a mixed congregation of the three churches of Mosier. He talked "straight from the shoulder", saying that, like Hood River, Mosier has too many churches for so small a town, and that there was too much doctrinal religion preached and not enough religion of Jesus Christ. Conditions are worse, he said, in Hood River because, instead of only three different churches, there are fourteen in that town all claiming that theirs is the only "straight and narrow way"—in fact they were all too "narrow" to accomplish much good. Mr. Hargreaves' plan would be to consolidate the three churches of Mosier or, as he expressed it, to form a confederation of the churches and secure a minister who is not "dyed in the wool" of this, that or the other church, but who is a broad minded expounder of the true religion of Christ, who was neither a Christian, Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic, or anything else but Christ. Judging from the comments, the discourse was received with much approbation, as Mr. Hargreaves was commended for his fearlessness in presenting a few indisputable facts. We venture to say that if his ideas were carried out, there would result a far greater spirit of unanimity and Christian fellowship than obtains at present.

MRS. W. A. DAVIS

Eliza Anna Belle Witham was born in Indiana June 24, 1859, died at Mosier, Oregon, August 13, 1910, being 51 years, 1 month and 19 days of age. She was the eldest daughter of J. S. and Lanah Witham.

In 1894 she came to Oregon and for the past four years had been at Mosier. About nine years ago she was married to George Tryon and was left a widow by his death which occurred last year.

On May 25 of this year she was married to W. A. Davis, who, with a sister, Mrs. W. A. Stockdale, of Portland, a brother, J. O. Witham, also of Portland, and Mrs. Estelle Longnecker, a daughter by a former marriage, survive her.

Mrs. Davis' death was very sudden and unexpected, although her health was not good. On Saturday night last Dr. Robinson was hurriedly summoned to the Davis residence, several miles out of town, but Mrs. Davis had expired before his arrival there, presumably of heart failure.

The funeral services were held from the Baptist Church, Mosier, on Tuesday, conducted by Rev. W. A. Stark. The body was laid to rest in Odd Fellows' Cemetery.

A number of friends and neighbors from the town and countryside attended the funeral, who extend their heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved husband.

Card Of Thanks

To the friends and neighbors who assisted me with kind words and deeds, during my bereavement in the loss of my wife, I desire to express my heartfelt thanks.

W. A. DAVIS.

A Fine Orchard

A visit to some of the orchards in the vicinity of Mosier is an education, an inspiration, a revelation and a delight to any one. The writer was shown thru Lee Evans' orchards, the other morning and was amazed at the abundant crop of apples and prunes, the fruit in both orchards bending the branches to the ground. While some orchards this year have been more or less afflicted with scale, Mr. Evans' crop seems to be perfectly free from it and the packers say his crop will be above the average. Many of the prune trees in this orchard will bring Mr. Evans nine or ten dollars per tree, at the price prunes are selling this year.

Most of the older settlers in Mosier, including Mr. Evans, planted prune orchards when they located here and reaped golden harvests from them while their apple trees were growing and coming into bearing. But abundant crops some years with low prices, discouraged many, and the orchards were dug up and the land set to apples. Those, however, who still cling to their prune orchards have not regretted it. Last year, for instance, when all crops were light, those who had prunes made more money on them than on anything else.
