The best wishes of all go with them to their new home.

A Farewell Surprise

About eight o'clock Tuesday evening fifteen of Mosier's young folks gathered at the J. E. Hugley home and from there repaired to the temporary quarters of the Clark family at the Christian Church, to tender a farewell surprise on Miss Nada, before her departure for Medford.

The young lady was just contemplating how she might best spend her last evening in Mosier, when a knock sounded at the door, and upon answering it the self-invited guests burst in upon her. The surprise was complete. After the greetings were over all descended to the reception room, and here various games were played in which everyone joined with enthusiasm. Light refreshments, consisting of Mosier's juicy peaches, were served by Rev. Clark, and shortly after eleven good-byes were said and the friends dispersed to their homes.

While it was an enjoyable occasion, yet there was a feeling of sadness and regret connected with it, for she who has made many friends during her summer's sojourn here, was about to depart for another section of the state, to make her home among other people.

C. A. McCargar and family leave today for Portland, where they will spend the Winter.
