OUR PORTLAND LETTER
Portland, Ore., Sept. 13 (Special) —Members of the Board of Army Engineers have inspected the Umatilla irrigation project during the past week and upon their report depends Oregon's chance of sharing in the $20,000,000 bond issue proposed for the completion of reclamation projects already under way. The inspectors declined to make any statement but it is regarded as certain that their report will be favorable.

They went carefully over the district and saw thriving orchards, alfalfa fields from which three crops have been cut and gardens filled with fine vegetables. Reclamation Service officials told the engineers that conditions on the proposed extension of the project are more favorable than those on the district where reclamation work has already proved so successful. The extension of the project will irrigate 60,000 acres additional.

The Oregon & Western Colonization Company, which acquired the big Cascade wagon road grant and will open up 800,000 acres to settlement, has appointed Earl L. Marvin, formerly state land agent for Idaho, manager of the property, and the lands are now being appraised preparatory to opening them up for settlement. The possibilities of irrigation on the lands are being considered by owners.

Improvements going forward in Eugene and Medford are summarized and brought to the notice of the people interested in those communities through the local papers by Managers Freeman and Malboeuf of the commercial clubs of these two thriving cities. The plan is an excellent one and serves as an eye-opener to people at home who do not realize the extent of local betterments until the matter is called to their attention.

Bend is going to get valuable advertising in the East by making a complete exhibit in the Oregon car to be shown by the Hill interests. A splendid collection of products grown around Bend will be included in the exhibit, which will be an object lesson in what Oregon farms can grow. It is certain to get good results. Every Oregon town should have a like showing.

Beautification of railroad stations in Oregon is planned by the Harriman lines and W. C. Chase has been appointed official landscape architect. Eugene was the first city in the state to adopt modern landscaping ideas for its depot grounds and others will follow suit.

Portland's Harvest Festival, which was the big feature of the past week in Portland, was the most successful such event in the history of the state. The crowds were the biggest ever attending any similar affair in the state, with the exception of the livestock show at the Lewis and Clark Fair. The stock was of a very high class and the races were run for the biggest purses ever offered in the Northwest. The support given the Fair was gratifying and plans are being outlined for a $1,000,000 livestock show next year.

Church of Christ Notes.

We invite everyone to hear the subjects to be presented next Lordsday, which in the morning will be "Unfeigned Love", and in the evening, "Loving the Hired of Wrong Doing."

Is it good for a community to be guided by Bible principles? No one but a devotee of Satan or an ignoramus would answer No, because the more a community is guided by those principles, the better it is.

May this community become so receptive to those grand principles that he who would violate them shall be alone and ashamed.

H. CAMPBELL CLARK, Minister.

Frank Roberts Suicides
"I'm tired of life, it's not worth while—F. Roberts". These were the last words of Frank Roberts, a well-known resident of Mosier Valley, written just before he shot himself through the head last Friday night or Saturday, in his cabin on Mosier Creek. The body was found by his half-brother, Harley Leininger, who stopped at the cabin on Sunday afternoon to see him.

Roberts' body was lying across the bed, just as he fell after the rifle had done its deadly work. Mr. Leininger opened the door and seeing Roberts lying on the bed supposed him to be asleep. On stepping into the room he was horrified to find his brother dead with a ghastly hole in his head and the bed and wall spattered with blood. The dead man had evidently held the rifle to his mouth when he pulled the trigger, the bullet tearing its way through the roof of the mouth and coming out at the top of his head.

Roberts had intended going to work for a neighbor and evidently was about ready to leave home, as a roll of blankets lay on the bed by him.

It is supposed that worry over the loss of some money and failure to get several patents through, on which he had been working, produced melancholia which resulted in self destruction.

Coroner Burgett and deputy sheriff Glen Allen were notified and went to the scene of the tragedy Sunday night.

Deceased was about 40 years old and had lived in this community about 14 years. He leaves three brothers and a sister living in Hood River, and a half brother, Harley Leininger, of Mosier, who discovered the dead man. The body was interred in Odd Fellows' cemetery on Tuesday. The funeral services were held at the Christian Church, Rev. H. C. Clark officiating.

THE SUCCESS OF A BANK

Is dependent on the success of its patrons—the more they prosper, the more business they will have to do through the bank. It then follows, very naturally, that the MOSIER VALLEY BANK is vitally interested in your welfare. It wants to see every man in the community do well, and will do anything it can, consistent with sound business principles, to help you succeed.

You may say we have "an axe to grind". We have; and it is the same sort of an axe that the merchant or other business man grinds when he tries to extend his business; the same sort you grind when you try to make your property more valuable. Not many men can help themselves without helping the whole community, nor can they help the other fellow without helping themselves.

We have received from the Secretary of State a pamphlet containing a copy of all the measures referred to the People by the Legislative Assembly, "Referendum Ordered by the Petition of the People", and "Proposed by Initiative Petition", which the voters are asked to approve or reject, according to their individual ideas, at the general election on November 8, next. To the average voter it will be a difficult matter to decide how to vote.

Why He Advertises

A prominent business man of Michigan explains why he advertises and why he uses newspapers for that purpose as follows: "I advertise in the newspapers because I am not ashamed of my goods or my work, and to let the people know about myself, my store and my stock; I cater to the intelligent class and they read the newspapers, and I believe in increasing my business; because I talk to more people through the newspapers, at a greater distance in less time and at a more reasonable price than in any other way; because my newspaper advertising has brought me greater returns for the least expenditure of any advertising I have ever done; because when I write an ad, I am not too stingy to pay for placing it in the best possible medium, or to have it inserted so it is attractive; because I know my ad is seen and read by every one in the house where the paper goes."—Ex.

ATTENTION

All members of Manzanita Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F. No. 161 are requested to be present at Lamb's Hall Friday evening, Sept. 23d, 1910, at 7:30 sharp, as something special will be in order. Don't fail to be there.
Order of Committee.

WANTED:—A good homestead relinquishment. Call at Bulletin office or write, stating price and giving full description.

School Election

At the school election, held Wednesday in Lamb's Hall, to vote on the question as to whether or not the district should issue bonds to the amount of $1800, to pay for the addition to the schoolhouse, recently finished, the tax payers of the district decided by a vote of 19 to 1 to issue such bonds. The vote was light, although notices of the election had been posted for 21 days previously. The ladies evidently forgot, or didn't know, that they were entitled to vote at school elections, for not one came to the polls.

A Good Opportunity

For some love-lorn damsel. A certain handsome young man, living not over a stone's throw from the Bulletin office, would like a life companion. Only requirement is that she will be able to help him consume about 150-quarts of canned fruit during the winter. Said H. Y. M.'s qualifications are; that he is gentle, well broke and bridle wise, will not kick, bite, or strike. Now, ladies, come early and avoid the rush, as this rare bargain will be snapped up quickly. Note—this is not a paid adv.

School For Apple Packing.

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 8. —Commercial grading and packing, in which growers and handlers in the box group, composed of California, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, New Mexico, Montana, Colorado, and British Columbia are keenly interested, will be taught free to all at the school in connection with the third National Apple Show in Spokane, November 14 to 19. A. P. Bateham, of Mosier, Ore., who was chief judge of pack at the second show, and J. M. Carroll, also of Mosier, a scientific packer of wide experience, will have charge of the classes. Diagonal and square packs as used in the northwestern and special boxes will be demonstrated. The school will occupy the entire floor of the state armory, with tables and racks to accommodate at least 50 pupils and leave ample room for spectators. There will be sessions from nine o'clock to noon every morning during the week. The students are eligible to enter the packing contest, in which $100, a gold medalion watch charm and the title of world's champion is the first prize, with $50 and $25 in gold to second and third, respectively.
