A new banking institution, to be called the "Apple Growers' Bank", is soon to be started in Hood River. To this end the lot at the corner of Third and Oak streets has been purchased from Jackson and Jackson. The purchasers are J. R. Johnson and G. F. Gardiner, two Eastern capitalists. The new bank, which will be the fourth in Hood River, will be capitalized at $50,000.

The teachers' annual institute for the counties of Wasco, Hood River and Sherman, held last week in The Dalles, was the most successful and largest attended of any yet held. There were over 170 teachers registered. Justus T. Neff, of Wasco, Ernest C. Smith, of Hood River, and W. C. Bryant, of Sherman, had the institute in charge, and were highly gratified at the attendance and results attained. The many teachers returned to their various schools with renewed energies and broader ideas along educational lines, and without doubt the effect of this "renewed youth" will be apparent in the schools.

Doesn't Look Good To Him

Portland, Ore., 10-13-10.
Editor Mosier Bulletin,
Mosier, Ore.

Dear Sir:—

I see in your paper an adv. of the so called "Home Rule Bill", and under the circumstances think your readers should know what this really is.

This bill, under the name of the "Reddy Bill" was voted down with a big majority two years ago. Now they have tacked it onto the end of one of the most popular amendments ever passed and are trying to fool the people into passing it.

This is what it does. It takes the liquor traffic (nothing but the liquor traffic) out from under the constitution and criminal laws of the state and turns it over to the city councils. Note it says "exclusive control" so that neither sheriffs, district attorney, nor grand juries can touch the sacred liquor traffic; a holy city council alone has control.

Would that not be a nice state of affairs? Time and again the police department of Portland has asked for the cancellation of the license of saloons and grills so atrocious that the police are unable to handle them and just twice has the plea been granted. With the "exclusive" control in the hands of the council what would it be?

As a leader of public thought and with the time to look into these things I hope you will see your way to expose such vile tricks.

Yours very truly,
E. T. JOHNSON.

Apple growers are busy harvesting their crops, which are abundant and of fine quality. The occasional rains have somewhat hindered picking, but work is progressing fairly well.

Read "THE SPIRIT OF IDAHO", by Arthur W. North, "GREATER THAN GOLD" (the harnessing of Western Rivers) by Clayton M. Jones, in OCTOBER SUNSET MAGAZINE. Now on sale on all news stands, 15 cents.

Apple Season On At Hood River

The apple season is on in earnest at Hood River. Hundreds of pickers and packers are at work gathering the crop and preparing it for market. Some of the largest yields recorded in the history of the Oregon apple industry are being made this year. Mr. Avery picked 36 boxes of Spitz from one tree and estimates that there are still ten boxes on the top of the tree.

The largest apple tree in Hood River Valley measures 60 inches in circumference and is bearing most prolifically. The best apple picking record ever made in the Hood River Valley has just been made by A. I. Mason, who began picking apples on the 21st day of September and finished on the 6th day of October and who lost two days on account of rain, placed 10,000 boxes of apples in his apple house. Mr. Mason stated that he has made a large saving by placing a large crew in the orchard and making a short season of it, on account of preserving the apples that would have been windfalls under ordinary conditions.

Mr. Mason has the largest apple-packing house in the state. A spur of the railroad is built into the building. The shortage of apple boxes is working some damage to the growers. About 175 cars of apples have been forwarded from Hood River this season, together with fifteen cars of pears.—Hood River News.

The big Fair at The Dalles last week was a success in every way. The program was carried out as advertised and every one was satisfied. The fruit exhibits were fine, proving conclusively that old Wasco county has a diversity of soil adapted to the raising to perfection every kind of fruit and vegetable grown in the temperate zone. These annual fairs are a great thing, enabling every section of the three counties forming the agricultural district, to get together on a friendly business and social basis and serve to widely advertise the great natural advantages of this wonderful section of Oregon.

A Hint

A modern, up-to-date Sunday School is no childish matter. We used to think Sunday School was for children only. Now all can be members—from baby to grandpa. It is not merely for church members. Thousands of adults not church members are now members of Sunday School classes. It is a manly thing to be in the Sunday School. Parents have done only part of their duty when they have sent the children to Sunday School. They should go along with them. I am persuaded there are a good many people in Mosier and vicinity who attend no Sunday School. Are they too busy? Do they work too hard? At any rate some of the busiest and hardest workers in Mosier and vicinity ARE NOW in one or the other of the Sunday Schools.

In either School one will find a hearty welcome. No man is educated until he understands the Bible. Young men, as well as boys, need Bible knowledge. And it is the FASHION to go now. Try it. You will enjoy it. It will do you good. Be up with the times.

A. C. CORBIN,
Of the Christian Church.
