Who found the glove?
Dr. C. A. Macrum, of Portland, visited his ranch near town yesterday.

Dr. Dumble, of Hood River, was a professional caller in town Tuesday.

E. N. Stroup was a business visitor at the county seat on Wednesday.

Mrs. H. Pickering was shopping in town Wednesday from the ranch southeast of town.

C. O. Perley and wife left on Wednesday for Blaine, Wash., where they will spend a few months.

Mrs. W. A. Stark came up from Hood River yesterday and will visit several days here with relatives.

Mrs. Jack Burchett presented her husband with a daughter last Saturday morning. All three are doing well.

J. Sendlinger left on Tuesday for Portland, where he will spend the winter working at his trade of cabinet making.

A. V. Bauer left last Friday afternoon for his home in Portland, after spending a week on the ranch with his mother.

Why ruin your eyes with a poor light? Buy a Wonder and give your home a good light. Your friends will appreciate it as well as yourself.

W. A. Husbands and G. F. Wood are attending court at The Dalles this week. The latter returned home yesterday, but Mr. Husbands will remain several days yet.

S. E. Fisher went to Vancouver on Tuesday to see about the lumber for his barn. He is experiencing the same difficulty that many others have contended with this season—inability to get his order filled on time.

Thirty-three Odd Fellows of Beacon Lodge went to The Dalles Monday night to attend a District Convention of Odd Fellows of Wasco, Hood River and Sherman counties. A large delegation from each county was present and a rousing time was had.

Mrs. John Davenport returned home on Friday last from The Dalles, where she has been staying with her mother, Mrs. Geo. Krause, who was quite ill for several weeks. Mrs. Krause accompanied her daughter home and will remain here some time.

W. E. Huskey was brought home last Saturday from The Dalles, where he was operated on for appendicitis two weeks ago. He recovered nicely from the operation but is now suffering with rheumatism of the nerves and is still confined to his bed.

The Eastern Stock Co. gave two performances in Mosier, one last Friday night and one on Monday night, to very good houses considering the fact that many people were out of town on both occasions. Now that Mr. Stroup has enlarged the capacity of his hall, there will be a greater inducement for first class shows to make this town.

MID-SUMMER APPLE EXHIBIT

Nov. 16th, 1910.
Editor Bulletin,
Dear Sir:—
I noticed in an article in the Oregonian, some time ago, written by Mr. Lonsdale, who is a large fruit grower in Southern Oregon, where he advised the orchardists of Oregon to ascertain the particular varieties of fruit which were suited to their several districts. This was good advice and I have no doubt that it was followed by many people in the orchard business.

The foregoing led me to the thought that the best keeping and finest flavored apple will always command the market's highest price. As yet we have not demonstrated which district in Oregon is the best for the keeping quality of the apple.

True we have many apple shows in the apple season, at which all varieties show to advantage. This is hardly justice, however, to the intending investor who is always in evidence at these shows, but who cannot secure the definite evidence there as to the keeping qualities of the apples.

Hence, I would suggest a Mid-Summer Apple Exhibit. At such a show, the districts that produced the best keeping apples would take first place as such and thus insure the investor of the facts. Where this method might detract, in some measure, from some districts, the districts of merit that produce the best keepers would inherit their own.

We know there are districts that do produce apples which retain their flavor and keeping qualities until past mid-summer. So why not advocate a Mid-Summer Apple Exhibit? It would be a great feature for Oregon as an advertisement, particularly as Oregon apples are today one of the foremost products of our State and destined in the future to lead as such.

It appears to me that an apple show held in one or more of the large cities in mid-summer would create a lively interest, and I do not see any reason why this could not be done. We claim that we have the keeping qualities—why not demonstrate it in the season that would prove it and awaken the most interest for our most famous product—the Oregon Apple?

Yours truly,
J. K. MCGREGOR.

Business men should read and ponder on the following: When a business man begins to fail he begins to advertise. Now if advertising is good for a business man who is going out of business why is it not good for the one who expects to remain in business? All the big, successful concerns advertise. For instance, look at Montgomery, Ward & Company. They are advertising wherever they can get space. They are now reaching out after the country newspaper, and they are getting space, too. Last week in one of our country exchanges we noticed on a certain page two ads, one was a Montgomery, Ward & Company ad, and just above it was a quarter page from a local merchant and his ad was headed like this: "Going out of business". Why, to be sure, it is a natural result. If the country and village merchants do not wish to insure their business and incidentally help the local newspaper, the mail order houses will and are anxious to do so. Advertising is business insurance. Motto: Insure your business.—Ex.

School Notes

Dewey Woods has stopped school.
Grace Bailey was absent Tuesday.
Lloyd Fisher was absent Wednesday and Thursday.

James Carroll and Robert Ross have been absent all week.
Orvil and Paul Bailey and Bernice Fisher were absent Monday.

Henry Page was tardy Tuesday morning, the first tardiness this month.

On Dec. 10, in Stroup's Hall, the Mosier school will give a doll auction, other attractions included, and an oyster supper. The proceeds will be added to the entertainment fund. From this fund money has been taken for library books, organ, drum, report cards, exhibit paper and stair matting. We now want more books, a few good pictures, and material for supplementary work.

Next Wednesday will be Patrons' Day. All parents and patrons of the school are cordially invited to visit the class work in the rooms from 1 p. m. to 2 p. m. At two o'clock a joint program will be given, after which an opportunity will be given to see the display of pupils' work. The parents of all primary pupils are urgently requested to be present by the primary teacher; that they may see the booklets prepared by the primary pupils for this occasion, and get an idea of the work being done.

Mosier to the Front
Mosier may well be proud of one of her young citizens, who distinguished himself and reflected great credit on his instructors in the art of packing apples. At the apple packing contest at Spokane on Wednesday, W. L. Dresbach, of Mosier, packed four boxes in 26 minutes and 48 seconds. He scored 570 points out of 400, winning over 21 contestants. The judges said it was the best work they ever saw in a similar contest. Rah for Dresbach.

Bakery Changes Hands
Grant Cople this week sold his bakery to J. C. Minckler and son, who will continue the business at the old stand.
Mr. Cople and family left on Tuesday morning for Portland, where they will visit a few days. Grant has not yet decided where he will locate.
I. M. Thomas, a former Mosierite, now living at Alsea, Ore., arrived in town yesterday for a few days' visit.
Mrs. Henry Sensel and Miss Anna Bauer, of Portland, arrived in Mosier Wednesday. Mrs. Sensel will visit a week or two with the Bauer family, and Miss Bauer will reside on her homestead this winter.
