Mr. Busch, the German wrestler, who stopped off here Tuesday, would like to arrange for a match with John Dale, the local wrestler. Busch holds the middleweight championship of America and Germany, and will give him a handicap match, the match to come off any time he is ready. Address Carl Busch, The Dalles, Ore., General Delivery.

C. A. McCargar, of Portland, attended the business meeting and smoker of the Commercial Club at Stroup's Hall on Monday. He was accompanied to Mosier by Judge Maynard, who was looking over our district with a view to investing. Mr. Maynard is judge of the criminal court of Blue Fields, West Virginia.

J. N. Mosier killed two birds with one stone this week, and did a good job in both cases. He wanted to protect his water main, running down the center of Oregon street, from freezing, so he had the street plowed and scraped and rounded up in the center, as all good roads should be built. A heavy coating of gravel on this road would be a finishing touch.

G. R. Wood is out again after an attack of near-pneumonia.

Go to the Mosier Lumber Co. for your sash, doors, sreens etc.

C. A. Hage, of Portland, is visiting friends in town this week.

C. A. McCargar came up from Portland on Wednesday, accompanied by his brother and nephew J. K. and D. M. McCargar, of Toronto, Canada. They spent yesterday at Mr. McCargar's home near town.

The Hotel Oregon, formerly the Waucoma Hotel, in Hood River, changed hands on Dec. 1, says the Glacier. "E. A. Baker and C. P. Ross have purchased the furniture and leased the Hotel Oregon for five years, from Hall Bros. and E. C. Smith. The new firm took possession December 1. Hall Bros. and Smith have built a fine hotel business since they took charge, enlarging the building to a capacity of 97 rooms, which are being kept full most of the time, and they have put in a fine grill room. The new proprietors will make no change in the force for the present at least, and the business will be conducted in the same first class manner as heretofore. It will be strictly European plan, the dining room being run as a separate department from the rooms of the hotel. Both families of the new proprietors will take up their residence in the hotel and take personal charge of the management. Mr. Baker will be in charge of the office, while Mr. Ross will look after the dining room and details connected with that service.
