GUY H. WILSON.

ROOMS TO LET.—Apply at City Bakery.

John Burggraf is a business visitor in Portland this week.

Mrs. C. H. Dunsmore was a visitor at The Dalles on Tuesday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Chamberlain were Portland visitors over Sunday.

Ira Rowland was over from his Washington home this week visiting relatives.

V. C. Young and son George were business visitors in Hood River last Wednesday.

Mrs. J. H. Porter visited in Portland last week with Mrs. Hayslip, who has been seriously ill.

R. W. Simpson and C. M. Dickinson were down on Tuesday from their ranches south of town.

The Misses Amse and Mary Shogren, of Portland, came up Wednesday for a visit at their place on Mosier Creek.

Mrs. R. M. Ross and little daughter Betty returned on Monday from Portland, where they visited friends last week.

Ed. F. Reeves and his mother came up from Portland on Wednesday to spend a few days at the ranch east of town.

C. J. E. Carlson and wife and R. L. Sundborg and wife were visiting in town last Tuesday from their ranches southeast of town.

Dance in Stroup's Hall, Saturday evening, Jan. 21st. Music by Newman's orchestra. Tickets $1.00. A good time is assured all who attend.

H. W. Sellinger and wife returned yesterday to their home at Mt. Pleasant, Wash., after spending the past week with relatives in Mosier.

Mrs. M. J. Baldwin, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jack Burtchett, for some time, left on Saturday last for her home at Dayton, Wash.

Mrs. Herman Stoneman, a former resident of Mosier, who has been here visiting with Mr. and Mrs. C. J. E. Carlson, and other friends, left on Tuesday last for her home at The Dalles.

A. P. Bateham, D. P. Harvey, J. K. McGregor, Dr. Robinson, Geo. Chamberlain, D. D. Hail, N. P. Sturgess, C. H. Dunsmore, E. J. Middleswart, and H. C. Kibbee were visiting at the county seat last Monday.

G. R. Sellinger, of The Dalles, H. W. Sellinger and wife, of Mt. Pleasant, Wash., and B. L. Sellinger, of Trout Lake, Wash., are here visiting their mother, Mrs. Adeline Sellinger. They all visited at The Dalles on Monday last.

Read in January Sunset magazine, "LOS ANGELES—HOMELAND", superbly illustrated in four colors, "THE SPELL" by C. N. and A. M. Williamson. A thrilling California Romance. Now on sale—all news stands—15cts.

C. J. Littlepage went to The Dalles on Wednesday with his Ayredale dog, to consult a surgeon. The dog was shot last August in the leg and the bullet has never been extracted. Mr. Littlepage will have X rays applied to locate the trouble.

The dance given at Stroup's Hall last Saturday was one of the most pleasant and enjoyable affairs of the season. Many visitors were present from Hood River and all enjoyed themselves to the limit. Newman's orchestra, of Hood River, furnished excellent music. Another dance will be given on Jan. 21st, notice of which is given elsewhere in this issue.

Hard Times Social Success

The Hard Times Social, given last Tuesday night in Stroup's Hall, was a decided success in every way. A larger number of people were present than was anticipated, the majority of them coming dressed for the occasion. Judging from the rags and tatters in which they were arrayed, one would suppose that the entire community was poverty-struck for fair. The "poor but respectable" people were there, the "poor-and-don't-give-a-hoot" element was in evidence, and the "poor and proud" person was also present. A few of the citizens came in their "everyday" clothes and should have been, if they were not, fined. A. P. Bateham was fined six bits for not appearing at all, and he said he got off lucky.

Fisher's Hard Time Band furnished excellent music for the occasion and the boys were rigged out in uniforms that would draw tears to the eyes of a cigar store Indian. The prizes for the most dilapidated and most poverty-struck individuals were awarded, first, to Chas. Graham, and Mrs. A. Root; second, Clay Harvey and Mrs. Geo. Wood, and third, to Dr. Johnson and Miss Mattie Hudson. Several others received "honorable mention."

A number of articles that had been lying around the attics for years, and which the owners did not want to throw away, were auctioned off, bringing sums ranging from five to fifty cents. A feature of the evening was a "Hit the Nigger" contest—two throws for a nickel, the person plugging him receiving a Mosier apple as a prize. There were not many prizes given.

Refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, coffee and doughnuts, were sold for ten cents. The net proceeds of the evening were $25, which was very good, considering the Hard Times.

Plans for another entertainment are under discussion.

School Notes

Clyde Bailey has re-entered in the 7th A.

Robert Ross is absent on account of illness.

Coasting and snow balling are the popular sports this week.

Marie Mack is registered in Miss Brackett's room, and Gertrude Proctor in Mrs. Gove's room.

On account of the weather the following have been absent one or more sessions: Orville Bailey, Hilda and Hugh Ross, Ruby Proctor, Cecil Rowland, Bernice Fisher, Francis Mack, Mabel Evans, Jennie Carroll, Clara Carroll, and Marie Mack.

There is only one pupil enumerated in the district that is not complying with the Compulsory School Law. Legislators are now working on a bill that will provide for pupils not completing the eighth grade. All earnest educators realize the fact that the children need the school.

A Pleasant Evening

"We had a royal good time" is what those say who assembled at the home of Dan Snow and Mrs. McMines, to bid farewell to Miss Jainella, who departed for her home in Sacramento, Cal., yesterday.

Games and New England country dancing were enjoyed with vigor until the first appearance of the next day, when a dainty supper was served by the hostess. A new and catchy fad of etiquette at the table was the guests of being seated, stood in a circle around the table.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sturgess, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Morrison, Miss Irma Phillips, Miss Jainella, Mrs. McMines, W. Bailey, F. Forslund, P. Arthur, Don Littlepage, Dan Snow, J. Churchill, Master Lawrence Morrison, and Misses Dortha and Atha McMines.

A. Stewart is a business visitor in Hood River and The Dalles this morning.

Predict Great Future For Oregon

Many people living all over the state keep in close touch with all the financial and railroad news of the entire country and of their own state in particular, but many others, especially in small towns and country districts, who do not often see the big daily newspapers, depend upon others who do read them, or upon their weekly paper, for information. Much interest is manifested by all in the great activity in railroad building in Oregon during the past year, and in the further work outlined by the railroad kings during the coming year. The Chamber of Congress Bulletin says:

"James J. Hill, Howard Elliott, A. J. Earling, and Julius Kruttschnitt, three massive knights upon the railroad chessboards, have each predicted a magnificent future for Oregon. They represent the factors in railroad development which have done much already and will do more for the development of the state. James J. Hill is spending an amount in excess of $1,500,000 a month in railroad building in Oregon, and says he will not cease doing so until his extensions are completed. Mr. Hill has been quoted as a pessimist regarding other sections of the country, but he is an optimist for Oregon, prophesies it will have a great future and says he intends to play as strong a part in developing Oregon as he did in Washington.

"Howard Elliott, of the Northern Pacific, also speaks glowingly of Oregon's future, and has stripped off his coat to work vigorously in co-operation with the Oregon Development League.

"As is well known, the Milwaukee is rapidly extending its line to the Coast, and will make of Portland an important terminal. President Earling recently visited the city and showed his confidence in this city and state.

"Julius Kruttschnitt, speaking for the Harriman system, announced that the many construction projects his interest are engaged in are to be prosecuted vigorously which, of course means big pay rolls and continued prosperity for thousands of workmen."
