The stock of The Dalles Chronicle has been purchased by H. G. Miller, B. R. Litfin, and H. K. Hopkins, all three of whom have been connected with the paper for several years. This trio of up-to-date newspaper men will place the Chronicle where it belongs, among the foremost of the large-town dailies of the state.

Mrs. John Evans went Saturday to Hood River, and on Tuesday left with Mr. and Mrs. Macy for Phoenix, Arizona, where they hope to be benefited by the climate. Mr. Macy has been forced to give up his position at Hood River on account of his own and his family's health, and it is hoped that the change will prove beneficial.

Hood River will in the near future have a new depot to cost $30,000. Mosier congratulates Hood River. The present depot has served well enough for a long time, but Hood River has outgrown it and deserves a better one, and in the goodness of their hearts, the O. W. R. & N. Co. is going to give it. It has been Mosier's experience that she generally gets what she asks for—or perhaps as much as she deserves.

Death of J. R. Huskey

Died, on Sunday morning, January 29th, 1911, at The Dalles Hospital, Joseph Russell Huskey, in the 29th year of age. Interment was in Odd Fellows' Cemetery. The funeral services were held from the Christian Church, conducted by the Rev. A. C. Corbin, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, of which order deceased was a member. The Odd Fellows attended in force, marching from their hall to the church and from there to the cemetery, where the beautiful and impressive Odd Fellows burial service was rendered.

Almost the entire community and country side was in attendance to pay their respect to the dead Brother, neighbor and friend, proving the esteem in which he was held by all, especially by those who had known him from his childhood. Mr. Huskey had spent almost his entire life in Mosier, coming here when a small boy.

Mr. Huskey had spent the past two months in the valley with his brother George, and, with his brother and family, came back about two weeks ago. A short time after returning, he complained of not feeling well and on Tuesday of last week was troubled with a pain in the region of the appendix. He consulted Dr. Robinson, who decided that an operation was immediately necessary and he was taken to The Dalles Saturday night and operated on. It was found that the appendix was ruptured, an apple seed having worked into it. General peritonitis resulted, causing death at 8:30 Sunday morning.

The news of Mr. Huskey's death was a great surprise and shock to every one, many of his friends not even being cognizant of the fact that he was ill. The Bulletin joins with the community in expressions of sympathy to the bereaved mother and brothers.

In Memoriam

The following lines were written by a friend, on the death of J. R. Huskey:

There are many sad hearts in our village today,

For one we all loved has been taken away.

In the Springtime of Youth, with chances so bright—

The Angel came for him like a thief in the night.

The token he left us was goodness, not fame;

He was sterling and true, we all cherish his name.

The mystery for him is no longer concealed,

His kind, loving heart was ever revealed.

The loved and the loving will follow too soon;

He will lead them, and guide them, thru death and the tomb.

Where angels, not mortals, will meet on that shore,

He will welcome his loved ones, to part never more.

P. L. Arthur left yesterday for a business trip to Portland.

Mrs. Arthur Kuhn returned Saturday from a five weeks' trip.

C. E. Rhoades returned Wednesday morning from a two weeks' visit at his former home at Boise, Idaho.

Mrs. Gove went to Hood River Wednesday afternoon to attend the wedding of her brother, Ralph, to Miss Hubbard.

Miss Marie Shogren came up from Portland on Tuesday and is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Shogren.

Ladies Aid Meets

The Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Mosier Wednesday. After attending to the business of the day they were served with a dainty luncheon, which was enjoyed as usual by all. There was a fine attendance for such a stormy day. In fact the ladies here never stop for such little things as rain or snow. Their motto should be "Onward and Upward", for if there is anything to do they are always ready and willing.

And that reminds us to say: Don't forget to come up to the church next Wednesday at one o'clock, as we wish to tack some quilts, and wish to finish them as soon as possible, as they are needed, also the where-with-all that we get for doing the work. ONE OF US.

A force of men, residents of Mosier Creek and vicinity, is at work on the road between Gerald Wyss' ranch and the Kerslake place and are doing a good job. This road, when completed, will give an easy outlet for a good many families, some of whom now trade at the county seat. With this new road, however, the entire section tributary to Mosier creek will be within easy reach of Mosier. The residents along the creek are to be commended for their energy and as this road will benefit the entire community by bringing more trade to town, a little help on the outside would be appreciated.
