John Burggraf was a business visitor in Portland this week.

Work is being pushed rapidly on the Tum-A-Lum Lumber Co.'s warehouse.

J. N. Mosier was attending to business matters at the county seat yesterday.

F. R. Howard, the telephone man, was in town Wednesday from Hood River.

D. D. Hail left last Saturday for Salt Lake City. He will be absent a week or so.

Ed. F. Reeves came up from Portland Wednesday and attended to business matters.

Mosierites in Hood River on Tuesday last were Mrs. W. E. Chown, Park Sturgess and H. G. Kibbee.

About twenty-four Mosierites attended Elbert Hubbard's lecture at Hood River last Monday night, all expressing themselves as highly pleased.

It is reported that Dick Fisher intends helping San Francisco celebrate the opening of the Panama Canal in 1915 by finishing his livery barn.

Miss Roxie Carpenter left on Tuesday for Portland, where she will join a party of Eastern friends and with them will spend a month or so in California.

Messrs. Vogt, Williams and Flint, of White Salmon, spent several days in town this week. Mr. Williams is placing a valuable medical work in the homes here.

Mrs. E. A. Race and children arrived in Mosier Wednesday from Moro. Mr. Race and family are now housekeeping in the residence formerly occupied by E. N. Stroup.

C. E. Long, of Portland, was up over Sunday looking after his property interests. Mr. Long purchased the Culbertson place, southeast of town, last year, and he will move onto it this spring.

L. A. E. Clark, of Hood River, who is an expert orchardist, is engaged by Mrs. T. W. DeBussey in pruning her orchard, east of town. Mr. Clark is said to be one of the best pruners in this section.

Two additional salmon hatcheries on the Lower Columbia River are provided for in the bill passed this week by the United States Senate, appropriating $50,000 for the purpose. If this measure passes the House it will mean a great deal to the salmon industry of the Northwest, adding largely to the wealth taken annually from the Columbia and its tributaries.

It is more than probable that when the power plants at Hood River and The Dalles are connected up, Mosier will have an opportunity to light her streets and houses with electricity. The Hood River News says: "W. S. Grenier, vice president of the Hood River Light & Power Co., was at Hood River Wednesday looking over the affairs of the company which is inaugurating a system here for conducting the business end of the light and power industry that it has in operation elsewhere. In company with the local manager A. S. Hall, Mr. Grenier met a number of the city's business men and city officials and expressed himself as well pleased with the Hood River people and the prospects here for a much greater development. In a short interview with the News, Mr. Grenier states that the company will at all times conduct its affairs with an eye to the development of the city and valley and that it hopes to work with the community to this end. The primary business of the company he stated was to develop the electric power it now owns or acquires later to the highest state of efficiency, both in point of service to the public and in utility to the company. The company he said expected eventually to be able to supply power for any project that might need it, and inferred that although it was not in the business of constructing or operating public railways it would supply power for one if it was built as it had already done in several other cities. The first matter Mr. Grenier said that was being taken up was that of connecting the power plants at Hood River and The Dalles, and on which a reconnoitering party is now employed between the two places. This will be done to give both Hood River and The Dalles the benefit of auxiliary power in case of an emergency. The company's plant at The Dalles has recently been completed and is a large one. When the line is connected up Mosier will be furnished with light and power."

Hubbard's Lecture

A large audience greeted Elbert Hubbard, the sage of Aurora, at Heilbronner's Hall last Monday night and was delighted with his discourse on "The March of The Centuries." The lecture was full of interest and information, interspersed with quaint and modern facetiousness that kept his hearers in constant good humor—an ability which not every public speaker possesses. Mr. Hubbard gave his listeners something to think about, more, perhaps than many were able to digest immediately. Among other things he said that in order to be happy and contented one should have constant work, work that accomplishes good not only to one's self, but to the world at large, to those about one; that the world and humanity cannot remain at dead center, that "only change is permanent"—a seeming paradox.

Mr. Hubbard is a man of pleasing personality, a man with broad views and a profound knowledge of life and its conditions as affecting the many different classes of human beings, but his sympathies are apparently with the toiler, the sincere seeker for the truth, or as he would express it, the apostle of the simple life.

He expressed himself as greatly pleased with Hood River and the surrounding country and said that he intended returning later.

Hood River Orchard Land Co.

The Hood River Orchard Land Company is a new concern lately come to Mosier to develop and exploit the large holdings of Devlin & Firebaugh, located on what is known as Seven-Mile Hill. This tract consists of 2,400 acres which will be cleared and set to trees as rapidly as possible. To do this will require a large force of men and teams and between 75 and 100 men have been secured who will begin work at once. The district will be known as the Mosier View Orchard Tracts, and will be under the direction of A. T. Fuller, as foreman. J. L. Firebaugh will be the superintendent of property, and the nursery will be under the supervision of N. W. Hale, an experienced nurseryman of Hood River. About 30,000 apple trees, principally of the Spitzenberg and Newtown varieties, will be set out and the land will be cut up in parcels of five acres and multiples of five, to suit purchasers. These tracts will be properly cared for, that is, cultivated, pruned, sprayed, etc., for a period of five years, so that the purchaser at that time takes possession of an income-bearing property, a great advantage to those not experienced in this line.

In connection with this enterprise and yet as a separate proposition, the townsite of Ortley will be laid out and business and residence lots put on the market. Also a large mercantile store, called the Ortley Mercantile Co., will be established under the management of J. H. Reeves, who is well known in Mosier. This company will carry a large and complete stock of general merchandise.

This enterprise will stimulate the general business of Mosier District, bringing in many investors and homeseekers, and the entire district will benefit and prosper.
