Mrs. J. N. Mosier is spending a few weeks in Portland.

John Burggraf was a business visitor in Portland this week.

W. H. Kerlake was a business visitor at The Dalles on Wednesday.

Dr. D. Robinson was a business visitor in Portland last Saturday.

Mrs. Annie Hughes left last Sunday for Spokane, where she will reside.

Mrs. Wm. Johnson and children spent Sunday with relatives in The Dalles.

C. L. McKenna, of Portland, was a visitor in town between trains last Sunday.

Will Zolls, of Hood River, has been doing some masonry work for Dr. Robinson this week.

Mrs. J. E. Cole and three of the children spent Saturday and Sunday in Portland with relatives.

George Rorden went to The Dalles Monday and brought back a veterinary surgeon to attend to one of his horses.

C. A. Frey left on Monday for the Hot Springs, near La Grande where he hopes to get relief from his rheumatism.

Frank Ginger, the trouble man for the local telephone company, is installing a new line extending up to Grand View.

The dance at Stroup's Hall last Saturday night was a very enjoyable affair. These dances are given every two weeks by the Mosier Dancing Club.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. Akers, the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society was not held this week, but will be held at her home on Wednesday of next week.

J. G. Zolls, of Hood River and J. W. Semens, State Deputy of the Modern Woodmen, of Portland, spent a part of Wednesday in town. Mr. Semens was looking over some Mosier fruit lands.

$50.00 per month straight salary and expenses, to men with riz, to introduce our Poultry Remedies. Don't answer unless you mean business. Eureka Poultry Food Mfg Co. (Incorporated.) East St. Louis, Ill.

George Chamberlain reports the sale this week of ten acres of fruit land to J. E. Clark and ten acres to H. Birkner. The land is part of a tract owned by the East Hood Land Co., and located in the Grand View neighborhood.

Al Nelson, Glenn Allen and Fred Hill came down from The Dalles last Sunday and removed the body of Axel Johnson from the old Mosier cemetery to the Odd Fellows cemetery, placing it near the body of his brother, the late G. Wm. Johnson. The body was in a state of perfect preservation after seventeen years.

A movement is on foot backed by the Portland Chamber of Commerce and the commercial bodies of the towns in Central Oregon, to have the Warm Springs Indian Reservation opened to settlement. This reservation comprises 600,000 acres of land, of which over half has been surveyed and which contains 100,000 acres of first class tillable land. If the land is opened, it will afford prosperous homes for thousands of people.

Great Southern to Extend
The Oregonian says: Extension of the Great Southern Railroad from Dufur, its present terminus, to the west end of Juniper Flats, 40 miles south of Dufur, at an approximate expense of $1,000,000, will be made herefore the end of the present year. Surveys have been completed, plans have been made and bids for the construction work have been called for. Actual operations will start before the end of May.

The proposed extension is about 40 miles long and will tap one of the heaviest timbered belts in the state after passing through a territory that is rich in agricultural resources. The country in some places is very rugged, but engineers figure that the new piece of road can be built at an average expenditure of $25,000 per mile. A number of Portland engineering and construction firms who intend to submit bids for the work have had men on the ground to estimate the cost.

The new extension will take a southerly direction after leaving Dufur and will approach the Juff after leaving the Deschutes River, near Shearar's Bridge. From there it will operate west, passing through Friend, a small logging town, near which it enters Tygh Valley, already famed as a fertile region in which both timber and agricultural opportunities are abundant. The present survey follows the general course of Tygh Creek and provides for a terminus at Wanie, also a logging town, approximately 40 miles by this route from Dufur.

"We expect to have dirt flying on the new road in less than 60 days," said Julius Mosier, vice-president of the company, and one of the heaviest stock-holders, last night. "We have asked for bids on the work, and expect to let a contract before the end of the month."

The completion of this line will bring all the Dufur Valley and most of the Tygh Valley into direct connection with Portland, giving quick mail, freight and passenger service into that region. It will aid to a great degree in developing the agricultural possibilities of the country and in populating the fertile areas that have remained idle in past years.

Ed. Shephard was a Sunday visitor here from Hood River.

John Carroll is slowly recovering from an attack of appendicitis.

Miss Virginia Johnson, of Hood River, was the guest of Mosier friends Wednesday.

Chas. Stark and family visited last week with his sister, Mrs. Wm. Akers, returning home Sunday.

Ed. L. Howe's condition is reported as slightly improved. He is attended by Dr. Macrum, of Portland.

J. T. Davenport and wife will leave tomorrow for The Dalles, where they will remain for a couple of months.

V. C. Brock this week moved onto the Thomas ranch south of town. Mr. Brock has charge of the improvements being made there.

D. O. Hudson and family, of Kentucky, started Monday for Medford, after spending a week with relatives here. They were accompanied as far as Hood River by his brother, D. W. Hudson and daughter, Miss Mattie and Miss Rose Whitson.

HAIL'S ADDITION NOW ON THE MARKET

The lots in Hail's Addition to the Town of Mosier are selling rapidly and as the price will be advanced as soon as the first thirty lots are disposed of, it would be advisable to have your lot reserved at once, as a small payment will hold your selection for you.

As soon as the first thirty lots are sold the improvement work will begin and at that time the price of this property will be advanced from 25 per cent to 50 per cent.

At the present rate a sufficient number of lots will be sold within three weeks.

These lots are being sold on easy terms, and there can be no better investment, for a small or large amount of capital, than a good lot in Hail's Addition.

It is reported that a black frost in the foothill districts surrounding the Sacramento Valley has destroyed much of the fruit and early vegetables, and that from one-half to total loss will result.

Mrs. R. M. Ross Entertains

The home of Mrs. R. M. Ross was the scene of a social event last Saturday afternoon.

Shortly after the arrival of the guests they were led to the dining room where punch was served. The contest in aviculture or birdology proved very entertaining and instructive. The prize, a pretty handkerchief, was won by Mrs. J. K. McGregor. After musical selections from Chopin, Mozart and other noted composers, by Miss Bigelow and Mrs. Ross, a dainty lunch was served.

Those present were: guest of honor, Mrs. Essenden; Mmes. J. P. Ross, Root, Sturgess, Stewart, Johnson, Morrison, Chown, Gove, Kibbee, Seacore, McGregor, Bigelow, Robinson, Lelliot, and the Misses Bigelow and Bishop.

County Judge A. E. Lake was in town last Sunday, walking over from Rowena, inspecting the new Dalles-Mosier road.

Will Replant Oregon Forests

Corvallis, Ore., April 12—The solution of the problem of making the timber lands of the state continuously remunerative which also means the preservation of the water powers, seems at present to have been found by the Oregon Agricultural College. When the work in forestry was separated from that in botany and made a distinct department under Prof. George W. Peavy, and E. O. Siecke of the U. S. Government Forest Service was added to the faculty, the facilities for instruction and for practical work by the students were greatly increased, and some immensely valuable experimental work in silviculture has since been started on Mary's Peak and elsewhere.

A small forest nursery has been started on the campus at the south of the horticultural greenhouses, where the classes in silviculture have practical work in growing the young forest trees to solve reforestation problems. They are taught how to grow the seedlings, and how to transplant them successfully, with all the methods of reforestation in cut-over or burned off districts. The Austrian pine, Norway spruce, European larch, Scotch pine, white pine, Western red pine, Western red cedar, black locust and the Gerald pine, an important timber pine of India which is of considerable commercial value, all are being grown on this nursery plot.

On Mary's Peak valuable experimental work to determine the relative merit of fall and spring planting of various kinds of timber was begun last fall, and is being continued this spring. Experimental plots have been sown, both fall and spring, to Austrian pine, Norway spruce, European larch and Scotch pine. Careful record will be kept of the December and March plantings, through which it is hoped to obtain information which will prove which is preferable for the different varieties.

It is hoped that at some future time a bit of land which can be used as a forestry demonstration tract may be added to the campus.
