Commercial Club Meets

The commercial club met last Friday night in the Sturgess building to act on the resignation of Dr. N. Johnson as president. The resignation was accepted and D. D. Hall was elected to fill the unexpired term.

The subject of the exhibit booth was discussed at length and it was finally decided that the directors should consider the matter of changing the location and plan of the building.

The publicity fund proposition was also discussed and a committee appointed to get busy inducing the subscribers to the fund who are in arrears to "dig up," so that the club may carry out its plans for a publicity campaign.

Altho the call for the meeting was general and sufficiently advertised, there were only about 16 members present. One new member, Mr. Thurston, was enrolled.

In connection with the action of the publicity fund committee, and in their behalf, we will say that it is absolutely necessary for every person who has made financial promises to the club, to redeem such promises, if the club is to accomplish anything. Non-members (of which there should be none in the entire district) and some members, are continually complaining that the club is doing nothing for the town and country. How can it, when some of the members will not "come thru" and those who should be members hang back for one reason or another, hoping, and willing, perhaps, to reap benefit from other people's efforts and money, without themselves sacrificing either? This is no way for a community to do whose interests are mutual and which are bound to suffer in proportion to the indifference felt. There should be no drones in the hive if we expect to accomplish anything. We must all work together for the common good. Don't pull back and "sull," but push.

According to a report of its secretary, the Mosier Valley Commercial Club is known and recognized all over the world and every citizen of Mosier District should render earnest assistance and intelligent effort in maintaining the club and advancing individual and community interests.

A Sorry Joke

Practical jokes are all right and are often enjoyed as much by the "jokee" as the joker, where no harm is done to person or property. But any one who would perpetrate a joke that causes financial loss, even though unintentionally, is no better than a criminal and should be dealt with accordingly if apprehended.

It is supposed that such a joke was played on Chas. Davenport Monday night when some one, in a spirit of fun or with malicious intent, or for some unknown reason, entered the stable where Mr. Davenport kept a span of valuable mares and slipped the halters from their heads. Later both animals escaped from the stable and wandered onto the railroad track between the depot and Mosier Creek bridge, just as the fast mail pulled thru. Instead of leaving the track the horses followed it and managed to cross the bridge without falling and breaking their legs. Still keeping between the rails after crossing the bridge, the horses were overtaken at the cattle guards a little farther east, where one of them was struck by the pilot and killed, the other escaping with a few bruises.

At the time of the accident two hoboes were riding on the pilot, narrowly escaping injury.

This grim "joke," if it was meant for a joke, no doubt terminated in a different manner from what was intended, but it proves how idiotic some "smart" fools are in having their fun.

OUR PORTLAND LETTER

Portland, Or., May 2 (Special)--Central Oregon cities will send delegates to Prineville June 30 and July 1 to form the Central Oregon Development League. The Prineville Commercial Club is issuing invitations to cities of the interior to be represented there and the Oregon Development League is aiding the movement as far as possible.

"The value of the smaller development league," said Secretary C. C. Chapman, of the Oregon Development League, "is that each operates in its own section and ever so much more good will result from Central Oregon being organized as a unit. A separate league will give that territory an entity that never would be received by the individual communities. The work of the central organization will supplement that done by each unit on its own behalf."

Cities in Crook, Wheeler, Grant, Harney and the north half of Lake and Klamath counties will be eligible to membership in the proposed league. Central Oregon is taking an interest in the matter and it is expected there will be a large attendance at the Prineville meeting.

Lebanon will hold a strawberry festival for three days beginning June 1. The "Garden City" as Lebanon is known, will also have a rose show and a horse race and stock exhibition in connection with the carnival.

Dr. Woodrow Wilson, governor of New Jersey, will be entertained by the Portland Commercial Club when he visits Portland May 18 and 19. He will be the guest at a banquet in his honor at the Club on the night of May 18 and he will address a public meeting at the Masonic Temple. Rains of the past week have been hailed with delight by all sections of the state. Eastern Oregon has welcomed the showers for they were needed to supply moisture to the grain fields. All other sections report that the rainfall makes crop prospects particularly bright.

A sane Fourth of July is promised for Portland. It is now the intention to make a quiet one, without the usual noisy features that are usually so prominent in the observance of Independence Day. People of the city for the most part plan to spend the fourth in the country and to enjoy picnics and outings in the fields and woods within reach of Portland.

To aid the development of the Northwest states, from Minnesota to the coast, delegates from the section interested met during the past week at Helena, Montana, and took two steps to form the Northwest Development League. It will exploit the states of Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, North and South Dakota, Minnesota and the territory of Alaska. Meetings will be held each June and December, to be known as the Northwest Development League Congress. The December meeting will be held in Minnesota, in connection with a big land show. The 1912 congress will meet in Seattle.

Cholera and Immigration

During the year 1910, cholera attacked 214,000 persons in Russia, with a mortality of 46 per cent, and claimed 5,000 victims in Turkey. There was an epidemic of cholera in Naples, and four cases were reported from Marseilles. In general the disease continued to advance westward, and there is no hope that it will be extinguished in all of the places where it existed at the beginning of the present winter. In a communication to the Paris Academy of Medicine, Drs. Chauteruesse and Borel cite several facts which prove that cholera can be carried in latent form and demonstrate the important part played by immigration in the propagation of the disease. Germs of cholera have been found in persons 30 days after their departure from infected district. Scientific American.

A MAN WITH MONEY, no matter what amount he has, regards a bank, first, as a place where his funds will be properly taken care of, and, second, as a medium through which to handle all his transactions without the necessity of using cash.

And third, he expects his banker to be in a position to advise him in financial matters of importance, to be able to secure for him information which he would, in some cases, be unable to secure for himself, and sometimes to aid in financing deals which he would be unable to handle alone.

THE MOSIER VALLEY BANK is meeting these requirements and is willing to go any length, consistent with good business methods, to help you succeed. If you haven't an account with us then open one and we will verify these statements.

A New Potato The Scientific American says: During the past two or three years remarkable progress has, it is said, been made in the cultivation of a new species of potato in the department of Vienne in France.

This potato originated in Uruguay, and is called the Salanum Commersoni, in its new environment in France, and by reason of its careful cultivation and selection, it has developed several forms that promise to become fixed, and to possess much value as additions to the food resources of Europe.

Among these forms, all springing from one parent species, there are a yellow variety, a white variety, and a variety not characterized by color, all of which possess distinctive shapes and qualities. A fact that especially interests botanists and cultivators is that these varieties have evidently not reached their final settled forms, and the experiments in Vinne are closely watched because it is thought that they will throw light upon the unsettled question of the general origin of the potato.

Notice of Services Bishop Paddock, in charge of the Episcopal diocese in Eastern Oregon, will hold services at the Baptist Church in Mosier next Sunday morning, May 14th, at 11 o'clock. It is seldom that Bishop Paddock can reach Mosier and it is hoped that weather conditions may permit a larger attendance on that day, as all are cordially invited.

Bishop Paddock is enabled to be with us on Sunday through the courtesy of Rev. W. A. Stark, whose regular Sunday it is to preach, but who kindly offered the pulpit to the Bishop.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet with Mrs. V. C. Young on Wednesday next, May 17th.

Any person is at liberty to protest this purchase before entry, or initiate a contest at any time before patent issues, by filing a corroborated affidavit in this office, alleging facts which would defeat the entry. C. W. MOORE, Register.

Tally One for Mosier! "Rats!" "Fergit it!" "Come off!" "Oh, Pickles!" "Gosh!" "Tell that to the marines!" and a whole lot more, were the expressive ejaculations hurled at the Mosier ball boys last Sunday evening on their return from Lyle, where they crossed bats with the team from that town.

The occasion for these expressions of incredulity was the report brought back from the battleground that Mosier had covered herself with glory by winning from Lyle in a hard fought game of eight and a half innings by a score of 6 to 1. In view of the fact that the home team has been playing "Waterloo" games ever since they started out as a club, it is perhaps not strange that they were accused of turning the ball club into an Ananias Club and it required much eloquence and forceful argument to convince the stay-at-homes that the report was correct and that our boys could play ball.

The game was a close one up to the eighth inning, both teams playing strong ball. At this time the score stood 2 to 0 in favor of Mosier. In this inning Henry Olsen, "Our Ole," sent a three-bagger into the distance and brought home three men. In the ninth inning the Lyle team went to pieces, discouraged, they claimed, by the decisions of their own umpire, and threw up the sponge, refusing to play the last half.

Pitcher Clay Harvey, who was in the box the entire game, won fame, striking out thirteen men. He had good support at all the stations, but everybody says that Clay played the game.

BIG JOB FOR BLACKSMITH The village blacksmith, we understand, has an order for nine crowns of glory in the shape of iron bands--to keep nine heads from swelling and "bustin'". Quite a number of enthusiastic Mosier fans accompanied the team to act as pall-bearers and mourners on the homeward trip, but for once their services were not required.

Construction work on the irrigation system of the Willamette Valley Irrigated Land Co., at West Stayton, is progressing rapidly, the weather having been unusually favorable for outdoor work. From 75 to 80 men and 30 to 35 teams have been at work daily and it is expected that water will be turned into the canal this month.
