Royal Neighbors Entertain

The Royal Neighbors of America Camp No. 3983 gave a pleasant surprise at their next meeting place, May 17th, in honor of Mrs. Stroup, who will leave Mosier in the near future. Although the weather was rainy, about 25 were brave enough to face the storm.

The evening was spent in playing games. Ice cream and cake was served by the Neighbors and all departed about midnight, declaring they had spent an enjoyable evening.

County Sunday School Convention

The sixth annual convention of the Wasco County Sunday School Association was held at Dufur last week. Great interest and enthusiasm was manifested at all the sessions. Subjects of great importance to the Sunday School were discussed by some of the live and strong workers of the county. Rev. Chas. Phipps, General Secretary and field Worker of the association, gave three stirring addresses which were full of information, inspiration and instruction. Mr. Phipps has such a pleasant and happy way of delivery that he holds the attention of his audience and leaves the impression of the need of more earnest, energetic and enthusiastic work along all lines of Sunday school advancement. The people of Dufur royally entertained all the visiting delegates. There were sixty-four delegates registered, most of the schools in the county being represented, Mosier having nine delegates in attendance.

Dr. David Robinson was elected president of the county association and Dr. Brown, of Dufur, secretary and treasurer. The next convention will be held in Mosier May, 1912.

Returns to Mosier

W. R. Stokes, who left Mosier about a year ago for Estacada, returned on Wednesday and will make this his home. His family is expected to join him here today and they will move out to the homestead.

A Hymn of Nature

When I survey great Nature's plan,
Transcendent to the race of man;
The beautiful lines of mountains grand,
A million changes in this land,
All colors blending radiant bright,
A shifting scene from morn to night,
The changing mists they shade
From view great beauties
O't not meant for you,
But still we know by what we see,
God lives in light which keepeth thee.
The mind that dwells on scenes
So fair,
No crime nor evil enters there.
The white, the green, the sky so blue,
The changing colors always new,
Nor artist brush, no genius hand
Can trace such colors half so grand.
We live our lives from day to day,
Our changing moods like colors play.
When Nature smiles with colors rare,
The soul of man is thus laid bare.
Then in his mind the silent prayer
Of praise to Him who dwelleth there.

The Mosier ball team will play the second team of The Dalles on the local diamond next Sunday. The boys are confident of winning. Here's hoping.

Ira Rowland was over on Wednesday from his Washington ranch. Ira is now packing and shipping his strawberries. He stated that his first crates brought him between $14 and $15 each.

Dick Evans returned Wednesday from Portland, where he underwent an operation on his head some weeks ago. He is wonderfully improved, tho not entirely recovered. He came as far as Hood River on the noon train, which does not stop at Mosier, and walked over.

Mrs. W. W. Winegar and her daughter, Miss Annie H. Leonard, of Redlands, Cal., left on Monday for Boston, Mass., where they will spend the summer. They will visit friends in several cities enroute.

Paul C. Bates and family, of Portland, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McCargar. Mr. Bates is one of the partners with Mr. McCargar in the real estate and insurance firm of McCargar, Bates & Lively.

J. M. Leiter came up from Portland on Tuesday and brought a number of surveyors with him. While Mr. Leiter was non-committal as to his object, there is well-founded rumor that he intends building that much-talked-about railroad up Mosier creek.

SCHOOL CLOSURES

The closing exercises of the Mosier Public School were held last Monday night in Stroup's Hall, which was filled to its capacity with fond papas and mammas, fathers and mothers, uncles and aunts and friends, and the public generally, to listen to a most interesting program, which was carried out as previously advertised.

The Mosier Band opened the evening's entertainment with three well rendered selections. Let us say, in passing, that the Band boys are "making good," despite the difficulties under which they have labored, occasioned by so many changes in the personnel. Their efforts should be substantially appreciated by the citizens—but of this we will have more to say at another time.

The comment on the program in its entirety would take too much time and space and would be but telling what all those present already know, as they could see and hear for themselves; but we wish to mention, as of especial merit, in our mind, the rendition of several numbers, among them being the song "Anchored," sung by Mr. Leliott; Mozart's Sonata IV, by Miss Rose Whitson; Mrs. Porter's solo, "Sing me to sleep," and Robert Secaree's violin solo, which "brought down the house," and the "Evening Song to The Virgin," by Misses Booth and Whitson.

Rev. D. V. Poling delivered the lecture, his theme being "The end of Life—Life." Mr. Poling was at his best and handled his subject in a masterly and convincing manner, as evidenced by the close attention paid by the audience.

Superintendent J. T. Neff presented the diplomas to the graduates, prefacing his remarks by highly complimenting the teachers and pupils on the thoroughness and efficiency of their work, proving by figures that this school is second to but one other in the county. Mr. Neff said that out of 48 pupils in the county who took examination, but 18 passed successfully, and of those 18, seven were from Mosier, a record of which the teachers, the Board of Directors, the pupils and the patrons generally should be proud, showing conscientious work on the part of both teachers and pupils.

The graduates who received diplomas were: Tenth Grade, Orren E. Osburn, James Leo Higley, Eighth Grade, Grace Higley, Leodica Haacke, Stark Akers, Robert Secaree, Ray Bailey, Gertrude Proctor, Edwin Sturgess.
