MOSIER FRUIT GROWERS' ASS'N.

School Closed.

School was successfully brought to a close in District No. 76, known as Greenwood School, on Friday, June 9, by Miss Shelton, the teacher, who planned a picnic for her pupils, which was held at "Ring Tree Camp" near Indian Creek, ten miles from Mosier.
The sheep herders, in former days, girdling a few trees to show where their camp was.

"Ring Tree" is the most ideal place imaginable for picnicking, it being especially prepared by Nature. The large, beautiful forest, the sweet, fragrant flowers, the tall and stately white fir and yellow pine. And standing upon emerald carpet of green grass studded with the beautiful wild flowers, which are voices of the angels speaking in angelic music to the world, one is filled with their beauty and can imagine they are flying away, onward and upward to God's palace, to the strains of exquisite music.

The parents and children began to gather at the grounds about 10 a. m., and after many hearty greetings and cordial welcomings, the ladies prepared a spread at high noon that was fit for a king. And the ladies of Greenwood certainly know how to do it. When all were comfortably seated at the table of white linen carefully and artistically laid upon the ground (that being close to Mother Earth), the number was found to be forty, a splendid representation. In fact, to think of so many people gathering at a place so far removed to hold a picnic, and all living in the hills, valleys and mountains such as are in Oregon, is a surprise. But when the homes of the people are seen, it is no wonder they are living in the hills, for they are all doing well and seem prosperous and well satisfied. In fact, they are well off, for all have nice homes and they are away from the humdrum life of the city, from all strife and confusion, and are where they can live close to Nature and enjoy her beauties.
They have perfect peace, quietude and happiness.

The dinner was greatly enjoyed by all, and the ladies who so patiently prepared all the dainties should receive many thanks from every one who was present, for they are the ones to whom thanks belong, for it is no easy task or light work to roast over the piping hot stove baking cakes and pies and many other things that can not be prepared otherwise. To say that all were well pleased and enjoyed themselves is putting it mildly, for there was not enough left after the repast was over to satisfy the birds. In fact, the games and other forms of amusement were greatly slighted, and it was with great effort that they got home. All were unanimous in favor of remembering the picnic that is sure to come at the close of the Fall term, for they had a very enjoyable and much appreciated time and all will sure come again.

A VISITOR.

We wish to thank those few who take the trouble to send in by mail, or otherwise, items of local interest which might otherwise escape us. While a newspaper man is supposed to know and hear every thing that goes on in the neighborhood, there are often news items that get by him, and unless the people put him wise they fail to appear in the local columns. Therefore, we ask our readers to send in news from their neighborhoods and again thank those who do it so.
