A Horticultural Union

The success of any community depends upon the unity of spirit of the individuals making up the community. For every service done for the district at large the server is himself repaid two fold. The things that tend to bring about a unity of interests or pleasure in any community should have the substantial support of every member of it. Concentration is valuable for a neighborhood as for an individual. In the development of a horticultural community this concentration of interest has brought about a system of education for the individual member and publicity for the locality.

Mosier is badly in need of a close horticultural union to bind the towns people and the orchardists into a united federation of combined interest. The town is too small to support a commercial club without the assistance of the fruit growers. The fruit growers are not interested in a strictly commercial organization. The time is therefore ripe for a new club or union to be broad enough in its scope to interest the whole district. This new federation should combine business with pleasure and should hold its meetings upon Saturday afternoon to enable every one to attend. There are three things which every Mosierite should be interested in: Horticulture, An Apple Fair and A Publicity Campaign. Each of these interests should be in charge of a separate board.

The Horticultural Board to have charge of the horticultural meetings, virtually taking over their Horticultural Society. The orchardists who tell of their methods at these meetings are really teachers, in a way, in a practical horticultural course. For if deep plowing, careful spraying is proven one man to have doubled his crop, the next spring finds the whole neighborhood plowing deeper, spraying oftener and so the standard of crops creeps up with the successive years. The standard of quality rises with the quantity and without realizing it the apple growers have begun a course in science.

The Apple Fair Board should see to establishing an annual apple fair to be held at a convenient time for picking season. Have each man give one dollar for the prize fund to be won back with compound interest if his apples or onions are larger than his neighbors. The ladies could compete for prizes in fancy work, jellies, cakes etc, their exhibit to be held in some convenient room, while that of the men be held upon the main street of the town.

The Publicity Board, to be composed of the community's ablest heads, should be put in charge of "The Greater Mosier Campaign". Advertising we all acknowledge is essential. We must get before the public eye and we must do it in a new and original way. Our products must determine the method of proclaiming the message. We need appropriate and fit advertising. It is not sufficient to merely catch the eye. We must appeal to intelligence, the common sense, the good judgment of those whom we wish to reach. A few of our strong qualities technically put in vigorous and clear style will carry more weight and conviction than a lot of extravagant superlatives, and appeal to a better class of people.

Thus with these three community interests taken care of within a single organization we can have a close union to which it would behoove every one to join, the business man as well as the orchardists. The new federation would be a consolidation of the Commercial Club and the Horticultural Society and be a union to which the whole community could point with a finger of pride.

OUR PORTLAND LETTER

Portland, Or., Sept. 13. (Special) A banker at Bend, believing the hog is a great source of wealth, has arranged for the purchase, through the Portland Union Stockyards Co., of two or three cars of sows of good blood in the Middle West and will sell them to the farmers around Bend, taking their notes for them for one year. This shows the confidence the bankers have in the hog as a mortgage litter and the plan promises to aid very materially in building up a greater hog industry in the interior.

The annual convention of the Oregon Wool Growers' Association will be held in Baker November 14 and 15. Problems that confront the woolmen will be taken up and discussed and the tariff will be one of the leading features of general interest.

A special section of the Legislature to enact good roads legislation has been recommended by Governor West's commission, which has just met and outlined several bills. These provide for state aid, a state highway commissioner, and for enabling counties to avail themselves of the bonding act for road purposes passed at the last general election. The commissioners, who represent all parts of the state, are hopeful that much will be accomplished in the good roads movement by the enactment of these measures.

October 1 has been set finally as the date for the opening of the new Southern Pacific line to Tillamook and adjoining sections of the coast country. A portion of the new road is already in operation but on that date trains will be run from one end of the line to the other, and regular service will be established.

Milo Maize is found to be an excellent substitute for corn on the dry lands of Central Oregon. Experiments made with it the past season, prove it will make good stock plant for the semi-arid districts. Because of its successful introduction into the interior, many farmers will probably plant large tracts to this crop next year, feeding it to the cattle and hogs.

Teachers and others interested in the public work throughout the Northwest will want to attend the Playground and Recreation Institute to be held at Seattle, October 17, 18 and 19, the first gathering of this kind ever held in the Pacific Northwest. Officers of the Playground Association of America and well known workers will attend. Following this gathering will be a three-day session of the Northwestern Conference of Charities and Corrections. October 22 and 23 will be spent in Portland, where conferences on the local playground work will be held.

The Second annual Clarke County Fair, to be held in Vancouver, Wash., October 4, 5, 6, and 7, will be of interest to Oregonians and October 7 has been fixed as Portland Day. Splendid exhibits of products of Southwest Washington will be displayed and fine stock shown. Great benefits to the Pacific Northwest will follow the opening of the Panama Canal, according to Bernard N. Baker, retired steamship owner, who is visiting in Portland. Reductions of one-third and one-half in freight rates are predicted on shipments to and from the Atlantic Coast cities.

CLUB MEETING SUCCESS

Some people have long known that it is useless, foolish and selfish to live unto themselves; many are beginning to realize it, and all who attended the meeting of the Commercial Club last Monday night, especially those who came from a distance, felt well repaid for the effort, and undoubtedly they now feel drawn closer together in the bonds of neighborhood friendship as well as

To Our Subscribers

We have here a plan to stimulate our circulation—to induce those of our subscribers who are in arrears (we are proud to say they are few) and those who will pay in advance in order to get the benefit of this offer, and those who are not on our subscription list to have their names placed there. We are not offering you something for nothing—can't afford it. But you DO get something, and a very handsome, useful something, with every cash subscription, at a third what it would cost you at any store. Here is the idea:

We have secured a limited supply of crockery from the famous pottery works of Seabring, Ohio. This consists of Berry Sets, Salad Sets, Fruit Sets, Lemonade Sets, Fish and Game Sets. These sets retail at from $2.50 to $4.00 each. The subscription price of the BULLETIN is $1.50 per year. For $2.75 we give you the paper and any one of these sets. In other words, you get a set for $1.25 that would cost you $3.00 on an average in any store. You don't have to wait until you save coupons representing $50 or $75 worth of trade, but can carry the article home with you by dropping in and paying your subscription to the paper and the additional small sum of $1.25. These sets are handsome enough for any table and will make your wife, mother, sister, or the other fellow's sister, happy in the possession of one. Call at the BULLETIN office and examine them.

community interests. Lamb's Hall was comfortably well filled with people from all over the district. Ortleby was represented by W. A. Firebaugh and wife, L. D. Firebaugh and wife, Roy Firebaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Agidius, old residents of the district. Fair View and Grand View neighborhoods were represented by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cummings and H. E. Birkner, and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Littlepage. Mark Mayer and Mr. and Mrs. Weller were in from Mayerdale and nearly every section in Mosier was represented.

After the business of the evening was transacted a number of interesting speeches were made, principal among them that of Rev. J. R. Hargreaves, who was in attendance from Hood River. Mr. Hargreaves urged upon his hearers the importance of getting better acquainted with their neighbors and making friends of them. It is a fact, as he said, that many people are disgusted with a new town or district into which they move—a district which may have more advantages and opportunities than the one they have left, but which is sadly lacking in that one thing which makes a place worth living in—sociality, genial companionship and interest in the general and individual welfare. The reverend gentleman's remarks were all to the point and gave his hearers food for thought.

At the close of the meeting refreshments—a "bachelor's lunch," were served, and a general good time was had until a late hour. These "good times" meetings of the club will be held every month this winter.

Those Oregon Editors who are attending the annual meeting of the State Editorial Association, held in Portland yesterday, today and tomorrow, are having the time of their lives. We acknowledge receipt of program and invitation, but can't go because, like Miss Flora McFlimsy, and most country pen pushers, we've "nothing to wear." Besides, we're the lock, stock, barrel, hammer and trigger of this little squirrel run, and we can't tote the darned thing with us.

Dr. Sowerby Opens Sanitarium

A new institution for the treatment of diseases will shortly be opened in Hood River by Dr. Sowerby, the Chiropractic doctor, who has leased the Henderson house and will fit it up with all the conveniences of a modern sanitarium.

The large number of patients which Dr. Sowerby is now treating, it is stated, make it necessary for him to get much larger and more convenient quarters, and he has taken the Henderson house to provide for increasing business.

The upper floor will be fitted up with a special department for ladies, which will be placed in charge of a first class lady masseur, and who will direct the bathes and their attendance. On the lower floor will be situated the office, and other necessary rooms in connection with the establishment.

The institution will be the only one of its kind between Portland and Eastern Oregon, and it is expected to open in a week or ten days. Dr. Sowerby will give his personal attention to all patients, who enter this sanitarium for treatment.

Dr. Sowerby has made arrangements to be in Mosier three or four evenings each week, and if necessary will make regular trips every evening. He calls particular attention to his successful treatment of rheumatism and stomach troubles and invites any one with these complaints to consult him at The Pines Hotel next Monday night, between 7 and 10 o'clock.
