OUR PORTLAND LETTER

Portland, Ore., Dec. 19, (Special) A really great apple show, to be a collection of exhibits from throughout the West, is being planned as an annual event at Portland. Committees are at work on the project and it is expected plans will be perfected within a short time.

The importance of the fruit industry to the state is the basic idea of the show. It is to encourage apple growing and horticulture generally that Portland business men and the commercial interests have joined in talking the subject over to determine if sufficient support can be had for an annual exhibition. It is believed that such an annual display will not only do much to encourage the apple grower already here but will attract many others to this state.

Dates for Portland's next annual Rose Festival have been fixed for the week of June 10-15. Plans for the event have been taken up and the management will prepare a fiesta on a bigger scale than ever before. Next year's Festival will be advertised very widely.

Portland will be called upon to entertain 60,000 visitors at the time of the Elk's convention next July, it is estimated. Advances received from several hundred lodges throughout the country indicate that the railroads will be required to provide parking space for fully 1,000 Pullman sleepers during that week. More than 100 special trains are already being arranged to bring delegates and visitors.

Western Governors will be given a banquet by Progressive Business Men's Club of Portland at the Commercial Club on the night of December 25. They will have returned from the trip through the East on board the Governors' Special and are expected to give an account of this trip that opened the eyes of the East to the resources and possibilities of the West.

Thousands of Christmas trees have been sent south from various points in this state to California and this movement will go on until Christmas. The little fir trees that are so common here are much appreciated by the people of the Bear state.

Native black marble in great quantities has been discovered in Wallawa County. This promises to be a valuable asset of that section of the state. Present supplies of black marble come from Belgium and Alaska and the new find will undoubtedly supplant the product of these two places, since freight is such a big item in the handling of this heavy stone.

A gigantic water system to supply Willamette Valley cities from Clear Lake, in the Cascade Mountains, has been outlined to the State Board of Health. If the scheme is adopted, the water will be brought from the lake, almost at the summit of the Cascades, and distributed to the Valley towns from Springfield to Salem. A committee will investigate the proposition.

To Distribute Reclamation Funds.

Portland, Or., Dec. 19 (Special) A state-wide campaign will be started by commercial organization of Oregon to get recognition from the Government to which the state is entitled in the distribution of reclamation funds. This movement will be along the lines adopted by the Pendleton Commercial Association at its recent meeting in indorsing the west extension of the Umatilla Project.

C. C. Chapman, Secretary of the Oregon Development League, who attended the Pendleton meeting, believes the campaign will succeed. He finds the prospects exceedingly favorable for the President to make the allotment to Oregon for the Umatilla Project, now that the people of Pendleton and the surrounding country have gone on record favoring the extension.

"There was much opposition at the Pendleton meeting," said Secretary Chapman, "based on fears that it would work a hardship on settlers and land-owners of Umatilla County. In spite of this opposition, the proposition was indorsed on its merits and steps will be taken to secure recognition of claims of settlers who may feel themselves damaged. In the face of this feeling of private interests, Pendleton business men indorsed the extension, believing it would be of benefit to Oregon.

"The extension will open up 60,000 acres, sustaining a population of from 20,000 to 50,000 people. The land will be adapted to diversified farming, intensive agriculture and fruit growing.

"Commercial organizations of the state will adopt resolutions calling for Oregon's share of reclamation funds and now is the time for everyone to write to the President asking for a fair apportionment. Six other states have had 38 per cent of their contributions from the sale of lands returned to them for reclamation work, while Oregon has had but 18 per cent. I cannot but think that a popular demand upon the President will be of great influence in securing his favorable consideration."

Supposing a newspaper man every time he hears one criticize him or his paper in public should retaliate by holding up to the public gaze the faults and shortcomings of said fault finder—what would be the result? The editor may not know it all but he does not live in a community long with knowing a good deal more than he publishes. A newspaper man has a legal right to publish whatever an individual has a legal right to circulate orally. In other words an individual has no more right to make criticisms and accusations on the streets than the newspaper has through its columns. But the average man does not seem to think so for he will froth at the mouth and criticize and denounce the editor and his newspaper up one side of the street and down the other and then have a yearning desire to clean out the printing office if the paper he has been denouncing publishes a two line about him declaring he is but one degree removed from a saint.—Ex.

An exchange very sensibly points out that there are too many people trying to "hand each other something;" too many trying to "get even." We mean this for local application. It is a spirit that is miserable. It grows on a person like fungus on vegetation. It is contagious and gets whole districts that way. Rise above it. The get-together movement is a good one—not for other localities, but right here. Need not the one who is maliciously trying to turn you against your neighbor. There is a difference between honest competition and warfare. Let's quit "getting even," with the other fellow—let's build, not tear down.

The "point of view" which different people take of any one thing is always interesting and amusing. And this leads us to remark that you can't please all people all the time, whether you are running a hotel, newspaper, store, barber shop, Sunday school or a show. The Big 4 Comedy Co., which appeared here last week, was "good," "bum," "excellent," "a fake," etc., according to the viewpoint, or the mental or physical condition of the audience. Most of those who attended, however, agree that the playing on the musical instruments was "all to the good," and that the girl violinist was a "peach."

Parke Sturgess left this morning to spend the Holidays with friends in Portland.

Mrs. P. S. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dunsmore, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Marsh, Messrs. J. N. Mosier, Jas. Cherry and Chas. Cherry were visitors at The Dalles yesterday.

Three "gentlemen tourists," without visible means of support, applied to the town marshal last Saturday night for beds in the city bastille. As Mosier has not become sufficiently civilized yet to need a "cooler," and as the marshal was too hard hearted to take the hoboes home with him and turn them loose in guest chambers, they were left to the tender mercies of a cold, cruel world. This is the first instance in Mosier when a hobo has asked to be locked up in order to get a warm bed to sleep on.

Dear Christmas.

With clouds so grey and fleeting fast,
The cold, sharp winds of Winter's blast,
Like points of steel the stars look down,
We wait to welcome Winter's crown.
Nor sorry we, when flakes do fall,
It means a change and rest for all.
With jingling bells and frost bit air
We feel like children free from care.
A crackling fire blazing bright,
We welcome thee, thou Winter's night.

And tidings come with gifts and cheer—
Dear Christmas is now drawing near
When every heart is filled with joy;
Just what this means, ask girl or boy.
No green grass shows, nor flowers rare,
Nor fragrance sweet pervades the air;
Nor sweet birds sing, for they have gone
To warmer climes to sing their song.
We love the summer, spring and fall,
But now, dear Winter, best of all,
For love and cheer just fill the air;
All mankind knows 'tis his to share.
No sleep for tots, they dose and rise,
Expecting Santa from the skies.
And older heads, with vision dim,
Rejoicing at the thought of him.
The morning of dear Christmas day
Made millions love, and give and pray.
God bless us all upon this morn
When Christ our King, like man, was born.
Let cheer and love and joy so reign,
And thus we feel our youth again.
