Don't forget the Home Dance Saturday night.

BORN: On Sunday, Dec. 31st to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rorden, a daughter.

A son was born on Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. John Berglund, near town.

Mrs. D. Robinson visited relatives in The Dalles the first of the week.

If you fail to go to the Home Dance tomorrow night, you will miss a good time.

H. M. West, of Portland, was a guest yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Howe.

Jack Eivers returned yesterday from Portland, where he spent the holidays with his parents.

Rev. K. H. Sickafosse was a visitor in The Dalles Tuesday night, returning on the early morning train Wednesday.

Don't forget the Schubert Trio at Stroup's Hall next Thursday night. You'll miss a rare musical treat if you do.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Stroup came up from Portland last Saturday and spent several days in town on business and pleasure.

Make a date with your best friend to attend the concert of the Schubert Trio at Stroup's Hall, next Thursday night.

Edwin Hail left on Tuesday for Corvallis where he will attend the short course in Horticulture, which runs for five weeks.

Mrs. C. C. Gillian, of Seattle, spent a few days last week visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Eastman at Fairmont Ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Howe, accompanied by Mrs. Howe's sister Mrs. S. H. Maddock, of Portland, arrived in Mosier on Sunday last and will spend a week or so at Lebowa. Mr. and Mrs. Howe returned last week from a trip to Eastern cities.

An English manufacturer at Bradford is now weaving a cloth made entirely (warp and weft) of human hair. The fabric is intended for interlinings for men's wear, and possesses the advantages of being absolutely unbreakable, unshrinkable and decreaseable.

The teachers in our school returned Tuesday from The Dalles and Castle Rock, Wash., where they spent the holiday week, and school began again on Wednesday. The children have highly enjoyed the coasting which has been exceptionally good for this time of the year.

Evidently Winter does not intend to neglect us, as for so long it appeared he might. For several mornings the thermometers have registered below freeze and the sleighing is still good. This is seasonable weather and is welcome now instead of later. About two feet of snow would benefit the country immensely.

There will be a Home Dance at Stroup's Hall tomorrow night, January 6. Dance from 8 o'clock sharp until 12 o'clock. Home talent. Everybody come.

Friends of Don Brant, who, it will be remembered, was employed with the East Hood River Fruit Co. about a year ago, will be interested to learn that he was married on December 24th to Miss Elsie Perry, one of Virginia's fair daughters.

Notice.

The registration books for voters are now open at Cole's Book Store. Every person wishing to vote at the primary, county, state and presidential election must register. Don't forget your duty to yourself and your commonwealth.

Guy Phillips, representing Clossett & Devers, spent Wednesday night in town with his brother-in-law, W. E. Chown.

Clyde Root is recovering from an attack of chicken pox. Clyde must have been investigating some neighbor's hen roost.

Mrs. Robert Husbands, of Hood River, and Mrs. Henry Culp, of Mt. Angel, visited yesterday their brother, George Rorden. Mrs. Culp was on her way to California.

Grand View Happenings.

On Christmas night Mrs. C. C. Clement entertained delightfully at her home "Keewayden Ranch." The feature of the evening was a Christmas tree which held a gift for every one present. The gift, usually a pictured one, either filled a long felt want or touched on some characteristic of the one receiving it, some of the bits being particularly clever. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. After being further entertained by excellent music and pleasant conversation, the guests left for their homes, having spent an evening that will long be a pleasant memory. Those present were Mrs. C. C. Clement, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Littlepage, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nelson, the Misses Sarah and Ruth Clement.

Ruth Littlepage and Messrs. Hugo Birkner, J. E. Clark, H. M. Nelson, Jack Coffman, Albert Medenwald and Rollo and Martin Clement.

Coming!

The Schubert Trio, of Hood River, will be heard in Mosier next Thursday night at Stroup's Hall. Rainbow Hill Notes.

The day after Christmas Miss Lila Clark, of Oak Lodge, accompanied by her guests, her mother and sister, visited Miss Sheldon and her father on Rainbow Hill. All took dinner at Kalisterra Cottage. The visitors felt obliged to return early as it soon grows dark in the canyons. The snow was inconsiderable and the trails were only slippery.

Master Francis Clarke recently happened to a painful accident, one of his fingers being badly crushed. He was taken to The Dalles and the wound dressed. It is hoped that no permanent injury will result for Master Francis is one of our junior pianists.

Mr. W. F. Ripley recently returned from a business trip to Portland. He passed through Mosier Wednesday on his way to The Dalles.

Miss Miriam Sheldon, of Meadowsweet Terrace entertained the residents of the adjoining ranch, Kalisterra, at dinner on Christmas Day. After dinner songs were indulged in, Mr. Sheldon playing the accompaniment on the flute. At eleven o'clock the guests returned home having had a pleasant holiday.

Mr. R. W. Simpson, of Crescent Heights has been doing considerable clearing on his ranch lately.

The Messrs. Harmesen made a tramp up over the "saddle back" on Dec. 28, and called on

Mr. J. L. Sheldon at Kalisterra Cottage. The elder Mr. Harmesen was enjoying a short vacation, soon returning to Portland where he is in business.

Mrs. J. P. Clarke will soon return to her home near Fargo in the Willamette Valley. Her daughter, Jane will join her husband and make a trip into the Saskatchewan country, Canada.

The snow which fell Dec. 30 and 31 lies about 8 inches deep on the average, but it has blown somewhat into drifts. This is the first snow of any consequence since that one of November 8, 9 and 10.

Ortley Items.

Ortley has 8 inches of snow and sleighing is excellent. The coldest night of the season was on New Years, when the mercury dropped to 9 degrees above zero. L. D. Firebaugh has been appointed by the government to keep the meteorological record. He has a complete set of instruments for recording precipitation and temperature.

The advent of 1912 was joyously celebrated in Ortley. A fine bell had been recently purchased for the new school house, and was rung for the first time to usher in the New Year—the first New Year in the history of the town. A band of merry makers armed with all manner of noise making devices, made the night ring with their celebration, causing numerous staid citizens to crawl shivering from their beds to greet the noise makers with a bucket of ice-water; or purchase, if good natured, to wish them a happy New Year.

Mrs. C. M. Maxfield, of Portland, owner of an orchard tract here, has moved into her home at Ortley where she will conduct a boarding house.

Tom Allan, of Houston, Texas, is camping on the tract owned by L. E. Adells, which borders on the townsite.

A. O. Nelson, of The Dalles, came to Ortley recently on a business trip.

Will Ross, of Portland, was a New Years guest in Ortley.

D. E. Robinson, father of Mrs. C. M. Maxfield, arrived here recently from Portland.
