Oiling Shoes.

The best way to keep black leather shoes from looking worn, and also from breaking, is to dip a small flannel rag in olive oil and rub it into the leather; if it needs further rubbing or wiping, take a fresh, dry flannel rag and go over it. This method is good for the woman in mourning, as it keeps her footwear black without polishing it, and provides a dulled finish.

FREE ADVICE TO SICK WOMEN

Thousands Have Been Helped By Common Sense Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ills are invited to communicate promptly with the woman's private correspondence department of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

COST OF POOR ROADS

Single Defect or Steep Hill Means Smaller Loads.

Prevailing Notion That All Highways Must Be Built on Sectional Lines Is Often Responsible for Poor Condition.

(By R. M. DOLVE, North Dakota Agricultural College.)

The old saying that "a chain is no stronger than its weakest link" would lose none of its force if it were changed to "a country road is no better than its poorest mile." It matters not how good a road may be if it contains a single defective spot or steep grade, for no larger loads can be hauled over it than the horses can pull through the defective place or up the high hill. This statement is so self-evident that most people will readily accept it as an axiom, and yet they are seemingly contented to haul fractional loads to market because of some often slight local defect in a road that could be permanently repaired at a nominal cost. The prevailing notion that the only place for a highway is on the section line is often responsible for this condition. If a section line passes through a slough that cannot be easily drained a good road cannot be built through it except at an expense for first cost and subsequent maintenance far exceeding the cost of purchasing a right of way around the slough. The same is true of hills, for if a hill cannot be easily reduced to less than a seven per cent grade it should be circumvented.

The writer recalls a road tributary to a small town in the Red River valley, where the entire road is level with the exception of one place where it makes a turn at a section corner near a river. The section corner is close to the river and at least sixty feet lower than the rest of the road, and yet scores of farmers, who use this road in marketing their produce, haul their loads down this sixty-foot drop, turn the corner and haul them up again. At certain seasons of the year small loads have to be hauled because of this hill and often horses are permanently injured by the heavy pull up the hill. Still nothing has so far been done, though, at a nominal expense, a right of way could be secured above the hill, thus entirely obviating the grade and at the same time shortening the distance to town.

Examples of this kind are common and force one to the conclusion that section lines are the proper place for roads only when a good road can be built over them; otherwise the road should be located so as to secure the best route consistent with such factors as distance, cost, drainage and grade.

In a new community the best time to locate the roads where they should be is while the land is cheap, when a right of way may be secured over private property with but little difficulty and slight expense. In this connection it should be remembered that a grade which may not be objectionable when the roads are uniformly poor so that large loads cannot be hauled any way may become serious obstacles when the roads are improved so that they will sustain heavy hauling.

In illustration of this point may be cited that while it requires a pull of 140 pounds on the traces to haul a ton over an average earth road it requires a pull of only 60 pounds to haul a ton over a good macadam road. A six or seven per cent. grade that would be permissible in an earth road would be impassable with the loads that could be hauled on a good macadam road. In other words, the better and more improved a road becomes the more objectionable becomes the grade. Further illustration of this fact may be drawn from the experience of our railroads. In the early days of railroading, with its small locomotives, small boxcars and light trains, grade were permitted which since the advent of the large modern locomotive with its heavy trains, high speed and improved track have become practically impassable so that the companies have been forced to spend millions in reducing these grades.

See That You Have Pure Water.

Pure water is necessary in the home. One of the greatest sources of trouble in our rural homes today is the water supply. See to it that the well is so placed that the surface water from around the barn will not drain into the well. Place the well where the surface water will drain away from it. The platform should be tight, so that nothing can fall into the well. When sickness breaks out in the family a good thing to do is to have the well examined immediately, as much trouble often arises from polluted drinking water.

The Preservation of Chestnuts.

In Italy a method of checking germination is now being quite largely employed. The fruit is soaked seven or eight days in a tank of water, well stirred daily, after which it takes about a week to dry. This seems to sterilize the nuts completely and in this condition they will travel satisfactorily.

Dairying on Town Lot.

Dairying on a town lot may not sound like the most profitable kind of work but it has proven a blessing to many. The herd will not naturally be large but even one cow can be made to pay and furnish the family an abundance of good wholesome food.

Buying Land.

Some of our good friends who are selling their homesteads at high prices may find that more acres do not bring greater contentment.

Amusement for the Family.

When you take the boy to the circus, let mother and the girls go along too, to help keep him out of danger.

Raise Your Calves.

The man who has a promising heifer calf should not let go of her at any sum the butcher can afford to pay.

WOMEN SEE WAR'S HORRORS

Many Slain in Three-Day Fight at Managua.

Rebels Abandon Assault When Victory Was Theirs' for the Taking—Defenders Exausted.

Managua, Nicaragua—Americans in Managua now know what a sickening tragedy a Central American revolution is. They have passed through a month of turmoil, witnessed a three-day battle, and experienced the horrors of a bombardment. They have seen the people of the city panic stricken, women and children killed, have borne the sufferings of hunger in a town beleaguered, and have had miraculous escapes from exploding shells and bullets. It was no part of Mena's plan to take Managua by assault. General Zeledon, once minister of war under Zelaya, was responsible for that when Mena lay helpless on a sick bed.

The bombardment began on a Monday morning, although Zeledon had been warned that thousands of innocent women and children were in the city. All day the shelling continued, the shells exploding all over the town. By a strange fatality, women and children were the victims.

In one house a mother and her four daughters were wounded. A child sitting on a doorstep was cut in two. A woman, with her babe at her breast, running across the street, was struck by a shell and both were killed. One hundred and thirty-six women and children were killed or wounded.

The second evening of the bombardment a shell hit the room where the president and his cabinet were in conference. No one was injured. A shell exploded in the interior court of the house of an American official. Four American officials and three servants were on either side of the court, but none was hit.

Throughout Monday and Tuesday the battle waged, culminating in a sharp attack in the afternoon, when the insurgents broke over the intrenchments. They were not supported in strength and were killed with machetes. Twice again that night attacks were made in force. Each time the government troops were thrust back, but Chamorro saved the day by leading reinforcements, which drove the insurgents back.

All that night the bombardment was kept up. Wednesday the people were absolutely panic stricken. Thousands fled from the town. Another attack by the insurgents that day would have meant success. The government's ammunition was almost gone. But the bolt was shot. Their failure to win after three days' successive assaults with tremendous losses had dispirited the insurgents and they retired in disorder.

POISON IS NEW WAR MENACE.

Rebels With Stolen Cyanide Threaten City Water Supply.

Mexico City—Death by poison is a new menace, added by rebellious Indians operating about the City of Oaxaca, where residents fear to take a drink of water. Chemists are making tests for poison in the city's water supply. A group of rebels is declared to have secured 200 pounds of cyanide from Natividad mining camp, in the Ixtlan district, declaring they would poison the drinking water in regions which are not under their control.

The rebels said they would first use the cyanide to poison the springs at San Felipe, which supply water for the City of Oaxaca. A small band of rebels was discovered in the neighborhood of the springs and was driven off by federal troops. The rebel loss is given at 11 killed.

From Tiangistengo, State of Mexico, where a battle was fought Wednesday and Thursday, the federals report they found on the field many rifles with the breech blown out, testifying to the efficacy of the nitroglycerin cartridges which government agents tricked the Zapatistas into buying.

Shingle Mills Close.

Seattle, Wash. — Shingle manufacturers of Western Washington played a trump card in the fight now on for control of the market, when they closed about 75 per cent of the mills or an indefinite period. The manufacturers want to demonstrate to the Eastern trade that they have the situation well in hand, and that any attempts to break the price of shingles will be resisted. F. A. Trail, manager of the Red Cedar Shingle Manufacturers' association, states that the output will be reduced 75 per cent.

Famine Hurts Strikers.

Cerbere, France—Famine has come to the aid of the government and the railroad companies against the railroad strikers in Catalonia, Spain. The situation is rapidly becoming worse. The people are suffering great distress in many places owing to the high prices of food. In some villages no supplies are obtainable and the famished people are deterred from attacking and sacking the stations only by the presence of strong bodies of soldiers. The government has ordered 20,000 to join their regiments.

Airmen Called Brigands.

Geneva, Switzerland — Another stormy scene marked the concluding session of the International Peace congress. The uproar was caused by a speech by Dr. Gobat, in which the president of the International Bureau of Peace characterized the Italian airmen who have been operating in Tripoli during the war as "brigands of the air." The congress decided to meet next year at The Hague and in 1914 at Marienbad.

Combination Made Against Terkey

London — A convention between Greece, Montenegro, Servia and Bulgaria for joint action against Turkey, according to the Sofia correspondent of the Times, is regarded as a fait accompli.

TROOPS FOR SAN DOMINGO.

American Force Will Take Charge of Custom Houses.

Washington, D. C.—A force of 750 American marines under Colonel F. J. Moses sailed from Philadelphia on the transport Prairie for San Domingo to compel the reopening of Dominican custom houses, closed by Haytien revolutionists.

Authority for this step was given by President Taft after a conference with Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop between Washington and New York in the private car on which the president was returning to Beverly. Acting Secretary of State Wilson and William T. S. Doyle, chief of the Latin-American division of the State department, had advised the president beforehand of the necessity for immediate action in San Domingo.

With the American marines will go Brigadier-General McIntyre, chief of the army insular bureau, and Mr. Doyle, as special commissioners to investigate conditions in San Domingo, especially on the border between that country and Hayti, where the revolutionists have been most active. The Prairie will arrive at the island about October 3.

Under the treaty of 1907 between the United States and the Dominican republic, the United States is responsible for the collection and distribution of San Domingo's customs. Heretofore this has been accomplished peacefully, but rebels operating from Hayti have closed all four of the border customs posts.

Whatever force is necessary will be used by the marines to reopen the posts and continue their operation.

COMPANY IN QUANDARY.

Wells-Fargo Liable to Arrest Whatever It Does.

San Francisco—Wells-Fargo & Company has appealed to the railroad commission for relief from a situation which it regards as serious. The company ascribes its present dilemma to the liquor situation in Los Gatos. The town of Los Gatos is dry and legally is "no-license" territory under the Wylie local option law. The trustees of Los Gatos have threatened the arrest of the Wells-Fargo officials if they carry liquor into the city and the Wells-Fargo men contend that if they refuse to deliver packages in the city, they are equally liable to arrest.

Here's the way the company puts its application to the railroad commission:

"In view of the situation, your petitioner, as a common carrier, is liable to suits for refusal to accept packages addressed to persons in Los Gatos, to be carried and delivered to said person, and on the other hand, if this company accepts and delivers the same, which it is bound to do as a common carrier, the agent of Wells-Fargo in Los Gatos is liable to be prosecuted criminally for making such delivery. The packages are subject to the risk of seizure and destruction by the public officials of Los Gatos.

"The service by common carriers to the public is likely to be seriously disturbed and interrupted and your honorable commission is respectfully requested and urged to investigate this case and determine the duties and obligations of the petitioner as a public utility under the laws of the state."

CITY DANCING IS PROPOSED.

Supervisor of San Francisco Urges Trial of Plan.

San Francisco—Municipal dancing under municipal supervision, with municipal music and plenty of it, is the plan submitted to the board of supervisors by Supervisor Payot. The matter was referred to the public welfare committee for a report as to ways and means of carrying the plan into operation.

It is the answer of the board of supervisors to the missionary committee of the Woman's Presbytery, who demanded that the city withdraw its approval of Sunday dancing at Trocadero, under the auspices of the California Outdoor league.

The protest was presented in the form of a set of resolutions denouncing "the desecration of the Sabbath" with the approval of the city.

Miners and Operators Firm.

Bingham, Utah—Attempts by leaders of the 4500 copper miners on strike here to obtain a conference with mine operators and both sides expressed determination to stand firm in their positions. Superintendent J. D. Shilling, of the Utah Copper company, said he had no knowledge of the company hiring strikebreakers. "If it is a waiting game," remarked J. C. Lowney, strike leader, "we can stand it as easily as the company." He had no fear that the strikers could not checkmate any move of the operators.

Miners Meet In Secret.

Ely, Nev.—A secret meeting of the local union of the Western Federation of Miners was held at Riepetown Wednesday night which was attended by Charles H. Moyer, president of the federation, and C. E. Miller, executive board member. The union leaders refused to give out any information regarding the meeting or the union's future plans. It is rumored that the same course was followed as was taken by the millmen and smeltermen at McGill, who voted recently to support the Bingham strike.

Age Pensions Advocated.

Washington, D. C.—Remedial legislation, including old age pensions and non-employment insurance, was proposed as a solution of the problem of dependent children and needy families by ex-Judge Girten, of Chicago, at the National Conference of Catholic Charities here. Mr. Girton said that accident and industrial insurance, if properly managed, would do much to prevent children from becoming dependent upon the state.

Bismark's Succesor Is Dead.

Badenweiler, Baden, Germany—Germany's most brilliant diplomat, Baron Adolf Marshall von Bieberstein, died here Wednesday after a short illness. The baron, had occupied the position of German ambassador in London since May, this year.

12,000 TEXTILE WORKERS QUIT

To Aid Men Held for Murder In Former Strike.

Half of Number Are Forced Out By Others — Leaders Advise Immediate Return to Work.

Lawrence, Mass.—Practically 12,000 textile operatives here have been affected by the great strike inaugurated by the Industrial Workers of the World to show sympathy for Joseph J. Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti, leaders of the organization, and as a protest against their trial in connection with the killing of Anna Lopizzo during the strike last winter, which is to begin in Salem in a few days.

It is feared there will be an extension of the strike. Mill owners were said to be ready to close down the plants in event of further walkouts.

In a comparatively mild degree Lawrence experienced a repetition of the scenes enacted last winter.

Some of the more eager strikers, in attempting to get workers to leave their machines, caused slight disturbances in several mills. Reports of injuries to operatives were received by the police, but none were seriously hurt. Clubs were flourished to intimidate those at work and mill machinery at several plants was damaged.

Of the 12,000 operatives who quit work, probably half did so as a protest against the trial of Ettor and Giovannitti. The others were forced out through intimidation or closing of their departments.

"We are unable to control the people," said William Yates, of New Bedford, national secretary of the textile branch of the Industrial Workers of the World. "They broke away from us completely and left their work against our advice. We hoped they would heed the message sent from jail by Ettor and Giovannitti urging them not to strike. Of course, in event of a majority sentiment in favor of a general strike, the Industrial Workers of the World will give the same support to the movement as it did in the great industrial battle last winter."

Several meetings of Industrial Workers were held, most of the speeches being in foreign tongues. The largest meeting was addressed by Miss Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, of New York. She urged the operatives to return to the mills and await the call of the leaders for a strike.

RUEF HAS REMEDY.

Would Abolish Primary Election for City Officials.

San Francisco—At a time of the greatest uncertainty as to the constitutionality of the state primary law, Abraham Ruef, writing from his cell in San Quentin penitentiary for the San Francisco Bulletin, recommends that primary elections be abolished. He continues:

"Instead of certifying lists of candidates to be voted on at primary elections, let the lists be certified for the general elections. Let an actual election be made at the general election by all the people directly from the entire lists so certified.

"I would provide for the filing and placing upon the ballot of organization tickets of party nominations, as well as of individual party nominations. I would exact that no such ticket be placed upon the ballot unless it be certified to by at least as many electors as the law required to constitute a party, which at present is 3 per cent of the total vote at the last election.

"There would be a provision for registering the party as at present, in order that party nominations should be certified only by affiliated party voters. All tickets and individual nominations certified by both parties could be arranged, with the appropriate designations of party, under the separate titles of office to be filled."

Cruiser Aids Americans

Washington, D. C. — Without instructions from Washington, but at the request of American Consul Fowler, at Foo Chow, to Admiral Nicholson, commanding the Asiatic fleet, the cruiser Cincinnati has arrived at that port to look after the interests of Americans. The chief of police is in revolt against the Pekin government, and it is expected that the Republican troops will be sent from Pekin to attack the town. Navy department officials believe the Cincinnati has gone in response to a call from Americans.

Nightmare Nearly Fatal.

Madison, Wis.—Sudden fear, caused by a nightmare, came near proving fatal to Michael Matthews, aged 22 years, Wednesday night, when he shot himself in the temple with a revolver. When taken to a hospital Matthews related the story of a dream, in which he was captured by a gang of ruffians, who were making preparation to torture him. Quickly taking a revolver from his pocket, he pulled the trigger —and emerged from his dream. The revolver had been kept by him under his pillow.

Man Leaps Into Niagara.

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—Workmen on the Canadian side of the Niagara river reported Saturday that they had seen a man vault an iron rail near the falls and fall among the rocks and spray 200 feet below. Shortly afterward the police found cards bearing the name "Frank I. Parker, Buffalo, N. Y." Parker, who was a captain in the Seventy-fourth regiment, New York State Guard, had been in poor health for some time.

Shingle Privilege Restored.

Washington, D. C.—Proposed elimination by the transcontinental railroads of the privilege to shippers of re-consignment and storage at the Minnesota transfer on lumber and shingles from North Pacific Coast territory to Eastern states was suspended by the Interstate Commerce commission until January 28.

Spoiling Children.

Little children give their mother the headache; but if she lets them have their own way, when they grow up to be great children they will give her the heartache. Fondness spoils many, and letting little faults alone spoils more. Gardens that are never weeded will grow very little worth gathering. All watering and no hoeing will make a very bad crop. A child may have too much of its mother's love and in the long run it may turn out that it had too little.—C. H. Spurgeon.

Diver Seized by Octopus.

A naval diver at Toulon was suddenly attacked by a giant octopus while under water in the harbor. He gave the hoisting signal and was hauled to the surface, together with the octopus, whose tentacles, said to be 25 feet long, were wrapped around him. The diver was unconscious. The octopus held fast to the diver until it was stabbed to death. It weighed 135 pounds, and the suckers on its tentacles were as big as half-dollar pieces. —London Mail.

Good Voice to Be Prized.

A soft, well-modulated voice is of far greater assistance in the world, even in the marriage market, than personal beauty. There are few things which possess a more definite value as a commercial asset than graciousness of manner and gentleness of tone. We are not born with harsh voices, we acquire them.—Exchange.

Sadness of Unbelief.

I look upon unbelief as the greatest of calamities. It is the loss of the chief aid of virtue, of the mightiest power over temptation, of the most quickening knowledge of God, of the only sure hope. The unbeliever would gain unspeakably by parting with every possession for the truth which he doubts or rejects.—William Ellery Channing.

Clothes.

Now, when I am in my riding togs, I'm all horse; when I have on my business suit, my mind's full of business; when I get into my evening dress my mind takes a purely social turn." She—"And I suppose that when you take a bath your mind's an utter blank?"—Stray Stories.

Making Opportunity.

When the young physician's motor car reached the scene of the accident there was nothing to do; all the victims had been so slightly hurt that they were able to walk home. The young doctor was keenly disappointed, but his chauffeur spoke up cheerfingly: "Never mind, doctor. I'll run down some business on the way home."

Some Proof.

"So he took you out auto riding the other evening?" "Yes, what of it?" "Do you think he is in love with you?" "I think so. I know that every time I spoke to him the auto tried to climb a tree or jump a fence."—Houston Post.

Before or After.

"I thought that in the 15 years of my practice of medicine," said a physician, "I had answered almost every possible foolish question, but a new one was sprung on me recently. A young man came in with an inflamed eye, for which I prescribed liniment—to be dropped into the eye three times a day. He left the surgery, but returned in a few minutes, poked his head in the doorway, and asked: "Shall I drop this in the eye before meals, or after?"

Record of Longevity.

A remarkable record of longevity is to be found in some of the rural parishes of France. In the village of St. Thomas de la Fliche there have been only 14 parish priests in 300 years, the fourteenth being still in possession. The parish of St. Germain du Val, in Paris, has had only three pastors in 100 years, while that of Givry en Argonne has had but five in 130 years.
