Now is the opportunity to save on Shirts, at Nichol & Co.

L. H. Wilson, left on Monday morning for his home at Portland.

See the Ladies' Shoes and Oxford at Nichol & Co.—only $1.50 per pair.

Mrs. Dick Evans was shopping in Hood River on Wednesday afternoon.

E. A. Shogren left the first of the week for a business visit in Portland.

A few odd numbers in Men's Fine Shoes at Nichol & Co., only $1.50 per pair.

Dr. Robinson and wife left on Tuesday afternoon for a few days' visit in Portland.

Frank Ginger left the first of the week for Portland, to have some dental work done.

Special reduction on broken lines of shoes at Nichol & Co.—Only $1.50 per pair.

N. P. Sturgess was a business visitor at the county seat on Monday and Tuesday last.

E. H. Bart left Tuesday morning for a fortnight's visit at his former home in Castle Rock, Wash.

We bought the stock right and you get the benefit. Watch next week's edition for particulars of the big sale. STRAUSS.

It is about time to begin again to agitate the question of incorporating Mosier. Why not, and let's do.

E. M. Struss, who has had several ranches in the district, has bought the Alex Stewart store and will open next Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock.

Immanuel Church Notes

Sunday school at 10 o'clock, followed by regular morning worship. Mr. Hargreaves will preach the sermon. Subject,

Did Mosier play a game of basket ball with Odeh, last Friday night? 'Tears like we heard a rumor to that effect.

Mosier visitors in Hood River last Monday afternoon were Mrs. R. H. Cummings, Mrs. J. E. Proctor and little daughter, and Miss Irene Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Marsh and Miss Lorena Dunsmore were visitors in Hood River Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. S. W. Small left the first of the week for San Francisco, on a business trip. He will incidentally draw comparisons between balmy Mosier and breezy Frisco.

Miss Nada Clark departed last Tuesday morning to visit this week at Carlton, her former home, and at McMinnville, where she graduated last spring. She will enjoy herself, visiting old friends.

A prominent dealer in Mosier really who, it is said, when interrogated as to what the governor of North Carolina said to the governor of South Carolina, responded in a manner which dispelled all doubt: "Hail! Hail! the gang's all here!"

D. W. Hudson Marries

A quiet marriage occurred on Tuesday of this week in Portland, when Mr. D. W. Hudson, of Mosier, took to wife Mrs. Ruth Miles, of Hood River. The happy young couple are expected home today. The Bulletin offers felicitations.

Donates Books to Library

Through the generosity of Mr. A. P. Bateham, the Mosier Public Library has been enriched by the addition of about 40 volumes of very useful books. Among them are histories of the United States, a Worcester's Dictionary and a Library of Universal Knowledge, in 15 volumes. The latter will be of especial benefit to the community, especially the pupils of our school, and Mr. Bateham should receive a vote of thanks for this generous gift.

E. M. Strauss Successful Bidder

E. M. Strauss was the successful bidder on the A. Stewart stock of merchandise. He also purchased the building and will open the store to the public next Tuesday morning.

Mr. Strauss has had years of experience in the mercantile business and knows the wants of the purchasing public. He has been identified with Mosier for some time, owning several tracts of land in the district, and consequently realizes the necessity and the convenience of an up-to-date general merchandise store, such as he proposes to run.

Miss Hunter, our popular and efficient postmistress, is now installed in her new quarters, having made the change the first of the week. The building is tastefully finished inside with stained woodwork, the walls and ceiling being covered with an artistic shade of green paper. The office is commodious and well lighted, and the lobby will accommodate a much larger number of patrons without crowding, than the old building did.

The meetings of the Horticultural Society, held in Lamb's Hall every Thursday forenoon from 10 to 12, are increasing in interest. Subjects are thoroughly discussed which are of vital interest to the fruit grower, especially the one who is starting in the business and who is wise enough to save time and money by following closely the advice of those who have had years of experience. As Mosier is first of all a fruit district, and as every one can learn something from his neighbor, these weekly meetings should be crowded every Thursday.

Church of Christ Notes

We have nothing to complain of in our attendance at church services these stormy, wintry days. Of course, we want everybody to come when they can.

Next Lord's day morning our presentation of thoughts will be in answer to this question: "Is the Holy Spirit in the world today?" In the evening our subject will be "Gospel Trinities," presented by a chart.

Will you come and worship with us?

H. CAMPBELL CLARK, Minister.

MU IS OFFERED COUNTY

[Oregonian.]

At a conference yesterday between County Judge Cleator and Commissioners Lightner and Hart, for the county, and representatives of the O. W. R. & N. Co., it was demonstrated that the county will have little difficulty in amicably securing from the railway company a right of way for the Portland-Hood River road at points where the tracks and proposed survey, clash or come close together.

In fact, Assistant Manager Buckley, Attorney Arthur Spencer, Assistant Engineer Chase and J. W. Morrow, head of the right of way and tax department, who were there for the railway company, tentatively agreed to let the county road get through at tight places by infringing on the property of the railway company. All that remains is to work out the details.

In some places the railway company will move its tracks, but this is in line with the plans of its engineers for reducing curvature and putting in a double track. County Surveyor Holbrook explained his surveys to the assembly in detail.

The action of the railway company in giving way to the county will result in the road costing much less than it would otherwise and in the elimination of several heavy grades which would be necessary. It is believed that the railway tracks infringe at some points on the original survey of the road, made about 40 years ago, but this is not being considered one way or the other. All that the county desires is the most practicable route for the road and if this is secured the County Court will be satisfied. There is no disposition on either side to hew to the line.

A "crazy train" passed thru town last Saturday en route from Salem to Pendleton, having on board 300 or more insane passengers. The crowded condition of the state asylum at Salem made the transfer necessary. Let Mosier's candidates for the bug house beware—the train might stop here on its next trip.

What is Life to You?

To the preacher life's a sermon, To the joker it's a jest; To the miser life is money, To the loafer life is rest, To the lawyer life's a trial, To the poet life's a song; To the doctor life's a patient That needs treatment right along, To the soldier life's a battle, To the teacher life's a school; Life's a good thing to the grafter, It's a failure to the fool. To the man upon the engine Life's a long and heavy grade; It's a gamble to the gambler, To the merchant life is trade, Life's a picture to the artist, To the rascal life's a fraud; Life perhaps is but a burden To the man beneath the hod, Life is lovely to the lover, To the player life's a play; Life may be a load of trouble To the man upon the dray, Life is but a long vacation To the man who loves his work; Life's an everlasting effort To shun duty, to the shirk, To the earnest Christian worker Life's a story ever new; Life is what we try to make it— Brother, what is life to you?

Good Time Coming

"I tell you, Blanks," said the millionaire, with great gusto, "talk about your fun! There's none to equal that of earning a million dollars by dollar."

"By giner," said little Blanks, "what a lot of fun there is ahead of me!"—Harper's Weekly.

Pretty Meek

Blotches—Hempeckle always reminds me of a mouse. Blotches—Nonsense! If he was anything like a mouse his wife would be afraid of him.—Philadelphia Record.

His Disease

When Lord Chancellor Campbell, then prime minister, married Miss Scarlett and departed on his wedding trip, Justice Abbott observed when a cause was called on in the bench:

"I thought, Mr. Brougham, that Mr. Campbell was in this case."

"Yes, my lord," replied Brougham; "but I understand he is suffering from Scarlett fever."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Mean Dip

One of the features to be seen at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915, will be "The Battle of Gettysburg," one of the most realistic battle cycloramas ever painted. It is the work of the celebrated French artist, Paul Philippoteaux, who, with sixteen assistants, worked for two years on the painting. The canvas is 400 feet in circumference and 50 feet high.

FOOLED THE OFFICIAL

Clever Trick a Daring Dacoit Played, Upon an Englishman.

It was years ago in Burma. The English government was having trouble with a certain private regiment named the 101st, "the most daring and enterprising of the Dacoits." A heavy price had been set upon the rebel's head, but still the 101st was cunningly elusive.

At last, having pressed, Bob Toh tried a new tack. He walked straight into the office of the commissioner.

"I am Bob Toh," he said simply. "I have come to surrender."

Exactly what he had counted on now happened. Fourteen years' experience with eastern subtlety and intrigue had taught the commissioner to be wary.

"Thank you," he said. "We will now proceed to discover who you really are and what you really want. Tell me, what do you expect to get out of this?"

"Ten thousand rupees," said the Bob quietly.

"The commissioner, although a cool man, was a little staggered. "I don't quite follow," he murmured.

"Yet it's quite simple," whispered the Bob. "The government promises 10,000 rupees to the man who brings you the head of Bob Toh. I give it to you."

"Capital," was the wary answer. "But as you lose your head what good does the money do you?"

"My wife and children get the money."

"Pretty good, my man, but not quite good enough. Ten thousand rupees will be nothing to Bob Toh."

"If it were not I should not be here. I have been deserted and robbed. I am sure to be captured. My family might as well have the money while I can still command it."

"But why shouldn't I keep the money? I hand your head over, you know."

"Because you are an English gentleman. I chase my man, you see."

The commissioner missed awhile. Then he broke silence. "Look here, I know you are not the Bob. That is quite clear. I don't care who you are. But tell me frankly what you want."

The Burman hesitated awhile. Then he said: "You are right. But my life is worth as little as the Bob's. I have betrayed him and robbed him. He has sworn revenge. Give me an escort as far as Mandalay. Here, take these notes for 1,000 rupees—he had hid them on the table—and keep them if in twelve days' time I do not tell you how and when you can capture the Bob. Keep them till the Bob is caught if you prefer."

The commissioner thought hard and in silence for quite two minutes.

"I agree," he said at length. So the Bob was safely escorted to Mandalay. Later the commissioner received a letter from him.

"You may keep those rupees," it ran, "which I, Bob Toh, left with you twelve days ago. I told you the truth. You would not believe me. The English government likes truth, and it likes money, but they never want both. I think, at the same time."—Youth's Companion.

The Most Crowded Street. The supreme sensation of New York's east side is the sensation of the astounding populosity. The most populous street in the world—Livington street—is a sight not to be forgotten. Compared to this, an uptown thoroughfare of crowded middle class flats in the open country is an uninhabited desert! The architecture seemed to sweat humanity at every window and door. The roadways were often impassable. The thought of the hidden interiors was terrifying. Indeed, the hidden interiors would not bear thinking about. The fancy shunned them—a problem not to be settled by sudden municipal edicts, but only by the ethics of generations.—Harper's Magazine.

Heroism of an Indian. A few years ago in northern Mexico a truck carrying a load of dynamite for use at a mine was suddenly discovered to be on fire at a village station. The risk was imminent, so the driver of a locomotive engine picked the truck up and ran it away into the country at all the speed he could put on. He bade the brakeman jump off and save himself, adding, "I go to my death." When he had got a mile away the dynamite exploded. Every window in the village was broken, and he was blown to atoms, but the inhabitants were saved. He was a pure blooded Indian.—"South America," by James Bryce.
