Men and Women.

As times go on we have the two results to be anticipated. Men reach the point—usually early in life—where business or politics absorbs their whole attention, and they have little time, strength or interest left for the broader culture and the amenities of life, while women are prone to be too much preoccupied with these things, to the injury of the home—not, perhaps, in its smooth running, for in the average American home the wheels of its machinery do usually run smoothly, though at great expense and to the injury of the home spirit. If the two could be averaged, we should more nearly approach the ideal. Men need more relaxation, more rest, more variety, especially as they advance in life. Women need more concentration, more definiteness in their work, and especially more interest and a different kind of ideal in their home-making.—Mrs. N. D. Hillis in the American Woman and Her Home.

Not Likely.

"I wish you would shout at me, just the same as you shout at the animals you are going to kill," said Judge Moss, at the Carnarvon (Wales) county court, to a butcher who was giving evidence in quiet tones. "If you were going to kill an obstreperous bull you would not whisper like this," added his honor.

"Thou Madest Me for Thyself."

O thou God Omnipotent, who so carest for every one of us, as if thou caredst for him alone; and so for all as if all were but one! To thee will I intrust whatever I have received from thee. So shall I lose nothing. Thou madest me for thyself, and my heart is restless until it repose in thee. Amen.—St. Augustine.

No Hurry for That Vehicle.

A short-sighted old lady in a hurry to mount a tram car held up her umbrella and shouted to the driver of a passing vehicle, "Stop! Stop!" to which the driver replied, "Don't be in a hurry, mum; it ain't your turn yet." It was a hearsay.

PURE FOOD LAW NOT MODERN

Centuries Ago Tradesmen Who Adulterated Goods Were Most Severely Punished.

Pure food laws are not quite so modern an invention as we may believe. Dr. Reiser has made discoveries in Palestine that seem to indicate some sort of supervision of the food supplies delivered to the palace nearly 3000 years ago. Labels have been found that were once affixed to "a jar of pure olive oil." We may wonder what tests were employed and what would happen to the man whose oil was found to be not pure. Probably something unpleasant, for there was no Supreme Court in those days.

We know what happened in the middle ages to the enterprising tradesman who adulterated his goods. In 1444 a Nuremberg merchant was burned alive for mating foreign material with his saffron and the saffron itself was used for fuel. Probably that artistic touch impressed the matter upon his memory.

Some Augsburg bakers who used false weights and had flour were ducked in a muddy pool, and through a faulty knowledge of the human respiratory system, their carelessnes, they came to the surface dead.

In 1482 a wine merchant was ordered to drink six quarts of his own adulterated wine, and as he died soon after it is evident that the adulteration must have been serious. It is true that he had to finish the draft in a given number of minutes, and a small number at that, but in those days they had a pleasant way of weighing the scales and loading the dice upon the side of justice.

Civilization has changed all that. Nowadays we shiver with apprehension lest a rogue shall be punished.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Artistic Beauty.

The account of the four years' stay of Viljalmar Stefansen and Dr. Anderson in the Arctic regions of America, during which they made long journeys alone with nothing to depend upon for a living but the hospitality of the natives and their rifles, furnishes a new illustration of the remarkable productiveness of the far north. Persons are likely to suppose that in the tropics they are most spontaneous in the production of food for human beings. The fact is that the contrast between equatorial and Arctic regions is not so very great in this regard. Early explorers of the region of the upper Amazon found they must carry supplies or starve to death. There is game there, but it cannot be reached in the jungles. This was the experience of James Orlon, the American traveler, and in his work on the Amazon he recalls the fate of the mighty Pizarro, who tried to penetrate that country, but retreated from it upon a diet of lizards, dogs, saddle leather and sword belts just in time to save his life. Similar experiences are to be encountered in much of tropical Africa. It is true that some tropical islands give their inhabitants a free but monotonous living, but, then, so will the ice-bound country around the mouth of the Mackenzie.

The Calf to Raise.

I never raise a calf from a cow that will not give at least 20 quarts of milk a day, and she must be bred to a pure-bred bull. The percentage of poor heifers when they come to freshen with this method is very small. The custom of feeding milk feeds is not on the increase now, but it had grown heretofore to a very great extent. Many farmers grow as much clover as possible, also peas with oats. The silo has made its appearance on most of the dairy farms. This helps much where properly managed, says a writer in an exchange. Good corn silage fed in connection with clover hay or oats and a little hay will do the trick. A good and cheap mixed day with a small grain ration should make a good food of milk if you have good cows. Without a good dairy one cannot make milk, regardless of the feed used.

WAR FOOTING FOR SOLDIERLY

Major-General Wood Wants Army Always Ready.

Washington, D. C.—Major-General Wood, chief of staff of the army, gave out a statement concerning reasons for the recent army reorganization orders. This statement is the first authoritative announcement from the War Department as to the real reasons for the army reorganization. General Wood would not say reorganization of the army had a direct bearing on the Mexican situation.

"Our object is to have a war organization of the army in time of peace," he declared, "so that it will be ready for war when it comes suddenly, as all wars come."

"At the beginning of every war," General Wood continued, "this country has suffered defeat, loss of life, vast expenditures and a useless prolongation of war, with all its attendant miseries, because the country has been utterly unprepared; the army was not organized or prepared when war began, and the commanders of larger units, such as brigades and divisions, had had no opportunity to handle such matters. So far as we can intend to mitigate the evils of unpreparedness by having a semblance of a real army organized and giving officers and men the practical training and experience they need to fit them for soldiers."

FALSE REPORTS GIVEN OUT

Mexican Government Officials Incline People Against U. S.

Washington, D. C.—Mis-statements by Mexican federal officials concerning the intentions of the United States in the present crisis which so inflamed the populace in the capital recently, are being made throughout the republic with similar effect. Consul Kirk reports to the State department that anti-American feeling ran high in Mazatlan and through the countryside because of unauthorized statements about the intended action of the American government.

Demonstrations against Americans have been made in other Mexican Pacific ports, and it became necessary to hold the cruiser Denver at Acapulco until the arrival of the South Dakota in that port.

Outbursts resulted in some assaults upon American citizens who were peacefully passing through the streets. With the South Dakota at Acapulco and the Colorado at Mazatlan, officials here feel that there will be an abatement of these outbreaks. Reports indicate that quiet prevails at Juarez. While there is a considerable feeling against the Mexican government in Chihuahua, the people seem to be restraining themselves.

RESCUERS FORCED TO QUIT

Norwegian Party Unable to Reach Stranded German Scientists.

Christiana, Norway—The second Norwegian expedition sent to the relief of the German scientists, stranded in a remote part of Spitzbergen, has not succeeded in its undertaking. It left Advent Bay late in January, but was forced to return to Green Harbor, arriving in a pitiable condition.

The expedition reached Bickson Bay, when a hurricane stopped all progress. Seven dogs died and several of the members of the rescuing party were frost-bitten. The sledges were destroyed, and for that reason and the loss of the dogs the expedition was forced to leave all provisions except minimum rations.

No further effort will be possible until additional dogs are sent from Norway. Experts consider that unless the Germans are rescued in the near future their position will be exceedingly precarious.

"Lifer" Dies in Her "Home."

San Rafael, Cal.—For the second time Mary Rafael was released Sunday from San Quentin prison, and this time she will not return. Twenty-five of the 72 years, which death ended, were spent within the prison walls, and she called the place her home. She was paroled in 1911, and went to live in Los Angeles. She returned to prison May 24, 1912, ill, and said: "I've come home to stay until the end."

"Auto Bandit" Confesses.

Chicago—Robert Webb, a highwayman and leader of the "automobile bandits," Chicago's most dangerous criminal, according to the police, confessed that he shot and killed Policeman Peter Hart several weeks ago. The confession was made under a promise of clemency by State's Attorney Hoyne, who said he promised the robber not to ask the death penalty for his criminal course largely because he was the victim of "loan sharks."

MADERO GIVES WAY TO HUERTA

President and Cabinet Arrested By General Blanquet.

Diaz Agrees to Appointment of Huerta—People Rejoice—Elections Are Promised Soon.

Mexico City—Francisco I. Madero has been forced out of the presidency. He was arrested at the national palace shortly before 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by General Blanquet. Subsequently he signed his resignation.

General Victoriano Huerta, commander of the federal troops, was proclaimed provisional president.

About the time Madero was seized by Blanquet, Gustavo Madero, his brother, the ex-minister of finance, was arrested by General Huerta, who was dining with him in a quiet restaurant.

All members of the cabinet were promptly placed under arrest with the exception of Ernesto Madero, the uncle of the president, who held the portfolio of finance. He was apprised of the intentions against the Madero government and made his escape.

From the first it had been known that General Blanquet was unwilling to fight. His men were of the same mind. He held complete command of the city, and it was not doubted they would follow him in any adventure, which they did at the national palace.

The forces, numbering 1000 men, were sent to the palace, ostensibly to relieve the reserves there. The reserves were sent into the field.

An agreement between Generals Blanquet and Huerta was reported Monday night, but the first intimation that Blanquet's men had of the new military voice, pronounced this excellent criticism on the English musician had heard: "The manner of the elderly statesman at the piano was somewhat austere and chilling."

New Nickel Out in Week.

Washington, D. C.—Coinage of the new nickel has been ordered by Secretary MacVeagh, despite objections of certain suit machine interests. It will be placed in circulation in a week. The protests against the new coin dwindled to one manufacturer, who contended it would interfere with the efficacy of counterfeit nickels. Treasury officials overruled this objection and the new 6-cent piece, with an Indian head on the face and a buffalo on the reverse, was adopted officially.

Taft Refers Liquor Bill.

Washington, D. C.—President Taft has referred the Webb bill regulating the shipment of liquor into dry states to Attorney General Wickersham and Secretary MacVeagh. The fact that the bill was sent to Mr. Wickersham was taken to indicate that the president wanted an opinion on its constitutionality. He has told visitors recently that he expected to give the bill much consideration before passing final judgment upon it.

CUTTING DOWN THE FLESH

Heroic Struggles of a Fat Man Who Thought the Scales Were Deceiving Him.

I have about come to the conclusion that the good Lord intended some thin creatures to be fat and some thin, regardless of medicines and so-called infallible cures, writes a western man. For a long while I tried all the alleged obesity cures and none of them did me any good. Then I determined to starve myself and take lots of exercise.

All my life I had been a lover of good eating, and counted that day lost on which I did not consume for my dinner the better part of a sirloin steak as thick as a dark's foot, with all the trimmings. For breakfast I usually destroyed a platter of cakes, three eggs and no end of thin-celled bacon, besides fruits and two cups of coffee.

This lifelong system I abandoned for an entire month, cutting out all the meat and about all the vegetables, a piece of toast and glass of milk taking the place of my morning meals and a little rice being the chief item on the meager dinner bill of fare. Lunch I omitted wholly. In addition I walked at least six miles every day and did all sorts of stunts in my room with a gymnasium outfit. Prior to going to bed I perpetrated all sorts of muscular contortions and rolled on the floor till my body was bruised.

At the end of thirty days I felt fit to run a three-mile foot-race or go in the ring with the champion. About this time it occurred to me that I ought to get weighed and I made a bee line for the scales. My grocer assured me that they were correct to an ounce, but they showed I had gained 14 pounds in the period of my fast.

My mother will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup 't' best remedy to use for their children during 't' teething period.

Buzzing Sounds Made by Insects.

The different humming or buzzing sound in insects is caused by the vibration of the wings, and the more rapid the vibrations the sharper the sound. Scientists have estimated that the common house fly vibrates its wings about 335 times a second and the honeybee 400 times, though a tired bee moves its wings more slowly and makes a different sound from a fresh one. The butterfly is content to move more slowly and makes no noise.

Push Cart Fortune.

The proprietor of the finest cafe in Los Angeles formerly sold "hot tamales" from a push cart, and although he is now wealthy, he still preserves this old vehicle. In erecting a business block to house his modern restaurant he built a cupola just large enough to contain the old tamale cart, and it may be plainly seen from the street.

An exchange tells the story of a little boy whose mother decided that he was old enough to do without her sitting by him when he was put to bed until he fell asleep. So when one night she kissed the five-year-old and told him he was a big boy and brave enough to go to sleep without his mamma and in the dark, too, he pondered the situation a moment and then said: "Well, wait a minute. I've got to say my prayers again carefuler!"—Suburban Life.

Those in charge of the home keep in touch with the girls after they have gone out into the world to make their own way.

His Savage Comment.

A wealthy gentleman, who owns a country seat, on one occasion nearly lost his mother-in-law, who fell into a river which flows through his estate. He announced the narrow escape to his friends, expecting their congratulations. One of them—an old bachelor—wrote as follows: "I always told you that river was too shallow."
