Don't forget, you fruitgrowers, that the annual meeting of the Mosier Fruit Growers' Association will be held in Lamb's Hall tomorrow, April 5th, at 10 A. M. We inadvertently, last week, stated the hour as 11 o'clock, hence this notice.

FEDERATE THE CHURCHES

The White Salmon Enterprise says: "They are federating the Unions. Now get busy with the Churches. Rev. Tate of the Congregational church says that if they will federate, which is the sensible and the Christian thing to do, he will be willing to close his study door permanently and leave in order to bring about federation. His attitude is commendatory. Here is a church where there appears to be no stumbling block in the way of a get-together movement. We may be wrong on this church federation idea, but it strikes us that if Christ were to come to White Salmon we would all be flocking to hear him, not caring how we got there, nor where He spoke, and it ought to be good for all to get together in His name right now. Christ is religion, not creed nor dogmas nor ecclesiastical leaders who tend to separate instead of unite. Let's have this unity. It is as good for this old world as it is in Heaven." As some one has aptly said, the over-production of little churches in small towns is more a struggle for existence than a struggle for accomplishment.

Coming!

The Ortleby Dramatic Club will produce the play, "The Plot That Failed," in the Mosier opera house on Saturday night, April 19th. Vandeville sketches will be put on between the acts, and an entertaining evening is promised.

Mrs. Geo. Burlingame and daughter, Mrs. Laura Backus, with her children, are here from Tygh Valley, visiting the family of W. H. Cook. Mrs. Cook is a daughter of Mrs. Burlingame.

Church of Christ Notes

Next Lordsday morning we want to speak to you on this subject, "The Surrendered Life," and at the evening service on this subject, "We are God's Workmanship." We want everyone to hear these. That means YOU.

Any young man or young woman, not in Bible School anywhere, is cordially invited to join our Loyal Borean Class. They are hustlers and doers, who do something worth while. The class is large and good, but wants more members. Others have promised to come, why not YOU? Come next Sunday and visit the lively L. P.'s.

Our whole Bible School is doing fine. We invite anyone of any age and any color to become a member of it. We mean business for the King. Do you? Sure. Then come.

H. CAMPBELL CLARK, Minister.

Interesting Sunday School Items

The Union school is attaining high efficiency in punctuality of officers, teachers and scholars. Last Sunday the total attendance was 50. There were 5 visitors and 1 cradle roll baby, leaving the number of active members present, 44, and 43 on time.

Mr. Hargreaves, teacher of the young people's class, was absent last Sunday, having gone to Goldendale, Wash., to assist in organizing a church federation. Mr. J. O. Barnett, teacher of the Adult Bible Class, was unable to attend on account of sickness.

Next Sunday the offering will be a "Special" for county and state Sunday School work. The secretary will also make the quarterly reports of the Recognition and Merit System and monthly report of class percentages of attendance.

If you are not attending any Sunday School, why not start in next Sunday, which will be the beginning of a new quarter, at one of the Sunday Schools, either the Union or the Christian? You will be welcome at either place.

TRINIDAD'S ASPHALT LAKE

One of the World's Hot Spots, Torrid, Desolating and Enervating. In "The Path of the Conquistador" London Bates, Jr., tells of the famous asphalt lake of Trinidad. He says: "The strange village at its edge is an extraordinary spectacle. Not a house but is twisted out of plumb. The land is the source of never ending litigation, because the very shifting currents of the pitch bottom in a few years more erode and permits out to other men's property, distort boundaries into every possible shape, carry landmarks a hundred yards away. "The abandonment of desolation is this lake. In spots a palm killed by the asphalt droops disconsolately. A few tufts of grass have secured a footing in places. But for the rest it is a solid mass of black, dull, evil smelling pitch, with pools of water here and there, in which scum of little-carboled fishes. Against any of the hot spots in the world, bar none, this can be looked. "A wicked looking blacksnake six feet long glides into the bushes near the margin of the lake. It has been sunning itself on the asphalt. No wonder the serpents are supposed to be creatures of the devil. As for ourselves, fifteen minutes' stay takes away every bit of vitality we can summon. Not enough interest is left in life to inspire what the negroes, having with mat-tocks at the asphalt receive in wages. They earn the pay, whatever it is. "The lake is ninety to a hundred acres in extent now, but it is gradually shrinking with the removal of the enormous quantities that have been taken out."

THE CAMPFIRE

It is Said to Have Been the Origin of the Smelting Furnace.

The origin of the smelting furnace was traced in a recent lecture to the campfire. If by chance a lump of ore, either of copper carbonate, tinstone or brown iron ore or hematite had been one of the ring of stones surrounding the camp or domestic fire and had accidentally become embedded in its embers, it would be reduced to metal.

The metals which occur—native copper, gold and iron—were the first to be known to man in the localities in which they occurred, but until the art of smelting metals had been invented the discovery and use of the native metals were insufficient to effect to any great extent the old stone age culture.

Gold, though doubtless the first metal to be known in many localities, owing to its wide distribution in the sands of rivers, was useless for any practical purpose. Copper, however, or an alloy of the metal with tin, antimony, or arsenic, was extracted from ores at a very remote period, and it or its alloy was first to be applied to practical use.

In fact, the first metal to be obtained by primitive man by smelting copper ores depended on their composition, and in the localities where they did not occur it was a more or less impure copper—London Standard.

Also a Great Master.

The persons in the gallery who were most impressed with the J. Pierpont Morgan collection of pictures were two small girls, one eight and the other ten years of age. Uncertainly they spelled out the names of the paintings, which conveyed very little, and they were truly moved, of course, by the dash of the Duchess of Devonshire and the small princess by Velazquez, and the wonderfully engaging young lady by the unknown Spanish painter. Lastly they came to the portrait of Mr. Morgan himself, and from this they appeared directly to the attendant on guard.

"Please, sir," they asked, "did Mr. Morgan paint all these pictures?"

"Not all," he answered.—New York Post.

The Flight of Devils.

Captain C. H. Sigand has written a book about the tribes of British East Africa in "The Land of Zulu." Referring to Mount Kenya, whose summit was reached by the Mackinder expedition, he says that the natives "believe that the upper slopes are the habitat of devils and all kinds of evil spirits. I am told that natives who have returned from the upper slopes are not at liberty to speak about what they have seen. The idea is that they have been led off by the demons of the mountains, but if they boast about it some evil will befall them, or the evil spirits will anger themselves."

Notice

There will be a social dance in Chown's Hall tomorrow night, April 5th. Home orchestra, a fine floor, nice people, and a good time for everybody.

C. H. Davenport, Ira Evans, C. H. Dunsmore, C. G. Nichol and Boyd Sturgess went to The Dalles Monday to appear before the grand jury as witnesses in the Schoonover-Chaffin stabbing case.

Now that the men of Oregon have given the ladies the right to vote, they consider that one good turn deserves another so they have given them the privilege of paying for a fishing license. That's a mean trick to play on the lady voters, but the law says so, and just think of the oodles of fish it will save.

F. R. Howard came up from Hood River the first of the week and, with the assistance of our local telephone expert, Frank Ginger, moved the switchboard, wires and all other paraphernalia, also the hello girl, across the street into the new office, which has been fixed over and is light and airy and larger than the old office.

Mrs. C. O. Burrows arrived last Saturday from Portland. Mr. Burrows, who recently succeeded E. A. Race as manager of the Tum-A-Lum lumber yard in Mosier, has rented the Akers cottage, and they will occupy it soon. Mr. and Mrs. Burrows have two daughters who will join them here in June. One is teaching school at Helix and the other is attending high school in Portland.
