Cleans Blood Through Kidneys

A Most Important Function and One to be Carefully Guarded.

The purpose of the kidneys being to filter the blood the question of treating supposed kidney weakness should be considered carefully. Instead of drugs and alleged kidney stimulants the better plan is to purify the blood with an antidotal effect such as you get from S. S. S.

It should be remembered that the kidneys are made up of a fine net work of blood vessels, and it is to stimulate the functional activity of kidney tissue through this capillary net work that S. S. S. shows one of its most remarkable effects.

The medicinal value of the components of S. S. S. are relatively just as vital to healthy kidney action as the nutriment obtained from grain, meat, fats, sugars, or any other part of our daily food is to the natural reconstructive requirements of the tissues. And there is one component of S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating the cellular tissues of the kidneys to a healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. Thus, in cases of rheumatism, cystitis, chronic sore throat, huskiness of voice, bronchitis, asthma, and the myriad of other reflex indications of weak kidney action, first purify your blood with S. S. S. so it will enable the tissues to rebuild their cellular strength and regain their normal health.

You can get S. S. S. at any drug store, but take no other so-called blood purifier.

S. S. S. is purely a botanical product, and you will make a great mistake to have some enthusiast palm off a mercury, arsenic or iodide of potash preparation that may do you irreparable harm.

S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specific Co., 160 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and if you have any deep-seated or obstinate blood trouble write to their Medical Department for free advice. It will be worth your while to do so.

Ways of the Philippine Head Hunters.

Dean C. Worcester, formerly of the University of Michigan, and now secretary of the Philippine Islands, gives some interesting particulars about the head hunters of the island of Luzon in a recent issue of The Geographical Magazine. He states that six or seven of the tribes found in the northern part of the island have been addicted to head-hunting. "When I first entered the country of the Ifugaos," he continues, "I found many of the houses ornamented with fresh human skulls, and I saw many victims of head-hunting raids.

"When an Ifugao war party returns with a head it executes a ceremonial march or dance—one hardly knows which to call it—which defies successful description. The men have their split raincoats on their backs. On the insides of these raincoats are pockets, which form convenient receptacles for gory trophies.

"I have seen a house with a tasteful ornament frieze of alternating carabao skulls and human skulls extending around it at the height of the floor. I have seen others with great open-work baskets of skulls hanging under the eaves.

"A man who loses his head is considered to have treated his family and friends somewhat shabbily. He is not buried as an ordinary person would be, but is carried to a resting place on some hillside far from his native village. A tunnel is excavated in the earth, his body is carried into it and placed in a sitting position and the tunnel is then filled. A lance is thrust into the ground over the grave to show that he was killed in war, and an anito image rudely fashioned out of grass is left to watch over his last resting-place."

In—How Long?

A number of men gathered in the smoking car of a train from Little Rock to another point in Arkansas were talking of the food best calculated to sustain health, says the Housekeeper.

One Arkansan, a stout, florid man with short gray hair and a self satisfied air, was holding forth in great style.

"Look at me!" he exclaimed. "Never had a day's sickness in my life. All due to simple food. Why, gents, from the time I was 20 to when I reached 40 I lived a regular life. None of these effeminate delicacies for me. No late hours. Every day, summer and winter, I went to bed at 9; got up at 5. Lived principally on corned beef and cornbread. Worked hard, gents—worked hard from 8 to 1. Then dinner; plain dinner; then an hour's exercise, and then—"

"Excuse me," interrupted the stranger, who had remained silent, "but what were you in for?"

Willing to Be Heir.

Outside it was snowing hard and the teacher considered it her duty to warn her charges.

"Boys and girls should be very careful to avoid colds at this time," she said solemnly. "I had a darling little brother, only 7 years old. One day he went out in the snow with his new sled and caught cold. Pneumonia set in and in three days he was dead."

A hush fell upon the schoolroom, then a youngster in the back row stood up and asked:

"Where's his sled?"—Truth Seeker.

Carelessness.

Old Lady (who has been lunching with her son)—"Here, William, you left this quarter on the table by mistake. It's lucky I saw it, because the waiter had his eye on it."—Life.

"What I want," said the young man, "is to get married and have a peaceful, quiet home." "Well, sometimes it works that way and sometimes it's like joinin' a debatin' society."

Home Made.

"My dear," said Mr. Wombat, "you look as fresh as a budding tree in your new spring dress." "The comparison is good," sneered Mrs. Wombat. "Like a tree, I had to make it myself."

ALL FARMING IS STOPPED BY HEAT

Drouth Prevents Preparations for Fall Crops.

Water Being Hauled for Stock in Missouri and Trees Are Being Felled for Feed.

Kansas City, Mo.—Added to the troubles of Kansas and Western Missouri that have come with the drought and prolonged season of heat is a threatening ice famine. Stored stocks are exhausted, and, in many cases, the outputs of the ice plants are not large enough to supply the local demands.

Over Kansas Sunday the heat was unabated. Manhattan reported 105. At Abilene 105 also was recorded, this being the 53d day of this summer on which the mercury has been above the hundred mark. Salina reported 102, Topeka 97.

Promises of cooler weather for the entire southwest is made for Monday by the government observer here. In western Missouri temperatures slightly under 100 prevailed. The mercury climbed to 102 in parts of Oklahoma, and light rains were reported from some sections of that state.

Farming operations are almost at a standstill in many places in Kansas and Missouri. Farmers cannot plow for fall crops because of the drouth. The wheat acreage is likely to be cut on this account, according to reports reaching here.

Corn that was not cut two weeks ago is now too dry for silage, according to a report from certain localities in Kansas, and this will cause additional loss of food. Fields of cane and Kaffir corn are said to be the only green stuff to be seen in many places.

Thousands of stockraisers are facing the problem of feed and water. It will be necessary for many of them either to sell their stock or ship to other places. A shortage of feed caused a stockman at Junction City, Kan., to send five carloads of cattle to Colorado to be wintered and shipped back in the spring. In Boone county, Missouri, farmers are hauling water for their stock and are cutting down trees for the animals to feed upon brush.

REFUGEES TRAVEL IN STYLE

First Class Transportation to Be Furnished Out of Mexico.

Washington.—The United States government has instructed American consuls in Mexico to furnish first-class transportation to the United States to any who desired it, the condition being that the refugees later reimburse the government, if they were able, and at their convenience. The adoption of this liberal policy was made necessary by the likelihood that many Americans would linger needlessly in the trouble-torn districts unless every facility for their departure was afforded.

Some Washington officials commented for the first time on Provisional President Huerta's declaration that if the American government were reluctant to give the refugees first-class transportation he would do so gladly. These officials, instead of resenting the offer, regarded it as generous, and remarked that they hoped Senor Huerta's beneficence would be extended to repay Americans and other foreigners for the great losses their investments had sustained through the chaos resulting from Huerta's assumption of governmental power.

There is no change in the Mexican situation, no messages of consequence being received recently either from John Lind at Vera Cruz, nor Mr. O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires. It is considered most likely that developments will await the arrival here next week of Senor De Zamacona. Though no announcement of the administration's attitude toward his mission has been made, it was predicted in many quarters he would be courteously received.

MEXICAN INVADER IS KILLED

Federal Starts Across Boundary to Kill "Gringo"

El Paso.—Before Lieutenant Acosta, an officer in General Salazar's federal command at Juarez, crossed the Stanton-street international bridge Sunday afternoon he remarked that he was "going to kill a gringo." He was killed by United States Customs Inspector T. F. Jonah and Immigration Inspector Thomas N. Heifrin, after he had opened fire on them with a rifle on the American side of the international boundary.

Heifren was standing at the American end of the bridge when Acosta first opened fire at him. He fired back, using an automatic pistol. Jonah hastened to his assistance, and began firing at the Mexican. The Mexican officer was within 30 feet of the Americans before he was killed.

Date of Wedding Set.

Windsor, Vt.—Mrs. Wilson, wife of the president, announced Sunday that the marriage of her daughter, Miss Jessie, and Francis Sayre will take place at the White House, Washington, Tuesday, November 23.

Miss Wilson is recovering from injuries which she received in a fall from a horse at Plainfield, Vt., on August 26. She frequently takes trips with Sayre in an electric car far into the country along roads leading from the summer capitol at Cornish. She wore a veil for several days following the accident, but the bruises on her face have practically healed.

Centuries Rolled Back.

University of California.—In a setting probably more closely resembling that in which it was originally produced many centuries ago than it has since known, "Electra," Sophocles' tragic poem, was staged at the Greek theatre recently. The huge open-air amphitheater was filled to its capacity of more than 10,000 and in the quiet, star-bright night not a word of the lines read on the stage was lost to anyone in the throng. Margaret Anglin appeared in the somber role of Electra, supported by her company.

Navy Never More Ready.

Pittsfield, Mass.—When asked if he regarded the United States as being prepared for any unexpected trouble with a foreign nation, Admiral Dewey said: "So far as the army is concerned I am not prepared to give an opinion, but I do not hesitate to say that the navy has never been so well prepared for war as it is at the present time."

To Grow Hair on A Bald Head

BY A SPECIALIST.

Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless; the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist; Bay Rum, 6 ounces; Lavona de Composee, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Pefume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics.

TARIFF MEASURE PASSES SENATE

LaFollette and Poindexter Join With Democrats.

Conferees Are Named at Once—Gallery and Floor Applaud as Doubtful Votes Are Cast.

Washington, D. C.—The democratic tariff revision bill passed the senate at 5:43 Tuesday, 46 to 37. The burst of applause that swept down from crowded galleries found its echo on the crowded floor of the senate. Its passage was attended with surprises in the final moments of the voting, when Senator La Follette, republican, cast his vote with the democrats, and was joined a few moments later by Senator Poindexter, "Progressive."

The democrats had counted throughout the long tariff fight on losing the votes of Senators Ransdell and Thornton, of Louisiana, democrats, who voted against the bill because it would put sugar on the free list.

Until the names of Senators La Follette and Poindexter actually were called, however, no one knew definitely the stand they would take, and their votes were greeted with enthusiastic applause. President Wilson expressed great gratification over the end of the long struggle in the senate. Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, who had piloted the bill through the finance committee, the democratic caucus and the senate, predicted that its passage would bring immediate stimulus to the business of the country.

As it passed the senate, the tariff bill represents an average reduction of more than 4 per cent of the rates of the original bill that passed the house and nearly 28 per cent from the rates of existing laws. In many important particulars the senate has changed the bill that passed the house and a conference committee of the two houses will begin work immediately to adjust these differences. Leaders of both houses predict that the conference will consume less than two weeks.

The senate endeavored to hasten the bill on its progress to the White House by naming its members of the conference as soon as the bill passed. Vice-President Marshall appointed Senators Simmons, Stone, Williams and Johnson, democrats, and Senators Penrose, Lodge and La Follette, republicans, as the senate conferees. Senator Stone withdrew from the committee and Senator Shively was appointed in his place. The house conferees, it was reported, will be Representatives Underwood, Kitchin and Rainey, democrats, and Payne and Fordney, republicans.

The final struggle began at 4 o'clock when, under a previous agreement, arbitrary votes began on pending amendments. In the closing hours of debate Senator La Follette had been the center of interest, proposing final amendments in the cotton and agricultural schedule, and discussing some features of the bill which he deemed favorable.

WAGES ARE FIXED FOR WOMEN

Minimum Scale Adopted by Commission in Portland.

Portland, Or.—The first ruling to be rendered under a compulsory minimum-wage law in the United States, for adult women workers, was made here by the Oregon Industrial Welfare Commission, following a public hearing at the new Public Library, on the recommendations of the conference called to determine proper wages, hours and conditions of labor of women factory workers in the city of Portland.

The ruling is in exact accord with the recommendations of the conference on all its three points—that the working day shall be limited to nine hours, with 54 hours as a maximum week's work; that the minimum weekly wage shall be $8.64, and that the noon-lunch period shall not be less than 45 minutes in length.

It will be unlawful for any employer to disregard the commission's ruling after 60 days, when the commission will make its formal announcement.

The law under which the commission was created and given its powers provides a penalty for conviction of violation of the commission's ruling of a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than 10 days nor more than three months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

Any employer who discharges or in any other manner discriminates against any employe because she has testified or is about to testify, or because the employer believes she is about to testify, in an investigation or proceeding under the law shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100.

Coin Scattered By Blast

Salem, Or.—Pratum was on the map in large letters Wednesday, for dollars were scattered all about its southern suburbs. A score of persons hunted for them and each one found at least one "simoleon." The postoffice was robbed during the night, the thieves loading the safe on a truck and hauling it away.

At the outskirts of the city they put a charge of dynamite into a hole they had drilled, and safe, money, and everything thereabout went aeroplaning. After the money had volplaned, the robbers picked up about $40 of it and then fled.

Marine Airship Wrecked

Berlin—The German marine airship L-1 was destroyed in a hurricane 18 miles north of Helgoland.

Torpedoboats were dispatched immediately to the scene and rescued seven of the crew. Fifteen others are reported missing, and it is almost certain they perished, as the airship remained afloat for more than an hour.

Among those who lost their lives were Captain Metzing, commander of the marine airship division; Captain Hanne, commander of the wrecked air ship, and Baron von Maltzahn.

Gerard Defers Worrying

New York—James W. Gerard has sailed on the Kron Prinzessin Cecilie to take up his duties as United States ambassador to Germany. When asked if he thought he could live on his $17,000 salary, Ambassador Gerard, whose wife's father was Marcus Daly, the copper king, replied: "That is something I should worry about later on."

SUFFERED AWFUL PAINS

For Sixteen Years. Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moretown, Vermont.—"I was troubled with pains and irregularities for sixteen years, and was thin, weak and nervous. When I would lie down it would seem as if I was going right down out of sight into some dark hole, and the window curtains had faces that would peek out at me, and when I was out of doors it would seem as if something was going to happen. My blood was poor, my circulation was so bad I would be like a dead person at times. I had female weakness badly, my abdomen was sore and I had awful pains.

"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash and they certainly did wonders for me. My troubles disappeared and I am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. W. F. SAWYER, River View Farm, Moretown, Vermont.

Another Case.

Gifford, Iowa.—"I was troubled with female weakness, also with displacement. I had very severe and steady headache, also pain in back and was very thin and tired all the time.
