NORTHWEST APPLES ON EXHIBITION IN NEW YORK

That the attention of Eastern apple connoisseurs has been directed particularly to Pacific Northwest product, is strongly evident from the following letter received recently by Ed L. Howe from Steinhardt & Kelly, of New York.

Mr. Ed. L. Howe, Mosier, Oregon, Gentlemen: In reference to our letter of last week, we take pleasure in advising you that the Apple Show which we held in the Museum of Natural History, Central Park and 77th Street, in conjunction with and through the courtesy of the New York State Horticultural Society, closed last night, after being open four days.

Our own display, which was the first and only one of its kind ever given in New York, consisted of about 210 plates, each plate holding six or seven apples or pears. Beginning Friday night and lasting all day Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, this Exhibition was visited by over two hundred and sixty-five thousand people, according to the report we just received from the superintendent of the Museum of Natural History.

We can truthfully tell you that during the Exhibition our apple display attracted more attention even than the beautiful flowers exhibited, which were certainly magnificent. It might interest you to know that this Annual Flower Show, as given by the State Horticultural Society, is one of the big society events of New York City.

The local newspapers gave the exhibit a great deal of pleasant publicity, and we might incidentally mention that we had awarded to us two silver medals, which were given as special awards. Since the Exhibition is over, the writer has had a talk with a number of the trustees of the Horticultural Society, and they were unanimous in their enthusiasm and look upon this first show merely as the forerunner of a larger and more beautiful show in seasons to come.

Of course you understand that this Exhibition cost us a great deal of money which amount, however, we laid out with a great deal of pleasure, because we know that it would not only be of benefit to you, but also to ourselves eventually. The apples exhibited came from the Yakima, Hood River, Wenatchee and Mosier districts. An exhibition of this kind under such auspices is certainly of inestimable value to the apple industry of the entire Northwest. When you consider that the Museum of Natural History is an endowed institution under the direct management of the municipality of New York City, you can naturally infer therefrom that it took a great deal of prestige to be permitted to make an exhibit in that magnificent building, which is looked upon as the greatest museum of natural history in the world.

Sincerely yours, STEINHARDT & KELLY.

PRaise for Mosier Apples

Expressions of appreciation of the quality of Mosier apples are becoming frequent and naturally they are deserved.

Recently, C. A. McCargar shipped some apples to a customer in Kansas City, Mo., and under date of 6th inst., the gentleman writes:

C. A. McCargar, Mosier, Ore. Dear Sir: I just opened my box of Spitzengbergs and find enclosed your card in explanation of the growth, selection and pack of these apples. I therefore wish to express my entire satisfaction.

Assuring you of my appreciation of the high standard of your apples and the packing of same, and wishing you every success in maintaining this high standard, I am,

Yours very truly, H. C. WHERRIET.

WHAT A CONTRAST!

While the Middle West, Eastern and Southern States have been suffering from blizzards and freezing weather, snow storms and winter rains, we in Oregon have been enjoying Indian Summer, with never a killing frost as yet. Roses and Fall flowers are blooming in the gardens and many vegetables are still green.

This is usual with us at this season, just as it is usual for the sections above mentioned to have the other extremes. Many people in the East regard a trip to the Pacific Coast as impossible long and arduous, as well as expensive. Even yet it is difficult for them to conceive that the West offers as many advantages in the matter of comforts and conveniences of civilization as obtain at home, and that the climatic conditions here are more conducive to health and longevity. Let the Easterners who have never been away from home ask those who have been West to Oregon, for instance, people who can give them accurate information, and we wager that next Spring's colonist and tourist traffic to the Pacific Coast will be the heaviest in railroad history.

Let them come! Oregon can furnish homes, employment and investments for hundreds of thousands of them.

INDIAN WAR DANCE AT ORTLEY

Who about Mosier has ever seen an Indian war dance? Probably very few.

There are forty or fifty Indians working at Ortley at present and among them are two who had charge of the Indian dances at the Rose Festival in Portland, last summer. These scions of the "F. F. of A." have conceived the idea of amusing the "Boston men" and their friends, and incidentally annex unto themselves some of white man's wampum, and accordingly will give an exhibition of their native songs and dances at the hall in Ortley, next Sunday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The entertainment is given exclusively by the Indians, of whom about 25 bucks and squaws will participate. No paleface allowed in the ring.

The Mosier people are cordially invited.

HOTEL CHANGES HANDS

The Hotel Mosier changed hands this week, Mr. and Mrs. Stryker having disposed of their interest to Walter G. Glyod, of Portland, who, with his wife, will take possession today or tomorrow.

Mr. Stryker and family, who have successfully operated the hotel for over a year, will move to Portland.

ODD FELLOWS GO TO WASCO

About 14 Odd Fellows from the local lodge joined 40 from Hood River, Monday night, in a special train, and, picking up a big bunch in The Dalles, went to Wasco to attend the annual convention of the order. They report a hi-time.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE FARMERS' WEEK

December 8 to 13, 1913

This will be a notable event in the educational history of Oregon. Farmers' Co-operation will be the leading topic of a stimulating series of lectures. The week will be crowded with discussions, and demonstrations in everything that makes for the welfare of the farmer and home-maker.

WINTER SHORT COURSE

January 5 to 30, 1914

The College has spared no effort to make this the most complete short course in its history. A very wide range of courses will be offered in General Agriculture, Horticulture, Animal Husbandry, Dairying, Poultry Keeping, Mechanic Arts, Domestic Science and Art, Commerce, Forestry, and Music. Numerous lectures and discussions on FARMERS' CO-OPERATION, at home and abroad, will be a leading feature. Make this a pleasant and profitable winter outing. No tuition. Accommodations reasonable. Reduced rates on all railroads. For further information address:

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Wasco County.

OSCAR C. BLOWERS, Plaintiff, vs. ELMA BLOWERS, Defendant.

In the name of the State of Oregon, You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit within six weeks, after personal service of this summons upon you outside of the State of Oregon, or within six weeks from the date of the first publication of this notice.

If you fail to so appear and answer said complaint, plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in his said complaint.

The relief demanded is a decree of divorce forever dissolving the marriage relations now existing between plaintiff and defendant.

This summons is served upon you by publication by order of Honorable W. L. Bradshaw, Judge of the above entitled court, by order made and entered on Oct. 23, 1913, and published in the Mosier Bulletin, the date of first publication will be Oct. 31, 1913, and the last publication will be Dec. 12, 1913. JOHN GAVIN, Attorney for Plaintiff.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Wasco County.

BERTHA MADDAUGH, Plaintiff, vs. WM. MADDAUGH, Defendant.

To Wm. Maddaugh, the above named defendant:

In the Name of the State of Oregon, You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons hereinafter stated, and if you fail to so appear and answer said complaint, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the decree prayed for in her complaint, to-wit:

For a decree to the effect that the bonds of matrimony heretofore existing between the plaintiff and the defendant be forever annulled, set aside and held for naught; that the plaintiff be granted an absolute divorce from the defendant and for such other relief as to the Court may seem equitable and just.

You are hereby notified that this summons is served upon you by publication for six consecutive weeks in the Mosier Bulletin, by order of the Court made September 26th, 1913, and the date of the first publication thereof is the third day of October, 1913, and the date of the last publication thereof will be on the fourteenth day of November, 1913. PAUL W. CHILDESS, Attorney for Plaintiff.

No Bugaboos Down Cellar

Children can save you many tedious steps; but the tired mother hates to send a child into a dark cellar, and children dislike to go there. No cellar need be dark now-a-days, to terrify children and worry older people. A ray of sunshine from an Edison Mazda Lamp conveniently located in the cellar-way will brighten the darkest cellar at the mere touch of a switch.
