PRIZE FOR MOSIER APPLES

We are in receipt of a letter from Judd S. Fish, Secretary of The Dalles Business Men's Association, which we take pleasure in giving publicity, as it gives prominence to Mosier fruit, and shows a friendly disposition on the part of our county seat neighbors to properly recognize Mosier. Mr. Fish says:

"We have received from J. M. Carroll and Thos. Henningsen, of Mosier, two boxes of apples that outclass anything I have seen for many a day. We have them in our exhibition windows, showing the location, name of grower, etc., and if more of your growers would send us any of their products, we will gladly give them a prominent place and full credit.

"I am sure the hundreds of people who see our exhibit will remember seeing something from Mosier."

Yours truly,
JUDD S. FISH, Secy.

COLUMBIA GORGE EQUALS THE RHINE.

It's all foolishness for Americans to hike over to Switzerland to see grand scenery when we have the Columbia River gorge, according to Frank B. Riley, vice president for Oregon of the Pacific Highway Association, who defined the public value of the Columbia River gorge in an address at Portland recently. He said in part:

"Let's capitalize the glories of the Columbia gorge. There is nothing so productive as the investment in a tourist. Let's all help to divert from the pockets of the guides and dairymen, the truck farmers and motor drivers of Switzerland some of the four hundred million of American dollars which we are leaving in Europe this one summer, and which equal sum Phil Bates will tell you we are likely to leave until we rouse ourselves from our lethargy.

"Let's save some of that money intended for French innkeepers. See America first? Yes! And the Columbia will do as much as anything I know to stimulate a new American appreciation of American scenery.

"I've seen the Rhine, have floated on its tide. I've seen those steeply rising terraced vineyards, the quaint villages that fringe its shores. I've wound about under those ghosts of storied castles, once the abode of ancient chivalry and romance. Enchanting? Yes! But the blue portal hills above Vancouver invite you to enter a region by which all other river chasms of the earth must be measured. Unlike the Rhine, there is no Lorelei sitting just in her skin, with flowing hair upon a frowning cliff of the Columbia, to lure the mariner to destruction. But I have seen modern maidens as lovely, in costumes almost as tight as their skin, reposing on the bluffs at Chanticleer. They were not there to lure or to destroy; but they were nonetheless alluring.

"Sunny, romantic California has been affectionately praised by her loyal children. Why don't we get busy? The singular beauties and grandeur of the lordly river and its chasms should inspire the artist, the poet; and what priceless material for the romancer—the coming Walter Scott of the Columbia Basin."

HERE'S TO THE OREGON HEN.

A short time ago the Oregon Agricultural College announced the fact that a cross-bred hen had turned out 291 eggs in her first twelve months of usefulness, and stated that no other egg machine had ever before reached that rate of speed. Now, the college announces, the original best-hen-in-the-world will have to take a back seat, as another liddy at the same institution has suceeded in laying 303 eggs in exactly one year. This new hen, like the former record-breaker, is a cross between the Barred Rocks and White Leghorns.

Professor Dryden, in charge of the poultry department at the college, says that no special attempt, out side of the breeding, was made to secure high records. The methods followed in feeding and general care were such as might be profitably followed by any farmer or owner of poultry. The 303 eggs produced by the record-breaking hen weighed 42 pounds, or about eight times the weight of the hen herself, and were remarkably uniform in size, shape and color. Many requests have been received at the college to place the hen on exhibition, but on account of her great value as a breeder it has been decided that the risks are greater than the value of the advertising.

Ortley Items

The Hood River Orchard Land Co. finished digging their 500 acres of potatoes Wednesday.

The lumber is on the ground for a new sidewalk at the school house.

B. E. Youmans, of Portland, and Mr. Kibbee and family, of Mosier, spent the week-end at Ortley.

Rev. Jas. Elvin, of The Dalles, will give an illustrated lecture at the hall Friday, Nov. 21.

The Indians who have been digging potatoes at Ortley, gave a war dance at the hall Sunday evening.

The big shaft for the rock crusher, replacing the one broken a week ago, arrived Wednesday from Milwaukee, Wis., and the crusher crew is working night and day to place it in position so that they may resume work at the earliest possible moment. The shaft weighs ten tons. The shaft of the smaller crusher was also broken and it is likewise being replaced by a new one.

Are you ready for Thanksgiving? We have just received all the good things to make the meal a happy one. New crop almonds, walnuts, pecans, filberts, Brazils, Calimyrna figs, Fard dates, layer raisins, cranberries, cabbage and salad dressing, mince meat, citron, currants, olives, pickles, imported beans, peas, Macedoine mushrooms, Anchovies. Remember, for all good things to eat, this is your store. Strauss.

Burglars entered the store of E. M. Strauss early Wednesday morning and proceeded to make themselves at home. They created more or less noise in their operations and awoke the clerk, Mr. Danielsen, who lives in the rooms over the store. Mr. Danielsen turned on the light at the front of the store, frightening the thieves away before they had time to secure anything of value. After getting in through a rear window, they opened two doors, in order to make a safe get-away. It is supposed that they went to Hood River, and Marshal Carson of that town scoured the country for them Wednesday, but found no trace of them.

SOME APPLE

We grow some big, fine apples in this country which we think bring big prices; but we take off our hats to an English apple which was sold recently for £16 16s—something over $81 of Uncle Sam's money. The variety of the apple is not given, but it was grown at the King's Acres Nurseries, Hereford.

This may have been the same kind of an apple that grew in the garden that Father Adam cultivated awhile. The apples were cheaper in those days, but the experience cost him and the rest of us a right smart.

Many people are not contented with their work because they are not sufficiently interested in it. Their minds wander to other things instead of being concentrated on their rightful employment. If they gave it more of their attention they would probably learn to love it. This failure to concentrate is one chief reason why so many young men drift from one thing to another and make a failure of each.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

FARMERS' WEEK

December 8 to 13, 1913

This will be a notable event in the educational history of Oregon. Farmers' Co-operation will be the leading topic of a stimulating series of lectures. The week will be crowded with discussions, and demonstrations in everything that makes for the welfare of the farmer and home-maker.

WINTER SHORT COURSE

January 5 to 30, 1914

The College has spared no effort to make this the most complete short course in its history. A very wide range of courses will be offered in General Agriculture, Horticulture, Animal Husbandry, Dairying, Poultry Keeping, Mechanic Arts, Domestic Science and Art, Commerce, Forestry, and Music. Numerous lectures and discussions on FARMERS' CO-OPERATION, at home and abroad, will be a leading feature. Make this a pleasant and profitable winter outing. No tuition. Accommodations reasonable. Reduced rates on all railroads. For further information address

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Wasco County.

OSCAR C. BLOWERS,

Plaintiff,

vs.

ELMA BLOWERS,

Defendant.

In the name of the State of Oregon, You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit within six weeks, after personal service of this summons upon you outside of the State of Oregon, or within six weeks from the date of the first publication of this notice.

If you fail to so appear and answer said complaint, plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded by his said complaint.

The relief demanded is a decree of divorce forever dissolving the marriage relations now existing between plaintiff and defendant.

This summons is served by publication by order of the Hon. W. L. Bradshaw, Judge of the above entitled court, by order made and entered on Oct. 23, 1913, and published in the Mosier Bulletin, the date of first publication will be Oct. 31, 1913, and the last publication will be Dec. 12, 1913.

JOHN GAVIN,

Attorney for Plaintiff.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Wasco County.

PEARL B. CRIGER,

Plaintiff,

vs.

IDA CRIGER,

Defendant.

To IDA CRIGER, the above named defendant:

In the Name of the State of Oregon, You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before the 5th day of January, 1914, and if you fail to so appear and answer said complaint, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the decree prayed for in her complaint, to-wit:

For a decree of the Court forever dissolving and holding for naught the bonds of matrimony heretofore existing between the plaintiff and the defendant and for such other relief as to the Court may seem equitable.

This Summons is published in the MOSIER BULLETIN, a weekly newspaper of general circulation published in Wasco County, Oregon, for six (6) consecutive weeks, being seven issues thereof, in compliance with an order of the Hon. W. L. Bradshaw, Judge of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Wasco County, which order is dated the 17th day of November, 1913, and the date of the first publication of this summons is the 21st day of November, 1913, and the date of the last publication of summons is the 2nd day of January, 1914.
