NEWSPAPER LAW

The supreme court of the United States recently made a ruling which in substance makes the subscriber who takes his paper out of the post office and refuses to pay the subscription, guilty of felony and as liable to arrest as any other who defrauds says the Olympia Independent.

The following is a synopsis of the U. S. supreme court decision regarding delinquent subscriptions and is published as a matter of information for all those who are subscribers to newspapers:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscription.

2. Subscribers ordering the discontinuance of their periodical the publisher may continue to send it until all arrearage has been paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodical from the postoffice, they are responsible until they settle their bill and order their paper discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher and papers are sent to former address, subscribers are responsible.

5. Courts have decided that refusing periodicals from the office or moving and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud.

6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of time if they do not want to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice with payment is sent to the publisher.
