Washington, D. C .- W. O. Thompson, of Chicago, was appointed counsel of the United States commission on industrial relations. Chairman Walsh made this announcement with the explanation that Mr. Thompson, an ex-pert on labor problems, would accom-pany the commission and take an active part in the hearings soon to be conducted in different parts of the country to develop a basis for an effort to improve relations between employers and employes.

Mr. Walsh, discussing work of the commission, said its efforts would be centered on devising and putting into operation machinery through which labor disputes can be amicably settled.

Present industrial conditions, he said, furnished a problem imperatively demanding immediate solution. "Industrialism has come on us like lightning out of a clear sky," he added. "Fifty years ago we were an agricultural people, living in rural dis-tricts and small towns in the most part, and having a chance of getting nto a firm whenever we took a job. And now! Huge cities, sucking the very marrow out of the country—a change in employment from the small store to some monster corporation that squats in one state and exercises tentacular activities in 20. It has come so suddenly that we have not had time to adjust ourselves to new conditions. "We are still going along as though there had been no economic disturb-ance. Of course there is trouble and it is not at all improbable that this trouble may assume the shape of re-volution unless our industrial, political and social institutions are changed to meet the new demands."
