This offer is made for a limited time and its object is threefold---to introduce the Iron into all the homes where electricity is used, where the Iron is not supplied; to induce our subscribers to keep their subscriptions paid up, and to give consumers of electricity an opportunity to secure one of these Irons---a boon to the housewife---at less than cost.

Call at the BULLETIN office and inspect these Irons.

GOOD ROADS ENTHUSIASTS HERE

Two automobiles filled with parties from The Dalles, including County Judge Gunning, Commissioners Rooper and Clausen, County Clerk Fox, Charles Darneille, of The Dalles, Louis Clark of Hood River, A. S. Benson and son of Portland, and Major Bowlby, State Highway Engineer, were in town Wednesday en route to Hood River to interview the Hood River County officials in regard to the route of the Columbia River Highway between Hood River and Mosier.

While here the party, accompanied by Messrs. C. A. McCargar, J. K. McGregor and Dr. Robinson, went out to Mayerdale to inspect a piece of road which M. A. Mayer had applied to the county court to have macadamed, offering to put dollar for dollar into the work. We understand the Court has accepted Mr. Mayer's offer and that work on the road will be commenced soon.

While in town the county officials commended very highly the good work being done on our streets.

OUR PUBLIC STREETS

Mosier has always been in need of improvements of various kinds, but particularly her streets and sidewalks. It has often been said that there were not enough public spirited citizens in the town to start and carry through any public work. On a number of occasions the citizens of the town and immediate vicinity did get together and spent a day cleaning up the town and it looked pretty good for a time. But no improvement of a permanent nature has ever been attempted until now. It has remained for the Mosier Commercial Club to start the ball of progress rolling. This aside from the individual efforts of several business men of the town, who have spent time and money in improving the streets in front of their property. The work the Commercial Club has undertaken is of a permanence and magnitude that make it a lasting monument to the public spirit and energy of its members.

This work—the grading and gravelling of Main street, is not yet completed, but will be soon. The Commercial Club, in starting this much needed improvement, did so without any thought of usurping the rights and privileges or the authority of the city fathers, or with any idea that a possible objection could be made. The improvement was an absolute necessity, and was so considered by the city council; but owing to the peculiar financial condition of the city at present, it was impossible for the city to take the responsibility. Hence the club "butted in"---to good purpose. A number of the city dads, who are also members of the commercial club, were enthusiastic boosters of the movement and donated their teams and labor to the cause.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday last were devoted to the work, Saturday being the big day. The ladies of Mosier prepared a sumptuous dinner which was served at noon in Chown's Hall, and to which all the hired men and volunteers were invited. For their efforts in behalf of the public work, the club extends to these ladies its grateful thanks. The Mosier ladies have always proven their willingness to assist in any public enterprise.

The work of gravelling the streets could not have been done without considerable expense had it not been for the generosity of W. C. Stone, superintendent of the rock crusher, and J. N. Mosier, who has an interest in the screenings from the crusher. These gentlemen donated the gravel to put on the road, and the donations of money and labor from other citizens made it possible to have Main Street graded and the gravel spread. When the street is properly curbed and rolled it will present a hard surface that will be a pleasure to drive over and will last for years.

So much for the energy and progressiveness of the Mosier Commercial Club, which has other things of a public nature in view---if the city dads don't beat them to it.

ORTLEY SHOW PEOPLE BUSY

Saturday, May 23rd, is the date set for the appearance of the Ortley people with their show in Mosier. It will be given in Ortley two nights previous.

Reports during the past week state that great progress is being made in rounding the caste of the play, "Mr. Bob," into shape. With their initial performance so near at hand, every effort is being made to eliminate everything that looks amateurish. Roy Firebaugh is taking care of the coaching end of the business and is of professional caliber.

"Mr. Bob" will take up a large part of the evening; however, skits, songs and stunts will round out the program, giving everyone a most enjoyable entertainment.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

A short-call meeting of the Commercial Club was held in the library building Monday evening to discuss ways and means of continuing the good work on the streets begun by the club. Harmony and enthusiasm prevailed and it was the expressed determination of those present, particularly those who have already so generously donated of their time, labor and money, to finish what they had begun.

Negotiations have been pending with the county court and the officials of The Dalles to secure the steam roller for use on our streets. The club had practically been assured of it, and while they greatly appreciate the offer, they decided that, considering the difficulty and expense in getting in down from The Dalles and returning it, it would probably be better in the end to build one here where it can be had at all times.

Other matters of public improvement were suggested and they will be taken up and further discussed at a club smoker to be held in Chown's Hall next Monday night. Every member of the club is particularly requested to be present because, aside from the interesting and important topics to be discussed, you'll miss a good time if you don't come. Also, each member should make an effort to bring a friend with him who would like to become a member.

Don't forget the time and the place.

CANDIDATES FOREGATHER

The get-together meeting of the state, legislative and county candidates in Chwn's Hall, last Saturday afternoon was well attended, considering the large number of men who were busily engaged working the streets. There were quite a number of ladies present who were interested listeners to the speeches made by the various candidates.

The meeting was opened by C. J. Littlepage, who started the political ball rolling by introducing in turn the three representative candidates--A. I. Mason, J. L. Kelly and Dr. J. E. Anderson, who expressed their views on good roads, the Columbia River highway, the unpopular tax law, and legislation in general.

The meeting was favored by the presence of William A. Carter, republican candidate for governor--in fact, the only gubernatorial candidate who considered Mosier of sufficient importance to notice. This in itself will prove a strong card for Mr. Carter, who made an interesting, logical and forceful talk, convincing his hearers of his ability and sincerity. The general opinion among the republicans was that "Carter would be a good man to tie to."

The county candidates then followed Mr. Carter, each in turn telling why he was running for office and promising good and efficient service if elected.

At the close of the meeting the candidates were personally presented to many of the voters, particularly the ladies, some of whom afterward said, when asked for whom they would vote, "Why, we want to vote for all of them, they're all so nice."

Of all the county candidates up for nomination, there were but seven absent from the meeting. They were H. C. Rooper, for commissioner, L. C. Henneghan, for same office; Peter Stone and O. L. Paquet, out for sheriff; Roy Campbell for surveyor, Hallie Rice for treasurer and L. B. Fox for county clerk, tho the latter sent a letter of regret at his inability to attend.

C. H. Stranahan, of Hood River, representative candidate, was also absent.

W. H. Walton, representing the Hood River press, was in attendance.
