

LAST THREE PRESIDENTS OPPOSED TO PROHIBITION

PRESIDENT WILSON SAYS:

"I am in favor of Local Option. I am a thorough believer in LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT and believe that every self-governing community which constitutes a social unit should have the right to CONTROL the matter of the regulation or the withholding of licenses."

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT

Ex-President, Statesman, Jurist and Professor. In an address on Civic Duty, said:

"Nothing is more foolish, nothing more utterly at variance with sound policy, than to enact a law which, on account of conditions surrounding the community, is incapable of enforcement. Such instances are presented by sumptuary laws by which the sale of intoxicating liquors is prohibited under penalties in localities where the public sentiment will not sustain the enforcement of the law."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

Ex-President, Soldier, Explorer and one of the most remarkable leaders in the United States, is a strong champion of LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT and Home Rule. He has never raised his voice in behalf of statewide prohibition, and so he has suffered attacks from radical and hysterical prohibitionists. As between a man of Theodore Roosevelt's ability and standing and those who are the paid emissaries of professional propagandists, the voters of Oregon will not be slow in passing upon the wisdom and credibility of the witnesses.

With these three National Leaders agreed on the issue of Prohibition, isn't it wisdom to follow their course?

Movement is noticeable among the railroads and coast city hotels in preparation for the immense travel in the northwest expected next year. The Panama Exposition and the war in Europe will each contribute to the diversion of an immense passenger traffic into the country. It will be the greatest opportunity that ever happened to show Mosier to the world and our people should be alive to the opening.

The one topic of absorbing interest in Portland last week was the failure of the attempt of Dr. Calvin S. White and others to pass through the council an ordinance stopping "Painless Parker" from giving dental exhibitions on the streets. When the ordinance was first introduced it was announced that it would have easy sailing through the council, but when it came up for final passage last Wednesday the votes stood 4 to 1 in favor of its indefinite postponement. This is looked upon as a test vote in the city council on the subject of excluding public speakers from the streets.

COUNTY COURT RECEIVES

Tomorrow the county court will be at home in the new court house to all visitors, and a cordial invitation is extended to all citizens and taxpayers to call during the day and evening and inspect the building and receive the courtesies of the court.

The people of Wasco county should take a personal pride in this new court house not only because they "chipped in," their little or big mite to pay for it, and it is theirs, but because it is a magnificent structure and has been pronounced the finest piece of architectural skill to be seen in the state. Not one item is missing to make it comfortable and convenient—a thing of beauty and a joy forever. And it is PAID FOR.
