Real "One-Hoss Shay."

The original "one-hoss shay" is now at the Berkshire museum of natural history and art. This shay was featured in a poem. The old chaise was presented to the museum by Francis W. Rockwell, who owned it for many years. It was formerly owned by the late Amasa Rice of Pittsfield and his son, Robert A. Rice, has told Mr. Rockwell of Oliver Wendell Holmes' frequent visits to examine the old chaise during his residence in Pittsfield, 1848-1865, and it is believed that this is how Mr. Holmes gained his inspiration for his famous poem, "The One-Hoss Shay." Mr. Rockwell writes that this chaise is over 100 years old. It was formerly the property of Samuel McKay, one of Pittsfield's first citizens in his day, 1793-1834. In the inventory of his estate one item was "One gig and harness, $130."

Mr. McKay was interested in other forms of transit, for record shows that "S. M. McKay, Lemuel Pomeroy and T. A. Gould were incorporated with a capital of $240,000 as the Pittsfield & West Stockbridge Railroad company." Mr. McKay gained the title "colonel" as one of the governor's military aides.—Pittsfield (Mass.) Correspondence, Springfield Republican.

IN STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Miss BERTHA A. PELOQUIN, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia and Exhaustion,' and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—Miss LAVISA MYRES, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Occupation of Island by Japanese Concerns U. S.

Washington, D. C.—Declining in the absence of all the facts to express any opinion as to whether the Japanese landing on the island of Jaluit, one of the Marshall group in the Pacific ocean, is in violation of the announcement by the Japanese foreign office at the beginning of the war, that Japan's operations would be confined to the Far East, Secretary Bryan was plainly expecting the early arrival of some official statement of the ultimate purpose of this act.

Already the Japanese military operations against the German concession in Shan Tung are being studied, probably animated by the appeal from the Chinese government against violation of Chinese integrity. The landing on the Marshall islands, however, has not yet been made the subject of representations to the State department, possibly for the reason that there is no one in a position corresponding to that of China.

In Samoa, it is pointed out by officials, the United States has a lively interest in any change in the sovereignty of the group, as the German-owned islands are in close proximity to the American island of Tutila.

On the whole, official opinion is that while the United States is interested as would be any maritime power, since the group lies on the trade route around Cape Horn and through the Straits of Magellan to the Orient, the issue really is of much greater concern to Great Britain. Because of the reluctance of the British-Australian colonies to have the Japanese approach their continent, the British government itself is understood to have an explicit understanding with her ally, Japan, that the British alone are free to exploit the important German insular possessions in Micronesia and in New Guinea.

Democrat Caucus Proposes Heaviest Tax on Liquors

Washington, D. C.—The caucus of senate Democrats on the war revenue bill falied to complete its labors Wednesday. Decision had been reached, however, that imposes the bulk of the $100,000,000 emergency revenue measure on beer and whiskey, which will yield nearly $50,000,000 annually under increased taxation.

The caucus also eliminated proposed taxes on gasoline and automobile sales and cut in two the proposed $2 per thousand tax on bank capital and surplus. Consideration of various stamp taxes and emergency levies on perfumery, cosmetics and proprietary medicines as proposed by the Democrats of the senate finance committee, was not reached.

First action of the caucus was to vote an increase in the proposed extra tax on beer from 50 cents to 75 cents a barrel, to make the total tax $1.75 a barrel, with a drawback of 5 per cent for purchase of revenue stamps in advance.

The amendment, urged by Senator Williams, of Mississippi, was carried by a large majority after Senator Stone had made a vigorous speech against it. A special revenue tax on rectifiers of distilled spirits of 5 cents a gallon also was adopted.

Together the proposed taxes on liquors would yield an annual revenue of more than $50,000,000.

Democrats of the finance committee had agreed to the house tax of $1.50 a barrel on beer, which would yield, at 50 cents over the normal tax, an added revenue of $32,500,000 annually. The further addition of 25 cents a barrel by the senate Democrats would yield another $16,000,000. With the 5 per cent discount for prompt payment figured, the least to be derived from beer would be approximately $46,000,000.

English Help Japanese in Tsing Tau Bombardment

Pekin—A communication received here from a German source in Tsing Tau, the fortified position in the Kiau Chau territory, sets forth that in a German sortie last Friday night the Germans lost one man killed and three wounded, while 25 Germans are missing. A British battleship, according to this same information, has participated in the bombardment of Tsing Tau. A German torpedo boat, recently engaged with the Japanese, has returned to the harbor undamaged. The German gunboat Jaguar was slightly damaged.

American Is Released.

London—George S. Speetz, a racing man, who said he was in the employ of W. E. D. Stokes, and who was arrested by Scotland Yard detectives on the charge of carrying letters between London and Berlin, has been released at the request of the American ambassador. He will sail for New York. Speetz was in charge of a racing stable at Vienna, and when the war began he came to London. Subsequently he made several trips to Berlin, which attracted the suspicion of Scotland Yard.

Von Kluck in Bad Place.

London—The Daily Mail's correspondent in France reports fighting in and around Douai, south of Lille, and considers that if the French have reached Douai in force the situation of the German General Von Kluck must be desperate. "General Von Kluck," the correspondent says, "has had all the reinforcements which can be spared him, and yet finds himself outnumbered at every point. The timidity of the German outposts, who surrender when surprised, is strong evidence of their demoralization."

Blame Put on French.

London—The Amsterdam correspondent of Reuter's Telegram company says that dispatches from Berlin deny indignantly the reported destruction by German troops of the property of M. Poincare, president of France, at Ribecourt. They declare this property was the center of a heavy battle near Verdun, and that it was bombarded by French artillery. The charges of the Countess de Bays that the German Crown Prince looted her chateau also are ridiculed. It is declared that the Crown Prince never was in this mansion.

NORTHWEST MARKET REPORTS.

Portland — Wheat trading in the country was limited, not only because of the extreme prices asked by farmers, but also owing to the congested condition of the docks here and at the Sound ports.

Local buyers on the Exchange bid lower for club and red wheat, offering 94 cents for the former and 88@89 cents for the latter, but for forty-fold, bids were advanced half a cent to 98½ cents. Bluestem was unchanged at $1.02½ bid.

Weakness was in evidence in the oats and barley markets. For spot oats, buyers offered $25.50 and for November oats, $26.50. For barley, $20 was bid. Mill feed was unchanged.

Wheat — Bid: Bluestem, $1.02½c per bushel; forty-fold, 98½c; club, 90c; red Russian, 88c; red Fife, 89c.

Oats — Bid: No. 1 white feed, $25.50 per ton.

Barley—Bid: No. 1 feed, $20 per ton; brewing, $20; bran, $23; shorts, $24.50.

Millfeed—Spot prices: Bran, $25@26.50 per ton; shorts, $28@28.50; rolled barley, $28.

Corn—Whole, $38 per ton; cracked, $39.

Hay—Eastern Oregon timothy, $16@17 per ton; grain hay, $11@12; alfalfa, $12@13.50.

The English hop crop is turning out to be larger than was estimated. Every cable received in the past few days makes the quantity greater. The cables estimated a yield of 500,000 cwt., and a cable sent by one of the largest London firms said the crop would be 600,000 cwt. Either the English merchants were badly fooled by the size of the crop before it was picked, for they estimated it then at 350,000 to 400,000 cwt., or they are trying by means of these big figures to get prices down. The market in London has gone off badly. A cable quotation being 50 to 90 shillings per cwt., equal to 10.71 to 19.29 cents per pound.

This break in London prices is not only a severe blow to the English hop growers, but it is also carrying down hop prices on the Pacific Coast. The best price reported in the local market is 13½ cents. The market stood at that figure just before the war. After hostilities began prices started climbing until they touched 18-19 cents and a fraction over. Now they are back again where they started. These low prices, if they are maintained, will give the shorts an opportunity to cover their sales at a profit. Thousands of bales of Oregon hops were sold short for October delivery at 14 to 18 cents. Two individual sales of 1000 bales each are known to have been made within this range of prices. An active covering movement in the near future can therefore be looked for.

Eggs — Fresh Oregon ranch, case count, 32½c per dozen; candled, 33@35c.

Poultry — Hens, 13@13½ cents per pound; turkeys, young, 18 @ 20c; ducks, 10@11c; geese, 10@11c.

Butter — Creamery prints, extras, 35c per pound; cubes, 30@32c.

Pork—Block, 10½@13c per pound.

Veal—Fancy, 12½@13c per pound; rough and heavy, 9@10c.

Vegetables — Cucumbers, $1.50 per box; eggplant, 7c per pound; peppers, 6c; artichokes, 85c@$1 per box; tomatoes, 30@60c per crate; cabbage, 1½c per pound; peas, 10@11c; beans, 6@8c; corn, 75c@$1 per sack; celery, 50@85c per dozen; cauliflower, $1.25@1.75; asparagus, $2.25; sprouts, 10c per pound.

Onions—Yellow, $1@1.25 per sack.

Green Fruits — Apples, 75c@$1.50 per box; cantaloupes, $1 @ 1.50 per crate; casabas, $1.25@1.50 per dozen; pears, $1@1.50 per box; peaches, 45@65c; grapes, 75c@$1.50 per crate; cranberries, $8.50 per barrel.

Wool—Valley, 18½@20½c per pound; Eastern Oregon, 16@20c; mohair, 1914 clip, 27c.

Hogs—Light, $8@8.05; heavy, $7@7.05.

Sheep — Wethers, $4@5.40; ewes, $3.50@4.50; lambs, $5@6.

Seattle—Butter is so plentiful that prominent jobbers predict that the market will not move in either direction for at least a month. The public purse is not favorable, it is asserted, to any fancy prices at this time, and so greater caution is being observed in increasing the cost of the staple. Dealers declare frankly that the people will not pay any more for butter than they are doing at present.

Excessive insurance and exchange rates, it is expected, will bar New England imports as long as the war continues, and the end of the conflict is now so remote that jobbers have practically abandoned any hope of bringing in the foreign product. There is no incentive to do so at this time, since there is plenty of storage butter, and Washington creamery firsts are being turned out at a greater rate than the trade can absorb.

Eggs — Select ranch, 41@42c per dozen; Chinese, 18 @ 22c; Eastern Aprils, 29c; local Aprils, 32c; fresh Eastern, 30@35c.

Butter—Washington creamery firsts, cubes, 34c per pound; do. bricks, 35c; city creamery bricks, 35c; Oregon, 30 @ 31c; jobbing basis, 35c; storage, 30c; fresh Eastern, 32@33c.

Wheat—Bluestem, $1.04 per bushel; forty-fold, 98c; club, 93c; Fife, 90c; red Russian, 88c; Turkey red, 98c.

Oats—$30@31 per ton; rolled barley, $26@27c; rye, $40; middlings, $35@36; shorts, $29@31.

Feed—Bran, $28@29 per ton; chop, $31@32; rolled barley, $26@27; alfalfa meal, $20; alfalfa molasses, $22; whole corn, $38@39; cracked corn, $39 40; feed wheat, $34@35; straw, $9.

Hay — Puget Sound, $14 per ton; Eastern Washington, $17@18; alfalfa, $13@14; wheat hay, $12.

ACQUAINTED WITH FIAT LUX

Secretary of Western Senator Was More Concerned With Two Lady Friends Than Correspondent.

There is one young man in Washington, acting as secretary to a senator from a western state, who will be more careful in his correspondence in the coming months. He is a diplomat and prides himself on his tact, but in one case this spring his diplomacy was just one too many.

The senator has frequently been the recipient of letters from people who sign some nom de plume, as "Pro Bono Publico," "Anon," "E Pluribus Unum" and similar phrases. Recently a letter came in regard to the senator's vote on the Panama tolls question, and the cataract of advice was signed simply "Fiat Lux" a translation of which would be: "Let there be light."

"Now, this secretary did not think much about the signature, evidently. His head was bothering more with the problem of how to take two girls down the river on the same boat and keep them friends, and also as to the state of an extremely flat purse. But habit was strong and he ran off the following letter.

"Mr. Fiat Lux, Smithville, Ky. My Dear Sir:—I was glad to get your letter and note carefully its excellent advice. It is always a pleasure to hear from you or any of your family, and I recall with pleasure meeting you on the occasion of my last trip too Smithville."

As the senator happened to read this over when submitted for signature, it never was sent—and the secretary is congratulating himself that it was not.—Washington Star.

Useful Art.

The man in the automobile duster and goggles confronted an artist painting a picture by the roadside.

"Say," said the motorist, "I'll give you five dollars for that picture just as it is. Don't put another stroke to it."

"I am really very flattered by your offer," replied the artist, "but why not wait until the picture is finished?"

"Can't. I need the canvas to mend a busted tire with."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

PROOF.

Tom—Gee! But she's homely.

Dick—Homely! Why, an amateur photographer would flatter her if he took her picture.

Envious.

Chatting in front of a motor mart the tall blonde said to the short brunette:

"Whadyethink, Mayme says she is going to spend her money for a new machine."

"That so?" the short brunette quizzed. "I thought she usually had her sewing done by a dressmaker."—Youngstown Telegram.

Desperation.

"How long is that orchestra going to play in the grillroom?" asked the nervous stranger in a large city.

"For several more hours," replied the clerk. "Do you want to leave a call?"

"A what?"

"A call. Do you want us to wake you up?"

"Great Scott! No! Give me something to put me to sleep!"

Perfunctory Trouble.

"That speech you made placing me in nomination was a splendid statement of the case," said the grateful candidate.

"Yes," replied the old campaigner. "It was a fine statement. But we're going to have a dickens of a time proving it."

The Paper Strategists.

While the war lasts mathematical warriors will balance corps against corps and ship against ship in the newspaper columns, but in a real war all the paper strategy counts for nothing. That poor little Prussia, in 1756, could not possibly make head against Austria, France, Russia, Sweden and Saxony was as demonstrable on paper as that two and two make four. But the Seven Years' war was decided by a factor quite outside the range of mathematics—namely, by Frederick, with a vial of corrosive sublimate in his pocket, and in his heart a black determination to fight while he had a regiment left, and then commit suicide. Revolutionary France had no show on paper, but in fact overran all Europe. In recent times our brush with Spain is the only war that has shown the least respect for the programs laid down for it in advance. If the Spanish army in Cuba had been capably led and really determined to fight the ending would have been the same, but the story would have been different. If war could be determined on paper there would be no war, for a nation fights only when it has some hope of winning.—Saturday Evening Post.

Germany's Invisible Aeroplane.

An invisible aeroplane that may play no inconsiderable part in the European war was invented by a German engineer and demonstrated shortly before the great conflict opened. Instead of having cloth fabric or other visible material used for covering the planes this aeroplane is constructed of a sort of transparent celluloid that is also fireproof. These celluloid wings let the light through, leaving only the light framework of the machine apparent, and when at a height of 3000 feet it is practicably impossible to detect the aeroplane at all. The machine is fitted with a silent motor, which is also valuable in enabling an airman scouting over an enemy's position to escape detection. A further advantage is that the aviator's view is not cut off by the planes.—American Boy.

Helping Kidneys By Clearing Blood

A Function Greatly Assisted By a Well-Known Remedy.

Most readers will be interested to more clearly understand why analysis of urine is so important. In the use of S. S. S. to purify the blood, its action is a stimulant to the myriad of fine blood vessels that make up the constructive tissues of the kidneys. All the blood from all over the body must pass through the kidneys. They act as testers and assayers. And according to what they allow to pass out in the urine, both as to quantity and materials, the health of the kidneys and the quality of the blood is determined. The catalytic energy forced by S. S. S. is shown in the urine. It is also demonstrated in the skin. And as the blood continues to sweep through the kidneys the dominating nature of S. S. S., acting as it does through all the avenues of elimination, shows a marked decrease of disease manifestations as demonstrated by urine analysis. This assistance is a great relief to the kidneys. The body wastes are more evenly distributed to the emunctories; their elimination is stimulated by the tonic action afforded the liver, lungs, skin and kidneys. Thus, in cases of rheumatism, cystitis, chronic sore throat, hoarseness of voice, bronchitis, asthma and the myriad of other reflex indications of weak kidney action, first purify your blood with S. S. S., so it will enable the tissues to rebuild the cellular strength and regain the normal health.
