CEILLO WORK ADVANCED

DATE OF COMPLETION NOW SET FOR MIDDLE OF MAY

In another month vessels can be passed into the Celilo Canal a distance of four miles from the upper end and the ditch will be ready so that a complete trip can be made about May 15, says the Oregon Journal. All work on the 11 pairs of lock-gates will be finished this week, so they can be operated by hand power, and mechanical appliances for opening and closing them will be installed as soon as convenient.

Every man who could be retained profitably on the project has been employed, and the staff now numbers 850, who will be continued on the payroll so long as the weather permits concreting to be carried on. There is some of that work to be completed at the upper end of the canal; otherwise water could be let in almost any time.

Winter storms will not force a complete suspension of the undertaking, for as soon as concreting stops every effort will be centered on steam shovel work and other details that freezing conditions do not materially delay. But by December 15 probably a good many men will be dropped. F. C. Schubert, assistant engineer there, says that no additional men can now be employed but in the Spring, with the resumption of full crews and full time, as many workers as can be utilized will be put on. The last of the project should be finished during the Summer, the vessels will be locked through long before the last touches are added.

SPORTSMEN'S LEAGUE ANNUAL MEET

The annual meeting of the Oregon Sportsmen's League will be held in Portland December 6th and 7th.

On the former date, Dec. 6th, the Portland Gun Club and the Multnomah Angler's Club have joined in arranging a state shoot and state fly and bait casting contests. Suitable prizes have been offered for the various events.

Monday, Dec. 7th, the delegates will gather in the Convention Hall of the Portland Commercial Club to consider the needs and desires of the sportsmen of the various sections of the state. A concerted line of action in matters of fish and game legislation will be determined upon. This convention, coming as it does just prior to the session of the state legislature, is of great importance to all the sportsmen of the state.

All clubs, whether already members of the League or not, are urged to send delegates. The meeting will conclude with a duck dinner given at the Commercial Club. New motion pictures, taken by State Game Warden Finley, will be shown. Excursion rates will be granted to all delegates by the railroads of the state.

While moving his household goods from the country into town yesterday, Chas. Sparling met with an accident which narrowly escaped being serious. When coming down the grade above the school house, the neckyoke gave way, letting the wagon run onto the horses. The team started to run but Chas. stayed with them until the wagon upset over the bank, spilling him and the goods "from here to there." Had Mr. Sparling's family come with, as they had at first intended, it is more than likely that some one would have been killed. As it was, Chas. escaped with a few bruises and a shaking up.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carey, with their son, C. N. Carey, arrived from Springbrook yesterday, and are visiting their daughter, Mrs. W. E. Chown, and family.

ATTENTION FRUIT GROWERS!

The annual meeting of the MOSIER HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY will take place in Lamb's Hall on Saturday, November 28, 1914, at 10:30 A. M.

Since the Society has for its object the dissemination of horticultural information to its members; the enforcement of horticultural laws and the general advertising and development of the horticultural interest of Mosier, it is patent that all persons in sympathy with the aims of the Society be present.

The annual dues are very low, being only fifty cents, which barely cover the expenses of hall rent and fuel. Surely within the means of every fruit grower.

It is hoped that every orchardist in the Mosier District will be present to help swell the 1914 enrollment and make it the largest in the history of the organization.

ISOLATION AND DRUDGERY THE TWIN ENEMIES OF AGRICULTURE.

The Rural Church the Guiding Star of Progress.

THE NEW RURAL CIVILIZATION

By Peter Raeford, Lecturer National Farmers' Union.

We are confronting a new rural civilization. It is so radically different from the life of the past that it may well be called new, not merely because of its characteristics, but because of its triumph in rural co-operation and leadership. The utilization of modern agencies, and the use of farm machinery have greatly increased the efficiency of the farmers, broadened their vision and made life more satisfying.

The most serious enemies to country life are isolation and drudgery, and perhaps the worse of the two is isolation. It is the curse of the country. The hunger of young people for companionship has been disregarded and in various ways the social instincts have had their revenge. The fruits of modern inventive skill and enterprise have enriched country life and afforded the facilities of banishing forever the extreme isolation which used to vex the farm household of the past. The telephone is a great social asset in the rural home; the rural free delivery brings the world's daily message to the door; the parcel post delivers ten million packages per annum at a half million homes, and the automobile annihilates distance, making isolation a myth. The building of public highways has brought communities and farm homes closer together.

The Slave of Drudgery.

It is a dramatic moment on the farm when machinery emancipates the slave of drudgery. The evolution of farm machinery is a continued story of human ingenuity. One man now, by the aid of modern mechanical devices, can do as much as five or ten men used to perform and the work is less burdensome and more fascinating. The miracle of conquest will lift the curse of drudgery that has crushed the courage out of farm boys and caused them to retreat to the cities. There are many labor-saving devices for the homes that can relieve the wife of back-breaking tasks. Labor-saving machinery has wrought educational problems that have engaged the attention of the boys, relieved the household and added new economies and values to farming and has taken away self pity and given them a genuine pride in their calling. We need to take full advantage of these facilities.

Co-operation the Key-Note.

One test of modern civilization is the capacity for co-operation. The selfish days of the independent farmer are rapidly passing and we are beginning to catch the vision and share the profits of organized efforts. There are many farm machines adapted to service a community, but organization of farmers is required to purchase and operate them on a co-operative basis, and new laws are needed to permit these transactions.

New Tasks for the Rural Church.

The rural church has been slow to adjust itself to the new order of things. The churches are discovering new opportunities for service, broader community usefulness and a greater social mission. The church must find itself for new tasks and under a new virile type of leadership undertake real community building with the modern church as the center of activity and source of inspiration and guidance. The triumph over isolation and the social emancipation from drudgery, the development of good roads, telephones, rural mail service and the wonderful evolution of farm machinery make for religious advancement. The increase in intelligence, new social consciousness, growing spirit of co-operation, added efficiency of rural machinery, character, home building and better rural morals afford opportunities for a community-serving church to demonstrate its power. The rural church to fulfill its mission must spring around it the influences for progress.

CITY TICKET NOMINATED

Comparatively few of the citizens turned out at the meeting held on Monday night for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various city offices to be filled at the election, Dec. 8th.

By unanimous approval, H. M. West presided over the meeting and P. L. Arthur acted as secretary. After stating the object of the meeting, the chairman called for nominations for the various offices, with the following result: For Mayor, E. A. Race, E. L. Root.

Councilmen for two years, J. N. Mosier, W. E. Chown, O. E. Wilson, E. M. Strauss, W. A. Husbands, L. J. Merrill, Geo. R. Wood, C. G. Nichol. Of this number, three are to be elected. Councilmen for one year: J. T. Davenport, Dr. Robinson, D. W. Hudson, H. G. Kibbee, Mrs. P. L. Arthur. Three are also to be chosen from this list.

As many of the persons nominated declined the "honour," it will probably be necessary to circulate petitions for others who were not nominated, in order to get enough names on the ballot. Those who were nominated and are willing to run for office, must circulate a petition and secure at least five names, in order to be placed on the ballot.

P. L. Arthur and J. E. Cole were unanimously nominated for the offices of recorder and treasurer, respectively.

PROMINENT DALLES MAN DEAD

Edgar Hostetter, one of the most prominent and respected residents of The Dalles, died suddenly at his home, of heart failure, last week. He served for two terms as postmaster of The Dalles, and at the time of his death was city recorder. He was a very prominent Odd Fellow.
